Legion Sponsors Youth Night

By Mary Brown

Among the many outstanding event which took place during vacation was Andover's first Community Recreation Project for the younger generation.

The Lynch-Burgett Post opened its doors and offered its recreation facilities to the Andover Youth from 7 until 10 p. m. on Monday, October 1. Records for dancing and free refreshments were provided. Movies were shown and all who attended report a good time.

Although some of the main complaints of teen-agers in Andover has been the lack of suitable entertainment, the number of students was not as great as expected.

If these programs are not supported with good attendance, they will probably be discontinued.

Legion members have asked for suggestions from students on how they'd like to spend the allotted time.

The next Youth Night will be Monday, October 22, so let's have a better turnout especially of high school students and if any student has a good suggestion bring it along that night and drop it in the "suggestion box."

Harvey

By Sandra Bostwick

Saturday as I turned on the radio to hear the World Series, I found something sitting on the dial. I looked a little more closely and found it was Harvey anxiously waiting for me to turn on the game. After I finally got the station, Harvey, instead of listening to the game, started talking about the fun-night at Legion Monday night.

He said he really enjoyed himself, although he was so small nobody paid any attention to him. Harvey said he especially enjoyed the music but almost got sick from drinking so much pop. He said he didn't like the noise of all those balloons popping but said "That's just this modern age". After watching the kids square dance, he said he wished Mary Brown would teach him how to do the "Turkey Trot" because he decided there was no hope in teaching "Mike" Connor. He also noticed Gay Rogers and Alura Grossman having a hard time trying to polka.

He said that while picking potatoes, he saw "Pat" Baker jabbering as usual and Dave Conde trying to throw a potato at her.

Finally he started talking about the skating Friday night. He said he went down with Ann Marvel. He also noticed Gay Rogers and Eddie Harkenrider having a good time.

Then turning up the radio again I found the game was all over and Harvey out of breath.

Meet Our Teachers

By Anita Nichols

Today another one of our new teachers was approached for questioning. Miss Laura Davis, from Rushford, who attended Houghton College, teaches 7th, 8th and 9th grade English in Andover.

When asked if she enjoyed teaching here, she replied "I like it very much!"

At present Miss Davis is living on East Center Street.

Although, she has no car of her own she prefers an Oldsmobile.

Reading is an enjoyable pastime for her, and she especially enjoyed the book "Henry Esmond" by William Thackeray.

Stage plays are very entertaining to Miss Davis. Maurice Evans is her favorite stage actor.

Like all teachers she has a pet peeve, that of chewing gum.

Miss Davis says her philosophy of life is, "You get out of life what you put into it.

Charity Howland: "I've just finished reading a very exciting book. It was called "The Tragedy on the Cliff" by Eileen Dover."

Junior Hayride a Huge Success

Wonderful! Swell! Whoopee! These were the exclamations which were heard after the junior class hayride on Wednesday, October 3 at 7:30 p. m. Nearly 70 high school and grade school students along with Miss Doris Chandler, Miss Kathleen Gates, Mrs. Carlyle Carmody and Mr. Glenn Bronson, bumped up Joyce Hill and down Davis Hill on two wagons and tractors driven by Howard Green and Carl Clark. Immediately following the old-fashioned ride, cider and do-nuts were served them. The well-fed couples finished the superb evening with round and square dancing combined with several polkas.

Some of the new couples attending were Avery Mead and Lucille Smith, Mike Connor and Irene Hurlburt, "Sandy" Bostwick and James Connor, and Mary Ann Joyce and Roger Wright. Heading the list of old steadies were Kay Rogers and Edward Harkenrider, Roger Phelps and Ruth Huffcutt, "Millie" Miles and Rodney Wheeler, Jerry Green and Jocelyn Joyce, Alura Grossman and Don Kuzak, Delores Brown and Dave McHenry and last but not least, Jerry Rogers and Gloria Marsh.

With lots of help from his portable radio, "Lizzie", Kent Harder kept every-one singing songs. The riders sang and shouted everything from "The Bear Went Over the Mountain" to "Sweet Violets" and finally ended with "If".

Keith Howland became tail light watcher on Howard Green's wagon while Dale Green accepted the same job on Carl Clark's.

The juniors wish to thank everyone who helped make the ride a success and also hope no one got sick on the seven gallons of cider.

Will She Be Andover's Sister Kenny

By Mary Lou Clark

Taking the glare of the spotlight this week we see Mary Brown, the third senior of the year. Mary, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fay Brown of Main street, was born August 15, 1935 in Hornell.

With the exception of five years, which she spent at Addison Central School she has been well-known among Andover classmates. During her high school years she has been majoring in Math and Science. In her last year she is taking typing, bookkeeping, Engish IV, history and driver education. At the present she is member of the Hi Herald of which she is editor, F.H.A., 4-H, Library Council and Glee Club, for which she is librarian. She is also treasurer of the Allegany County School Press Association.

Now let us note some of her favorites:

Food: Strawberry shortcake
Color: Red
Book: "Death Be Not Proud"
Author: John Gunther.
Male singer: Tony Bennett
Female singer: Patti Page
Actor: Peter Lawford
Actress: June Allison
Movie: "Royal Wedding"
Subject: History
Car: Mercury
Song: "Because of You"
Sport: Basketball
Pastime: Roller skating
Pet peeve: Cronic Complainers.

Mary's philosophy of life is "Nothing is impossible, if the desire is great enough."

Here I think you will join me in wishing Mary all the success in the world in her chosen career as nurse.

Mary decided that she wanted to be a nurse at the age of eight when she was stricken with Infantile Paralysis. During the stay at the hospital, the Sister Kenny treatment was applied with much success. Mary says that the nurses were very friendly and cheerful during her stay and helped brighten up her days.

