Andover Loses to Bath Sunday by A 6-2 Score

Although Andover out hit Bath 12-8 in Sunday's Tribune League game at Bath, they couldn't come through in the clutches. The game was nip and tuck for the first four innings with the fifth inning opening at two-all. However Bath opened up the fireworks in their half of that inning and when the smoke cleared they had netted three runs which gave them the ball game.

Andover to Have Little League Baseball

Carl Witzel, Athletic Director and coach at the Andover Central School for the past two years has voiced the importance of Little League baseball in a community and believes that the year before is the time to organize Little League Ball. During this past summer he has organized teams composed of Andover boys between 8 and 12 years and played a few games to get the project started. Plans are now being discussed for a diamond and to outfit one team with equipment and uniforms. Other towns such as Whitesville, Genesee and Belmont are also interested in Little League Baseball.

Some of the rules for Lttle League ball are:

14 men on a team.

Not more than four, 12-year olds.

Not more than four, 11-year olds.

Rest must be 10 down to 8-year olds.

Must be fence around outfield as in big leagues.

Each league has only four teams: After the season the best players are selected from each team in the league and then play sectional and reginal play-offs, with the winners ending up at Williamsport, Pa., for the Little World Series.

For example: Last year Wellsville beat Hornell and Corning. They then played Port Chester and were defeated, but due to illness of Port Chester players, Wellsvile played Westerly, R. I., at Schenectady in the Regional play-offs and Westerly went to the Little World Series at Williamsport. These boys were all between the ages of 8-12 years.

A drive starting next week will be made to secure funds for uniforms and equipment for around 20 boys. It is believed that after the initial cost of the uniforms etc, the organizations in Andover can combine a fund to take care of the yearly expenses of the team. Enough uniforms for two teams should be purchased so that the fellows that do not make the team that will be playing in league play can play their own games.

There will be a special meeting for all interested parties at Andover Central School next Tueesday evening at 7:30.

Representatives from all organizations are asked to attend this meeting so that a drive can be started to purchase uniforms this year because of the shortage of materials.

Coach Witzel has plans for a big night Friday night, August 24, with a little league baseball game, movies on the Little League World Series followed by a round and square dance that will wind up the summer Recreational Program.

"Mike" Gath and George Karcanes are assisting coach Witzel in starting Little League Baseba in Andover. Members of the Exchange Club, American Legion and Drill Team are also interested in the project.

The meeting next Tuesday evening will be in the Agricultural rooms. Please use the back shop entrance.

Appreciation Night Big Success

The Legion Drill Team Appreciation night turned out to be a big success and helped put the Drill Team Traveling Fund over the top.

The evening started off with the Drill Team putting on an exhibition afterwhich the Belmont Drum & Bugle Corps put on a fine drill which was followed by an ice cream social put on by the drill team and square dancing until 11 o'clock.

The Drill Team, who started out to raise $500 went way over the top this week. Four American Legion Auxiliary members, Hazel Burgett, Leah Green, Bessie Mulconery and Nora Higby collected donations on the streets Saturday night and at the end of the evening had the grand total of $106.55. This came as a complete surprize to the team who had already received a donation of $50 from the Legion Auxiliary.

Mr. Fuller announces the total amount of the drive was $573. This makes the drive go well over $600 as the $69 received from the ice cream social was put into the Drill Team regular account so they could pay all their bills before going to compete for the State Championship.

The team will leave from in front of the Andover National Bank tomorrow morning (Friday) at 1:00 a. m.

Francis Horan, drill team president, Saturday night thanked the crowd for the generous contributions from the people in Andover and assured them that the team would not let them down.

It was belived at first that the time element was against getting the team to New York, but this shows what a small town like Andover can do when we work together. It was not just the money donations, cake donations, ice cream donations, orchestra donations etc, that made this drive such a big success, but it was the working together of the whole town for something that they believed in and wanted that put this drive of sending our drill team to New York. The Drill Team knows that every person in Andover is behind them and they intend on going to New York and letting them know that little Andover can compete with the best of them. Drill Sgt. Harold Joyce and the team have completed a gruelling three week practice session that took in almost every night of the week. Business Manager "Jug" Dunham will handle all finances for the trip. The team will start back Sunday afternoon after the New York Giant-Boston Brave baseball game.
