Andover Central School Holds 76th Commencement

Twenty-six Seniors Receive Their Diplomas at Monday Night's Exercises

The 76th Commencement of the Andover Central School began with the Alumni Banquet Saturday evening and concluded with the annual Commencement Monday evening.

Alumni Banquet

The annual Alunmi Banquet which was held Saturday evening in the Masonic Temple was attended by 92 alunmni and guests.

This banquet marked the fiftieth anniversary of the class of 1901 which was composed of D. Lee Baker, Emily Brainard Alword, Helen Marion Baker, Floyd C. Brundage, Clarence L. Cochrane, Leon I. Cook, Mira A. Diffin, Edward Mosher, Pearl Ray Branch and Caroline Williams Hardy.. Letters expressing regret at being unable to attend the banquet were received from Leon Cook and Floyd Brundage. Clarence Cochrane was the only member of the class in attendance.

Attorney Ellis Hopkins of Wellsville was the guest speaker of the evening and gave the Alumni a very interesting talk. Remarks were made by Principal J. H. Kessler and Dr. Barney of Hornell. William Dougherty, president of the Alumni Association acted as toastmaster and the high school girl's sextette sang two numbers.

An interesting letter from Mrs. Lena Brundage Langworthy of Plainfield, N. J., was read during the business meeting which followed the dinner. Mrs. Langworthy was the first Andover graduate under the regents system and the only graduate in the year 1894.

The newly elected officers of the Alumni Association are: Wendell Vars, president; Evelyn Glover, vice president; Mrs. John Oakes, secretary, and Everett Clair, treasurer.

Baccalaureate Service Held Sunday Evening

The Baccalaueate Service held in the Andover Central School auditorium Sunday evening was opened by the school orchestra playing "Prelude and Processional"

Following this Rev. Newton M. Tweedy gave the invocation and Lord's Prayer. The girl's chorus sang two selections after which Rev. Poser addressed the graduates.

Rev. Poser advised the members of the class to trust in God securely and to think clearly through all life's problems.

The program concluded with the benediction by Rev. John R. Shea and the playing of "Recessional and Postlude" by the high school orchestra.

Commencement Monday Evening

Monday night, June 25th, the 76th Commencement exercises of the Andover Central School were held in the school auditorium to honor the 26 students who had successfully completed their work in Andover Central School.

While the seniors marched into the auditorium, the high school orchestra, directed by Miss Lois Winkleman, played "Entre de Procession" by Batiste.

Rev. Chester W. Whitt delivered the invocation, after which Phyllis Jean Burger gave her Salutatory, "Heritage."

The high school girl's chorus entertained with two selections, "Dear Land of Home," and "Let There be Music." Following these selections, Dean Fisher, Valedictorian, addressed the audience on the topic, "Unheralded Heroes."

The speaker of the evening, Salom Rizk, spoke to the graduates on "America is More Than a Country."

In addition, Mr. Rizk described his life as a homeless boy in Syria, before he came to America.

Mr. Rizk presented a copy of his book "Syrian Yankee" to the school library for use by the students.

School awards were presented by Principal James H. Kessler and S. B. Crandall, president of the Board of Education, presented dipolmas to the graduating class.

Rev. Albert N. Rogers delivered the benediction which was followed by the recessional played by the high school orchestra.

Those receiving their diplomas were:

To Attend National Homemaking Conference

Miss Charity Howland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Howland leaves Saturday, June 30, to attend a National Leadership Conference of Future Homemakers of America at Michigan State College in East Lansing from July 2 to 6.

Miss Howland is membership chairman of the New York State Association and president of the local chaper in Andover Central School. Future Homemaker is made up of homemaking pupils in high schools throughout the nation. Purpose of the organization is to encourage better home life in the families of members today and for the families they will raise in the future.

Theme of the conference in Michigan is "Leadership Training Today Brings Happier Homes Tomorrow." Work sessions at the five-day conference will give delegates training in duties of officers, parliamentary procedure, publicity and public relations, leading recreation and group singing and in planning programs for everything from small chapter meetings to large community affairs.

Leonard-Bridge

Miss Lena Elizabeth Bridge daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Bridge became the bride of Herbert Leonard, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ebenezer Leonard of Corning, Wednesday afternoon, June 20, 1951, at 3 o'clock, at the Presbyterian Church. The Rev. Albert N. Rogers performing the single ring ceremony.

