Sheep Dipping By County Extension Service

The Allegany County Extension Service, Agricultural Department, is planning to arrange for a sheep dipping service to county sheep owners for the week of June 23rd. DDT will be used to control lice and ticks. The cost of the dipping will be 12c per head, or a $12 minimum fee.

Sheep owners who are interested in dipping their flocks this year should mail a card to Leon J. Carlson, Assistant County Agent, Court House, Belmont, N. Y., stating the number of sheep to be dipped and the exact location of the flock. All cards must be in on or before June 16.

Control of ticks and lice is essential to maintain flock health. Healthy sheep mean more profit.

Allegany County Hay Day — June 18

Wednesday, June 18, has been the date selected for the annual Allegany County Hay Day. The event is scheduled to start at 10:00 A. M. at the Robert McNinch farm, 1 mile east of Belmont, on state road Route 244.

A full line of forage harvesting equipment will be displayed and demonstrated during the day. This will include rakes, mowers, hay conditioners, choppers, self unloading wagons, forage blowers, balers, tedders, dryers, etc.

An outstanding feature of the hay day will be a demonstration by Prof. "Pete" Knapp, of Cornell University's Agricultural Engineering Dept., who will put on a tractor safety demonstration at approximately 12:45. Prof Knapp has specialized in the field of tractor safety. He has developed tractor tipping and hitching devices which are presently being used to make tractor operation less hazardous to the farmer, thru better knowledge of tractor operation.
