SPECIAL SESSIONS for conferring the Sixth Degree will be held next month on five successive days in five different eastern counties for the convenience of members who wish to take advantage of these opportunities in advance of State and National Grange Sessions. Headed by State Master Henry D. Sherwood, the complete roster of state officers will be present at the following places on the following dates: South Kortright, Delaware county, Oct. 15; Liberty, Sullivan, Oct. 16; Kingston, Ulster, Oct. 17; Mahopac, Putman, Oct. 18; and Farmingdale, Long Island, Oct. 19. You can obtain full details from your Subordinate Master. Several counties are already making plans to send bus loads to these special sessions, and you may want to make similar plans.

STATE GRANGE 79th Annual Sessions at Syracuse Oct. 30 through Nov. 2 promise to set an all-time attendance record. With Grange membership in the state the greatest in the history of the Order, and prospects of holding the colorful Sixth Degree in the beautiful, new War Memorial auditorium in Syracuse, seems to assure a full quota of delgates and visitors to this centrally-located convention city. Having had a preview of the War Memorial. We can assure you that it will adequately take care of all who wish to take and observe the Sixth Degree.

HOMESTEAD and Grange Hall Improvement has been the Farm practice project for this year. By the number of Granges that reported such a plan as one of their Community Service projects, we know there has been considerable interest around the state, and a number of homes and Grange Halls have had a face-lifting. We are following with interest an Erie county grange which will have the cooperation of a nurserymen's association. We are surprised that more nurseries in the state didn't pick up their ears at this project. Some promotion ideas would have produced sales. We are hopeful that we will have some "before and after" pictures available before long. Write us, care of this newspaper, if you know of any Grange which has pictures.

Testers Report Six Herds Over 40 Pounds

Belmont, Sept. 13—Six county dairy herds averaging more than 40 pounds of butterfat production per cow during the month of August have been reported by the Allegany County Dairy Herd Improvement Association Supervisors.

Three of these were in Fillmore: Ceylon Snider, 46.5 pounds; Edward Rees & Son, 44 pounds, and Leslie Merwin & Son, 40.9 pounds.

The Alfred Sweet herd, Black Creek, averaged 43.3 pounds; Earle Greene's herd, Andover,, 42.7 pounds, and the herd of Glenn Wightman, Bolivar, 47.5 pounds butterfat.

Twelve other herds averaged between 35 and 40 pounds fat and 17 herds between 30 and 35 pounds fat per cow. Dry pastures during August compelled silo grain feeding on many farms, tending to lower usual milk production.

Umpire Klem was Supreme

William Lauterborn reports that the death of Umpire Bill Klem Sunday brings to his mind a couple of instances in his association with him that were unusual, but characteristic of him and helped to boost his record of "Having thrown more players out of games than any other umpire in history."

According to "Lauty" he was playing with Binghamton in 1904 and Klem was also starting his umpiring career, and was assigned to that team. Klem called a play that Binghamton didn't like and when he returned next day to umpire they wouldn't let him through the gates. As the bell sounded for the game Klem jumped the fence, marched to the center of the diamond and declared the game forfeited by Binghamton.

The next year Klem and "Lauty" both went up to the National League and in a game at Pittsburgh between Boston and Pittsburgh, Klem called another play the Pittsburgh boys didn't like and the Pittsburgh players on the bench started booing him. Not being able to pick out the guilty parties, Klem ordered all the players in the dugout to the showers which was done by police escort. Manager Clark of Pittsburgh, who was playing left field, came in to protest and Klem told him that if he came two feet nearer, his team would be playing with eight men. Clark went back to left field.

HEALTH FOR ALL

This column is sponsored, in the interest of better health, by the Allegany Health & Tuberculosis Association, 44 Schuyler St., Belmont, N. Y.

Long Life for Teeth

Many of us live in fear and dread of the day when we shall have to wear dentures, or false teeth. Perfect or not, our own, natural teeth are far more preferable to the finest "store-bought" dentures.

For many people, the day when plates must be fitted could be postponed for years with just a little sensible care of natural, "second" teeth. While the formation and building of teeth take place in early childhood, dental health can be safeguarded in adulthood if three general rules are observed: keep the teeth clean, visit the dentist regularly, and eat a sensible diet of nourishing foods.

Although we cannot be certain that "a clean tooth is a healthy tooth" cleanliness helps cut down decay. There are bacteria present in everyone's mouth, most of them harmless but some of them capable of manufacturing acids from the protective enamel covering of the teeth, enabling bacteria which causes decay to get into the teeth. As decay sets in, toothache results and the pain is nature's warning that the life of the tooth is in danger.

Whenever possible, it is a good idea to brush the teeth soon after meals. A good toothbrush with firm bristles serves the purpose best and the brush should be replaced with a new one as soon as it becomes limp or soggy. There are many good toothpastes and powders on the market today, but the dentist is the best source of advice on the cleansing agent to be used.

Regular visits to the dentist are a sound health habit. Most people find it advisable to visit the dentist every six months, but the dentist is the best judge of how frequently the individual should come for a checkup. The dentist's periodic treatments can save pain, loss of teeth, and money in the long run.

It is also good to remember that teeth were meant for chewing food—not for cracking nuts, holding pins, biting off thread, or opening bobby pins. These seemingly harmless habits eventually weaken and injure teeth.
