Seniors Express Appreciation

By Mary Brown

This week the theme of our editorial has changed from criticism to praise.

The senior class wishes to express their appreciation to the administration, faculty and students of A.C.S. for their splendid co-operation with the senior refreshment stand at the school fair.

Realizing how the teachers contended with interruptions of students being excused from classes, the class of 1952 wishes to thank them for their patience.

Another thank you goes to the grade teachers and their pupils for the patronage given the stand during the afternoon.

The F.F.A. and F.H.A. were very generous to let the seniors have the stand.

This is an excellent example of school co-operation and we hope the class will continue to merit your support.

They have so far received $25.90 from their social hour and sales at the soccer games. The profit from the food stand at the school fair and from the bake sale was not known when this Hi Herald copy was written.

In My Opinion

By Gay Rogers

As soccer once again is here and we have started something new by adding cheerleaders this year, I decided that I would get some students' opinions on whether they liked the cheerleaders for soccer. Here are some of the replies:

Anita Nichols: "I think it is a nice idea. They should have started sooner."

Bill McNeil: "Oh, I think it's all right."

Mary Anne Joyce: "It would be all right if the other schools had them."

Joyce Spicer: "It's a good idea because it encourages the players."

Mary Brown: "I think its a good idea because it increases school spirit."

Clair Goodridge: "Oh, I don't know. It depends on who cheers."

Jerry Green: "I havent seen them but I guess they are pretty good."

Dale Green: "It's a good idea. Helps the boys."

Kent Harder: "I don't think they should go to out-of-town games as there isn't anyone there to yell."

Wayne Atwell: "I think it's a good idea because it gives the players confidence."

Anne Harvey and Lorraine Cornish: "It's a good idea."

"Charlie" Howland: "No comment."

Jerry Rogers: "Yes, because it's different."

Upon asking the cheerleaders I immediately found that it was an excellent idea so now that the majority of the people like them, I'm sure they will try much harder to lead the yells.

Teacher: "What is a synonym?"

Paul Taylor: "That's a word you use when you can't spell the other one."

ACS

Mike Smith: "What kind of a dog do you have?"

Mike Connor: "He's a police dog."

Mike Smith: "He certainly doesn't look like one."

Mike Connor: "Naturally, He's a the secret service."

Soccer Team Beats Scio 8 - 2

By Danny Pelton

Tuesday the Andover Panthers roared to an 8 to 2 victory over Scio on the latter's field.

Scio took naearly lead in the first quarter when the left inside of Scio converted for the first goal. The score stood 2 to 0, and thats the way it remained until the middle of the third quarter. Then six points were made by the local Panthers in four minutes. First Carl Atwell booted a nice two points through the uprights, then "Spider" Atwell scored right after his brother. The ball was no sooner brought to mid-stripe when the Andoveh line intercepted the kick-off and "Rich" Davis tallied for two points. In the middle of the remaining quarter Jesse Grossman sent up a kick towards the goal post and Wayne Atwell promptly headed it thru to make the score 8 to 2 in favor of Andover. The game ended at that score.

Andover now has two league wins against no losses.

The Spy

During the recent F.H.A. initiation I enjoyed hearing a severe discussion about the identity of The Spy. I felt sorry for the innocent people, who were being accused.

A report from my inspector of activities in the school halls has just been put in my desk. He says Marion Milligan and Clarice Nye had a slight argeement recently about corresponding with a certain Marine.

In another bulletin from the halls of A.C.S. my special agent reports that Margaret Daley still hasn't gotten over that freshman crush.

The patrolman on my Baker street beat tells me Mary Fowler doesn't enjoy being pursued by a certain Dick Marshall. Incidentally what's the big attraction at the dance every Saturday in Canisteo, Mary.

I have told my readers previously that I see everything—this includes the good things as well as the bad. As I walked down the hall this morning, a young lady dropped a book from her locker. Six boys stepped over the book before a gentleman appeared. Teddy Smith picked up the unfortunate text.

During the preparations for the school fair I wandered into the gym and saw a lady teacher drop her keys,. Jerry Green stepped over them very carefully and proceeded down the floor. A strange gentleman, who had brought some fair exhibits, retrieved the keys.