A.C.S. Eleven Bow To Canaseraga

By Kent Harder

With only one win needed to tie a play-off berth, the A.C.S. men fell under a strong Canaseraga eleven Tuesday night.

Canaseraga displaying excellent heading ability and fast passwork, dominated the play for a good share of the game. They scored two quick goals and a penalty kick early in the first quarter to clinch the game. Andover came back to life and held them on even terms for the remainder of the first half. The second half Canaseraga again powered four more points to add to their total of five to sweep to a nine to nothing lead. The play was much more even, however. With about five minutes to play Andover caught fire and scored. Rich Davis took a short pass from midfield and passed the defense and scored. With two minutes left Wayne Atwell booted a quickie from the corner of the goal and Andover's total was four.

This was a costly goal however, since Atwell injured his back on the play and will be out for the remainder of the season. A short time later Carl Atwell was kicked in the head attempting to head the ball, but remained in the game.

The final score showed Andover trailing 9 to 4. The boys never gave up and went down to a defeat that was a bitter one all the way.

Kitchen Korner

By Billie Ryan

Here are a few hints for the busy housewife, who wants to cut the corners of her time spent keeping her home in order.

When a custard curdles, slowly beat the custard into a beaten egg, this will smooth it.

After washing mirrors with soap suds, add a little starch to the water you use for rinsing, them dry and polish the mirror with a newspaper for a lasting polish and shine.

If a favorite vase won't hold water any more, melt paraffin and pour into the bottam. Often this will seal any cracks and halt water seepage, thus making the vase useful for many months.

To keep patent leather shoes and bags looking like new, dampen a cloth with milk and rub over the leather.

A foggy look on furniture is usually due to an oil in an older type of varnish finish. To remove this, apply liquid wax, which removes the oil, then polish.

Be sure to shrink any material you plan to use "before" using. This is always necessary unless the material is guaranteed not to shrink.

Using your electric cleaner on rugs every day will save the turf, as it is the dirt at the roots of the turf, which wears the rugs out.

Song Titles

If you watch Beverly Louck's in study hall you will see that many times she appears to be in a dream so I believe the song title "Dreaming" is very suitable for her. Since "Mimsi" Briggs and Anna Marie Joyce are always thinking about a certain boy named "Charlie" I feel that "Charles My Boy" is their favorite. Ann Marvel is always going skating so "Skaters Waltz" is her favorite song. "I Get Ideas" seems to be Mary Clark's favorite song since she is always humming it. I heard through "The Spy" that "Good-night Irene is "Mike" Connor's favorite song.

Mind Your Manners

By Shirley Tidd

Courtesies men and boys should show a women in public:

Men stand back for a woman, stranger or not, to proceed them through doorways.

Gentlemen pick up anything dropped by a woman near him.

Boys or men should give up their seats on a bus or street car if a woman or girl is standing by. A girl then in turn should say "Thank You" for his courtesy.

A boy should let the girl go first into a bus or car.

If a boy walks with a girl, he offers to relieve her of some or all of her burdens.

Junior Red Cross Drive Underway

By Mary Lou Clark

In order that the boys and girls of school age can participate in helping face the many local emergencies, the Junior Red Cross drive started Tuesday in Andover Central School.

The pupils may help by placing their dimes and quarters into the boxes on the teacher's desks.

In each room a box is placed for each contribution. The grade which receives 100 per cent first may receive a prize as in previous years.

The drive will continue for two weeks.

Students Appraise "Spy"

By Ann Marvel

As I wandered through the halls of A.C.S., I heard a group of students talking about the "Spy". Some of their opinions were as follows:

Dolores Brown: "I think it is more thorough than Chit-Chat was."

Clyde Jackson: "I think we should know who it is."

Phyllis Perry: "I like the idea because it gives more information and arouses the curiosity of the readers."

Wayne Atwell: "It's a good idea. It gives the students something to think about."

Ruth Atwell: "I think it causes a lot of trouble."

Dale Green: It's all right if the "Spy" would choose the right names."

Irene Hurlburt: "I approve of the idea but it catches you off guard to many times."

"Mike" Conner: "If the "Spy" would sign his or her name it would be OK.

Mary Fowler: "It's probably a good idea but it does give one person the chance to make comments about who ever he or she doesn't like.

Shirley Tidd: I think it's OK because it's all in fun. The students shouldn't take it so seriously."

Richard Davis and Dick Nye agree that it's OK because it keeps the students guessing.

The Spy

During vacation all my special investigators and myself were very busy keeping up with the happenings. Now its time to settle back into the old routine for the latest scoop.

Jerry Rogers was seen escorting Gloria Marsh home from the Legion Youth Night by my Main St. agent.

Since everyone is interested in what happened at the junior hayride, I will take this opportunity to give you the secret service report from one of my private detectives.

Irene Hurlburt lost her identification bracelet on top of Joyce Hill. I understand Mike Connor was a member of the next day's searching party.

Thelma Mickle wondered where Roy Button was and Shirly Tidd was wishing for Dan Stocum of Canisteo.

Dale Pelton and Jim Conde escorted two unknown Wellsville girls. A special investigator has been assigned to uncover their identity.

More last articles—Mary Anne Joyce lost a shoe, but Roger Wright was there to help her find it.

Now let's turn our attention from the hayride to the week-end.

Joanne Hall and Marlene Waters were at the dance in Canisteo Saturday night. Where were Ron Ellis and Bill Glover?

Anita Nichols had a surprise visit from Dick Hancock Sunday night.

My Canisteo agent has just put a last minute report on my desk. He reports more news