Mr. Bridge gave his daughter in marriage. She selected a floor length ice blue taffeta net gown with a sweetheart neckline and wore mitts to match. Her headdress was of ice blue imported illusion with matching fingertiped veil. She carried a pinnacle bouquet of white roses with a white flowered ribbon. The bride's only jewelry was a strand of pearls the gift of the groom.

Miss Ruth Curry was maid of honor, she choose a yellow taffeta net gown with headdress of yellow illusion and carried a colonial bouquet of yellow carnations with yellow ribbons to match her gown.

Miss Neva Curry was bridesmaid. She wore a nylon orchid gown and carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations with matching ribbons. Her floral headdress was orchid to match her gown.

Pvt. John Briggs of Fort Dix, brother of the bride, was best man and Ernest Clark of Andover acted as usher.

Mrs. Bertha Hardy, organist, played "Large' by Handel, "I Love You Truly" and "Oh! Promise Me."

Garden flowers were used in decorating the church.

Mrs. Bridge, mother of the bride, chose a navy blue tripple sheer dress with white coin dot and white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

A three-tiered wedding cake topped with a minature bride and groom centered the buffet table at the reception held at the home of the bride's parents following the ceremony. Mrs. Leonard Snyder, Mrs. Arthur Kemp and Mrs. Ernest Clark, hostesses.

Guests were present from Campbell, Andover and Wellsville.

After a wedding trip through New York State including Thousand Islands, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard will make their home in Andover. The bride is employed in the local Market Basket store and the groom at the S.K.F. Industries in Hornell.

Prin Kessler To Attend Economic Workshop

James H. Kessler, supervising principal of Andover Central School, has been accepted as a participant in the workshop on Economic Education, sponsored by Syracuse University and the Joint Council on Economic Education, at Syracuse University, July 2-22.

Outstanding leaders in the fields of labor, industry, government, education and economics have agreed to act as consultants and a selected group of 80 administrators and teachers from throughout New York State have been granted scholarships for the workshop. They have been chosen from the ranks of principals, supervisors of secondary education, and particularly teachers who are interested in developing the study of economics in their local communities.

Through the three-week program of lectures, panels, group discussions and consultations, the participants will study intensively the American system of economy and some of its major problems.

The workshop will take as its theme the problem of economics education in the public schools of the United States. Emphasis will be given to an understanding of national income in relationship to the current world crisis.

The workshop is designed as the first step in a co-operative effort on the part of education, business and labor to raise the understanding of economics in the state.

Andover Loses To Whitesville Here Sunday

Recreation Program to Start Monday, July 2

The summer recreation program at the Athletic field will start Monday, July 2nd.

Morning program, Children 5-9

The morning program will be devoted mainly to the interests of the younger children. A series of organizer active games will begin the morning session to be followed by free play on the swings, slides, sandbox and other equipment. The morning program will close with quiet games, story telling and singing. In the afternoon, this group will have some arts and crafts work and may play on the apparatus and use the equipment.

Afternoon Program, Girls 11-17

Girls in this age group may receive tennis instruction on Mondays and Wednesdays at 1 o'clock. Girls must provide their own rackets but balls will be available for practice. If enough interest is shown, later on a tennis tournament will be set up. On Tuesdays and Thursdays at the same time, archery instruction will be given. Bows and arrows will be available for use but you may use your own.

It is hoped that enough interest will be shown in softball so that teams may be organized and a tournament set up.. The first softball meeting will be held on Tuesday, July 3 at 3:00 p. m. when teams will be chosen. Games will be arranged to be played at a convenient time. Arts and crafts will also be fitted into the arts and crafts program.

Softball, Girls, grades 4-6

The first meeting of this group will be held on Monday ,July 2, at 2 p. m. for the purpose of signing up on teams and practicing. Games will be played on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 2:00 p. m. It is hoped that some of the older girls will be available for umpiring.

Other activities will be organized for this group later on. Arts and crafts will also be available for these girls in the afternoon.

Boys Program 8-13, and 14-16

Starting at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon the midget league baseball league will be formed. All boys in the 8 to 13 age group should be present at that time. The older group will be formed later.

Caroline Briggs Wins Scholarship

Miss Carolyn Briggs won a Cornell University scholarship as a result of the competitive examinations held March 7-8. The scholarship entitles Miss Briggs to a reduction of $200 a year from the regular tuition fees for a period of four years.

Miss Briggs, who has already been accepted for admission in the Buffalo State Teachers College is undecided whether or not she will accept the scholarship.