James Padden entered the English room to borrow an extension cord recently and when the cord came down from a top shelf, a Christmas tree bulb came down also and broke. Mrs. McFadden had to request that "Jim" sweep up the pieces.

After this publication perhaps you will believe me when I say the Spy knows everything from romance to bad manners and you'll never guess my identity.

Passenger: "Can you tell me where Main street is?"

Lois Ruger: "Just watch me and get off one block before I do."

The fifth grade students were asked to write a short theme on basketball.

The next day the teacher read one theme. "Rain, no game."

David Conde: "Haven't you caught any fish yet?"

Friend: "No, I don't think my worm is trying."

F. H. A. Holds Initiation

By Marion Milligan

The F. H. A. held its annual initiation last Monday evening at 8 o'clock to admit 15 new members. They were Kay Mickle, Thelma Mickle, Irene Hurlburt, Pat Baker, Sandra Bostwick, Lois Ruger, Shirley Ordiway, Lucille Smith, Alaura Grossman, Barbara Clark, Joyce Fuller, Betty Kemp, Ann Harvey, Mary Fowler, Lorraine Cornish.

The president, Charity Howland, read the necessary information for the occasion and the other officers such as Gay Rogers, Anita Nichols, Virginia Kibbe, and Marion Milligan took part. As the final step in the initiation the song leader, Carol Nye, lead all the F.H.A. in a song.

Immediately after the ceremony the group had a business meeting after which ice cream and cake were served.

More Girls Than Boys Have October Birthdays

After I looked through the files in the office this afternoon, I am glad to congratulate the girls, who have three more October birthdays than the boys.

On October 1st, I want to wish a "happy birthday" to Aleura Reisman, Joseph Adams, Patrick Howland and Raymond Shawl.

Ila Fern Marsh holds the honor on October 2nd and Carole Clark on the 4th.

October 5th makes Florence Reisman and Lyle Slocum one year older.

Marshall Trowbridge patiently awaits for October 6th for his birthday.

October 7th and October 9th are important days in the lives of Donald Howard and Harry Campbell.

Loretta Grossman is our only "birthday child" on the 11th.

On the 12th three boys, Roger Phelps, Thomas Smith and Charles Whiting hold the birthday honor.

"Mike" Connor, a grand old senior, grows one year older on October 13th.

October 14 makes Patricia Baker and Clyde Jackson a little happier.

Jacqueline Baker and Richard Kemp patiently wait for the 15th

Judy Baker and John Hunt hold the honor on October 17.

Nancy Hulin has the day to herself on the 18th.

October 19 makes three more tots, Ronald Glover, Bruce Harris and Nancy DeRemer, one year older.

The 20th will be a busy and happy day for Alice Beil and Dianna Wittie.

"Jerry" Green, a gay young sophomore holds October 21 to himself.

October 22 brings many happy memories to Marilyn Harris and to Deborah Collins on the 23rd.

Beverly Loucks is one year older on the 24th.

The 25th brings to mind the birthdays of Ruth Davis and Kenneth Perry.

Gloria Marsh and Lois Reil are patiently awaiting the 27th.

October 28th and 29th makes Mary Beth Sootheran and Jacqueline Conde one year older.

Jane Brown and Henry Hornbeck share October 30th.

I bet you were wondering if we have any ghosts or spooks on "Hollow'een." Yes, we have one little goblin, Rita Lunn.

This makes a total of 43 boys and girls. The Hi Herald staff wishes all a "Happy Birthday."

Class of 1951

By JoAnn Marsh

What became of those 26 Andover Central School Seniors who roamed these halls last year?

After investigating we find the majority are in institutions of higher learning, while the rest are employees in some business firm.

Right here in Andover we find Charlie Dougherty working on his father's farm. The Empire Gas & Fuel Company has a new employee, Franklin Cornish. Ruth Curry and Janet Hall are working at home.

Who do you suppose we found at Wellsville? In Newberry's we see Alice Bostick and Agnes Davis busily working. When you lift up a telephone receiver you hear Colleen McAndrew say, "number please."

Farther down the street we find Archie Baker working on the new hospital. Outside the city limits, we find Danjaan Crandall at the Worthington.

