Hallowe'en Fun

Mary Brown

Since Halloween is fast approaching and many students are discussing pranks around the halls of A. C. S., the purpose of this editorial is to give a word of caution to all students.

Property damage and personal injuries should not accompany the celebration of Halloween.

There are many ways to have fun on Halloween without causing trouble for youself and others.

As an example of how harmless tricks can turn into disaster, I want to tell you about a hypothetical case. Mrs. Jones, an elderly lady, who has poor eyesight ventured out on her front porch one Halloween night and started to descend her steps which had been removed by some neighborhood jokers. Mrs. Jones fell and was caused much suffering because of a fractured leg.

Incidents of this kind have been very infrequent in Andover and for this I want to congratulate those who have maintained such a good record.

This editorial may be to you an annual warning which you are tired of hearing, but if you remember to think of the results before you play a Halloween prank, you will keep the record clean and be able to enjoy the evening without fear of Mr. Rogers, the policeman.

Harvey

By Sandra Bostwick

"Who is it, who is it," were the words Harvey kept saying as I met him at my locker the other day. "Who is What," I managed to put in? "The Spy of course, who else," he said with much disgust. After I finally got him calmed down, he said that he'd been walking all over the halls listening to gossip to see if he could find out who the Spy really was. He said that altho he was unsuccessful, he did hear a lot of news.

First he told me about the Social Hour Friday night. Among the square dancers were; Lucille Smith and "Dave" Conde', "Ronnie" Ellis and Mary Fowler, Dale Green and Lois Ruger and many more. He said he noticed Billie Ryan being especially helpful in teaching the younger folks how to dance.

Then he said he came on down the hall and heard many teenagers talking about the coming Halloween Dance. He said that Betty Ann Kemp was coming with Duane Rhude and Shirly Tidd was coming with a certain Freshman from Alfred U. He said he hopes there will be a big turnout to help support the seniors. He said that among the dancers from A. C. S. Saturday night at Canisteo were Beatrice Tidd with "Dickie" Hoover and Joan Clarke with "Doug" Wise.

Harvey informed me that Jim Connor had been out of school because of an injury to his ankle as a result of a soccer accident. He also said he was glad to see so many people on the honor roll and hopes to see as many and even more next month. Harvey said he liked "Pat" Baker's and Lucille Smith's new coats and that they had good warm pockets for him to crawl into.

I suppose he would have talked on for hours if I hadn't stoped him long enough to say, I had to go to my first class.

Girls Soccer Team Beats Greenwood

By Danny Pelton

The Andover girls soccer team beat Greenwood on the local field last Thursday by the lopsided score of 5 to 0.

The girls of both squads tried for tallies all during both the first quarter and the second quarter but the half ended scoreless for Greenwood girls and the Andovers bonnies.

Then third quarter bedlam broke loose for the locals. Milligan, left wing of Andover tallied for two followed by Cornish, right inside who scored again on pay-dirt for two more as the third quarter ended Andoved led Greenwood 4-0.

The fourth quarter the Andover girls rapped the ball-game up when Milligan again tallied for one on a penalty kick. The game ended with Andover leading 5-0.

The girls now will meet Greenwood this week on the latter's field.

Juniors To Present Play Nov. 14

"Aunt Susie Shoots the Works" is the name of the play which the Junior class will present November 14. Arrangements have been made with Samuel French, the largest play publishers in the world, to present this screamingly funny play by Fred Caldwell. The cast of characters is as follows:

Marion Milligan as Jay Herbert is a pretty and charming girl in her late teens. Refined in manners, well bred and cultured, she is endowed with an attractive personality that wins her many friends.

Charity Howland plays the part of Scarlet Deane, who is a true darkey. In her early twenties, she appears to be older because of her build.

Aunt Susie who is played by Gay Rogers is a tall angular woman in her early forties. She is decidedly stern in manners, sharp in speech, suspicious of all strangers and determined to have her own way in everything.

Thelma Mickle as Madame Zola is a tall exotic appearing girl in her middle twenties. She has an aura of mystery surrounding her.

Carl Atwell as Johnny Rogers is of medium height, bright and breezy in manners, the typical American youth of today. Twenty years of age, well groomed and attractive, he is at home anywhere and confident of his ability to succeed.

Laura Dawson who is played by Betty Harris is of medium height, a plain appearing girl of nineteen.

Laura Croyle as Portia Lark is a middle-sized woman in her early thirties. She is well poised and determined in manners.

Bill McNeil as LaSalle Johnson is a tall, thin colored boy in his early twenties. His skin is coal black, his speech and mannerisms reflect the real darkey. He is possessed of an easy manner, a great deal of self assurance and has a high opinion of himself.

Omar Graves is a tall, distinguished appearing man in his early fifties. Of powerful build and commanding presence, he has a mind of his own and is accustomed to being obeyed. This part is played by Kent Harder.

Rosetta Davis as Mrs. Edward Dunning is an attractive woman in her early thirties. Cynthia is decidedly feminine, well groomed and smart in appearance.

Jim Conde' as Slick Conway is rather rough in manners and closely resembles a detective or plain-clothes man. He is flawlessly groomed and possesses a likeable personality with a great deal of self assurance.

Be sure to save the night of November 14 to see the Junior play. It will have you in stitches so come prepared to laugh the entire evening.

Around the School

By Mimsi Briggs

The social hour was a big success last Friday night. Everone who attended had a good time. Mary Ann Joyce seemed to spend most of her evening talking to Roger Wright. "Jackie" Vickers and Lucille Smith played ping pong. "Eddie Harkenrider played ping pong also. Mary Jane Sackett played badminton most of the evening. Anna Marie Joyce came late but she and Margaret Daily soon had fun playing badminton. All the boys had fun shooting baskets.

At about 9:15 p.m. the whistle blew and the square dancing began. The seniors found some good records and everyone had fun. In the square dance "the grapevine" "Charlie" Howland went flying into space and landed with a hard thud. He wasn't quite the same the rest of the evening. Since the square dances were a little complicated, Anna Marie acted as teacher.

The social hour closed early and everyone went home tired but glad that he went.

The Spy

Another week has rolled around and it's time to bring you the latest news from my secret sources.

The agent who covers the halls of A.C.S. reports several interesting incidents this week.

Ann Marie Joyce created a stir among her fellow students by sporting one of the new senior class rings the other day. Why all the excitement? It belonged to Mary Brown.

Mary Lou Clark has broken off her romance with Clyde Jackson. My agent tells me Wayne Atwell is her favorite prospect to replace Clyde. Wayne seems to agree since they were seen on the bus together after the soccer game in Wellsville and while returning from 4-H Achievement Day in Olean Saturday.

Now let's turn our attention to other reports.

Mike Connor and Irene Hurlburt were seen at the local movie Saturday night.

Dale Pelton is apt to be confused these days. He has a hard time remembering if he is with Jean or Jenny. That Greenwood class ring will prompt his memory

This is predominately senior news, so next week I'll be spying on the jolly juniors who will be featured in the next issue.