At Alfred we find Abe Davis is doing carpenter work, Mrs. Ruby Ordiway Ormsby is at her new home here, and John Dougherty is attending Alfred University.

Traveling on to Hornell, we find Marcy Smith and Phyllis Burger studying at St. James Mercy hospital.

Six students are attending schools in Buffalo: Harry Foster, Viv Daley, Jack Wheaton are at Bryant - Stratton; around the University of Buffalo we would find Dean Fisher and Carolyn Briggs is studying at Buffalo State Teachers College.

Hyland Hospital in Rochester has two new students, Eunice Hall and Pat Sackett. At the Rochester Business Institute we find Teresa Joyce.

The remaining few graduates of last year will be found in other towns and states. Arlene Edwards is going to work at the Acme Electric in Cuba. Dick Hancock is working in Albany, and Maxine Baker is at Washington, D. C., working for the F.B.I.

According to reports, 12 of the class are continuing their education, 11 have full time jobs 1 is married and 2 are at home.

Roving Reporter

As I was roaming around the halls of A.C.S., I peeked in on the first and second grades and noticed that they have very attractive bulletin boards.

When I was coming down from lunch, I could hear the band still practicing in the gym.

I noticed Dr. Scott's car outside of the school and found out that he was checking the children.

As I was passing the home-making room, I could see all the girls making out their entry blanks for the things they were going to send to the fair.

As I was roaming through the library I noticed "Vic" Clark taking a lot of magazines from the library files, "Vic" is an allumus of our school and is now home on a furlough from the Navy.

I could hear everyone arguing over who, they thought, wrote the Spy.

Kitchen Korner

By Billie Ryan

Here's a tangy salad that teams up well with nearly everything.

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
2 tablespoons cold water
¼ cup hot ginger ale
¼ cup lemon juice
1½ cups cold ginger ale
½ cup seedless grapes
¼ cup chopped celery
½ cup crushed pineapple.

Soak gelatin in cold water and let stand 5 minutes. Add hot ginger ale and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Add lemon juice and cold ginger ale.

When mixture begins to set, add remaining ingredients. Pour into individual molds and chill until firm, unmold on crisp lettuce. Serves six.

Harvey

As I was admiring the baked goods at the fair Thursday, I noticed something tugging at the celophane over one of the cakes, I looked a little more closely and found it was Harvey trying to get some of that delicious looking frosting. He kept saying how much he wished he were a judge so he could sample all the food . I agreed after which we went on to the canned goods. He said he wished he had some of those vegetables and fruits for the long winter ahead.

As we went on to the clothing he spied Ann Marvel's and Charity Howland's formals and said he wouldn't mind taking either of the girls to a dance wearing those pretty growns. He commented on how nicely all the other sewing was done and then we went over to see the animals. He was determined he was going to ride a cow like Hopalong Cassidy until, with much effort, I finally convinced him it was a horse he should ride.

After I finally got him away from the fair he told me how much he enjoyed the soccer game last Tuesday with Scio.

Tot Spot

By Lois Ruger

I find the tots enjoyed the chickens, ducks, rabbits and cows which were all part of the school fair held Sept. 27th.

In Mrs. Robison's kindergarten Robert Smith treated the class on his fifth birthday, Sept. 28.

The class welcomes a new student, Mary Gilbreath.

Bobby brought his "teddy" bear, who said "no" to school and told the class the story about him.

In Mrs. Corwin's kindergarten the children have brought leaves to school and made a tree for their bulletin board.

In Mrs. Connor's first grade Connie Meyn plans to visit her father at Lock Haven, Pa., during the week's vacation.

Alice Brown will go to Almond to spend a few days with her grandparents.

The students in Mrs. Hall's first grade had a fair in their room. The exhibits consisted of flowers, vegetables, dolls, crayon drawings, booklets and cookies.

Charlotte Mead, Mattie Howland and Lynne Carmody treated the group with cookies.

All the girls had perfect attendance for the week.

The class welcomes a new student, James Gilbreath, who formerly lived in Shelbyville, Ill.

During the study of "The Family Unit" the children made booklets requiring careful coloring, cutting, pasting and lettering. The Caple, White, Carmody and Kemp families were represented in the group pictures.

The cowboy-minded students in Mrs. Tompkins second grade chose Roy Rogers, Hopalong Cassidy and Gene Autry for reading group.

Gail Wightman celebrated her seventh birthday Saturday and treated the class to suckers on Thursday.

Mrs. Carmody's second grade are preparing a "sunshine" box for Bruce Brundage who entered the hospital to have his appendix removed.

In Miss Schermerhorn's third grade Dorothea Merriam celebrated her birthday on September 25th.

Barbara Hawks returned to school this week after an absence of two weeks.

Gary Wightman had a birthday party Thursday after school at his house.

In Miss Baker's grade a number of students had exhibits in the school fair: Richard Baker, rabbits and ducks; Paul Reinard, rabbits and chickens; Paul Waters, a calf; Judy Brundage, seafoam candy; Robert Brown, a calf; and Frank Sutherland, a calf.

Senior Interview

By Mary Lou Clark

Stepping into the spotlight this week, we have the second senior of the year, Dolores Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brown of Shovel Hollow.

Dolores was born in Andover on January 8, 1935. She lives with her parents, five brothers and four sisters. They are Pat, Merle, Robert, Timothy, Gary, Jane, Mary, Shelia and Eileen. Dolores has attended Andover Central all her school life.

Among the subjects she is taking this year are: English IV, history 12, typing, homemaking XI, driver's education and biology.

Her major is along business lines.

Now let us survey some of her favorites:

Food: Macaroni and cheese
Color: Blue
Book: "From This Day Forward."
Author: Sinclair Lewis
Male singer: Tony Bennett
Clooney
Female singer: Rosemary
Aetress: Ann Blyth
Actor: Tyrone Power
Movie: "Our Very Own"
Subject: Biology
Car: Nash
Song: "Because of You"
Sport: Baseball
Pastime: Listening to radio programs

Pet peeve: Nosey and gossipy people.

Dolores' philosophy of life is one a great many people carry: "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you."

Here we take great pleasure in wishing Dolores all the success of being a good stenographer—her chosen ambition.

The Pet Parade

By Charity Howalnd

While strolling down the halls I heard someone say "John Common has bantam chickens." then the questions began popping in my mind so I decided to interview John. John is in the fifth grade, lives on Church street and houses his chickens in a pen by the garage. The first chickens he had were Japanese bantams, which he got three years ago. He tells me the main attraction in the hen-house is several baby chicks. They're brown, black and white. The big ones, he says, lay eggs nearly every day. As he grows older, John hopes to have many more of these cute little birds.

In the seventh grade Corrine Alvord told me of the two little brown Hampsters she and her brother Leo have. Their favorite food it dog food such as dog bones or dog ribbons. Housecleaning is once a week in the domain of the hampsters. They will drink a little water or canned milk. There is no special time for feeding but an ample supply should be inside the pen at all times. Bad habits come to everyone and biting through wood or fighting and biting among themselves is not unusual. If ever loose, they would live like mice as they belong to the mice family.

Be looking for my column next week, for who knows, I may write about you and your pet.

Teacher Interviews

By Marion Milligan

In the spotlight of our first teacher interview for the new '51-'52 school year is our commercial teacher, Miss Doris Jean Chandler.

Driving a blue two-door Dodge sedan, Miss Chandler journeys every morning to A.C.S. from Almond, where she lives on R.D. No. 1.

Having lived around Almond most of her life, Miss Chandler attended Alfred-Almond Central School but received her B. S. Degree from Ithaca College.

Miss Chander's favorite food is any salad while her favorite color is blue. She enjoys seeing a movie starring Jane Powell or Mario Lanza. I also might add that Mario Lanza is her favorite singer, especially when she sings "Lovliest Night of the Year."

While talking with Miss Chandler, I found she had many hobbies among which are square dancing, tending flowers, hiking, cooking, playing piano and reading.

She commented that "Tough Sod" was her favorite book and that "Monday Night of Music" was her favorite radio program.

"Work hard and play hard" is Miss Chandler's philosophy of life while her pet peeve is "jabbering" during classes.

After asking our new commercial teacher's opinion of Andover, I received the reply "[illegible]-over Central is very pretty and friendly."

All A.C.S. students wish to express the heartiest welcome to Miss Chandler and hope she enjoys her stay in Andover.
