THE ANDOVER NEWS.

Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Willard of Belmont visited friends in Andover Sunday.

The Republican County Committee meets at Belmont to-day to organize for 1892.

Miss Retta Leonard has been visiting her sister, Mrs. W. B. Bundy, during the past week.

Mr. "Den" Dailey, yardmaster at Andover, Pa., was in town last week. "Den" looks, as of old, young and hearty.

Don't forget the donation for Rev. G. J. Jones at the opera house this week day evening. There will be music and the band.

Dr. Stillman was able yesterday to get down to his store, where he stayed a couple of hours. He is improving daily, which all are glad to know.

Miss M. E. Bowler of Little Genesee, corresponding Secretary of the County C. T. U., will give a report of the eighteenth National and First World's C. T. U. Convention, at the Baptist Church, next Tuesday evening, Jan. 26th.

Saturday evening Rachael Sloon and fifteen of her pupils, accompanied by the other young ladies and gentlemen from East Valley arrived at Abram Sloon's at 7 30 o'clock, and stayed the evening. After "dining up" on candy, pop-corn and peanuts they started for home about 11 o'clock.

B. Frank Forbes and Miss Emma Chaffer were married at Cuba, on Sunday, Jan. 12th. Frank, as he is generally called, was named after B. Frank Maxson, of Alfred, a lieutenant in the 160th N. Y., who was killed in the battle of Winchester, Sept. 19, '64. Frank has the good wishes of all his Andover friends.

The trial of the action brought by Mrs. E. A. Harman against the S. C. Camp estate, upon a foreclosure of a mortgage held by the plaintiff against the Kemp farm, was held Monday in the office of B. C. Brundage in this place. A. Robbins of Andover is the referee. J. H. & C. W. Stevens of Wellsville are attorneys for Mrs. Harman, and ex-Judge Clarence A. Farum of Wellsville is attorney for the defendants.

We pay the highest price for Fur and Hides. BRER, WILLIAMS & CO.

Mr. Wm. Drake of Bradford, Pa., and Mr. J. Drake of Olean, were in town last week, having been called here by the illness of their mother.

News has been received in Andover of the death of Mr. G. W. Estabrook, at his home in Havana, N. Y., last Sunday morning. Mr. Estabrook, who was an old time resident of Andover, has been in feeble health for some time.

Lovers of the Aesthetic were delighted with the beautiful lace-work that nature wove on the trees during the zero weather of last week. The effect on the trees in the grove was beyond description, as millions of diamonds and all the prismatic colors, glowed and melted in the early dawn.

Sleigh rides are the popular fad now. Our school, grades from A to Izzard, have been loading to suburban towns. In the meanwhile our outlying villages have been sending their quota of young folks to the metropolis. Two parties from Wellsville took supper at the American House last week.

We are pleased to note that the health rate is improving. There has been so much illness of late that it has been impossible to give the sufferers' names a place in our columns, and though while our sympathy has been with the afflicted, lack of space has made us chary of mention. Many friends and neighbors have gone out into the great sea of eternity, never more to greet us on this shore. May He, who stilled the waters of Galilee, bring balm to the wounded hearts of the bereaved, and teach us to look to that better world where parting shall never come.

A merry sleigh load of Andover's young people, married and unmarried, went to Belmont last evening. They stopped at the Hotel Belmont, where they were royally entertained, and enjoyed themselves as only young folks can. A splendid supper and good music helped to make the occasion all that had been anticipated. The names of those who made up the party are as follows: Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Bundy, Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Burrows, Mr. and Mrs. James Pardon, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Phillips, Misses Lizzie Pardon, Minnie Freeborn, Millie Burney, Henrietta Leonard. Messrs. J. E. Cannon, L. H. Thompson, J. P. Cannon, Rob't O'Donnell.

The camp fire at G. A. R. Hall last Saturday night was a very enjoyable affair. The Sons of Veterans and ladies of the W. R. C. did everything in their power to make things pleasant for the "old boys," and a real tin-cup supper loosened the memory of those of '61 to '65. Stories of Andoverville prison, from Atlanta to the sea, with Sheridan in the Valley, and the Army of the Potomac, were retold in little coteries, while the plenteous of creature comforts added zest to the oft-told tales. A musical and literary program was given, principal features of which were an original poem by Comrade F. M. Bassett, which received great applause—and deserved it all; and a poem read by Commander Boyd, which described how another than Sheridan made good time traveling on the day of the battle of Cedar Creek.

The C. I. S. C. will meet with Mrs. W. B. Bundy next Monday evening. The following programme will be given: Music, "Song of Inspiration," reading of the minutes; roll call, response giving a name of a college and fact about it. One fact each about John Brown and Franklin Pierce; when, where and by whom Georgia was settled. Lesson will be seven questions on Social Institutions, eleven questions on the "Story of the Constitutions." Table talk, questions on American History in memoranda.

Died, Friday, Jan. 15th, 1892, Robert Emmet, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael T. Lynch, aged 2 years and 2 months.

No more in this world shall we meet. For he has crossed the portal Of the grand Celestial City And is now with Christ immortal.

Will he meet us at the entrance When our life-work shall be o'er? Will he greet his earthly parents On the bright, eternal shore?

Let our lives the question answer, Let our labors be of love, Till the Lamb of God and our lamb Shall welcome us above.

A Fatal Fight.

The Wellsville Reporter says: Saturday night, Joseph Devers was arrested by officer Hubertus on a charge of assault in the second degree, for an attack made on one Charles Shaw, in John Sweeney's saloon, on Thursday night, at which time Shaw received injuries from which he died Saturday night. Devers was brought before Police Justice Torrey at once, and upon request was given until Monday morning to procure counsel. At the appointed time he appeared, and upon application of his counsel, Hon. C. A. Farum, was released upon $1,000 bail to appear on Saturday morning, Jan. 23d. The case is a rather complex one and may result in a more serious charge than the one now preferred.

Green--Brown.

The marriage ceremony between Floyd Green of Independence and Ora Brown of West Union was solemnized Tuesday morning, Jan. 12th, 1892, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Brown, by the Rev. Jared Kenyon, in the presence of a large number of guests. The room in which the ceremony took place, under the supervision of Mrs. Nora Darling of Wellsville, was beautifully and tastefully decorated with an evergreen arch in the center of which hung a horseshoe formed of evergreens intertwined with white flowers. The best man was J. J. Brown of Independence, and Miss Grace Marks of Wellsville was bride's maid. The bride wore a beautiful bronze-brown frock with neck and sleeves in cheviot. The presents were numerous and included many beautiful and useful articles of household utility, some of them being elegant and expensive. The supper was elaborate—a description would not do it justice. A reception was given at the home of the groom Wednesday evening. A large number of guests were present, and many more presents were received.

Expected to be a Helpless Cripple.

PIKE, N. Y., April 2, 1889.
Hart Rheumatic Remedy Co., Buffalo, N. Y.
GENTLEMEN:—For the benefit of others similarly afflicted, I write to inform you that after suffering with Rheumatism, more or less, for twelve years, and for months at a time unable to turn myself in bed, I have at last found relief by the use of your Remedy. My health in every respect has very much improved, and as a Kidney Remedy, I think it has no superior. I had that kind of chronic Rheumatism which was gradually getting worse, and the only consolation physicians gave me was that in time I should be a helpless cripple. I had the best doctors in this section, and they could do nothing for me. I can now do a reasonable amount of general housework, and walk quite a distance. I owe it all to your Remedy, and take pleasure in recommending it for Chronic Rheumatism, that no other treatment can reach.

Yours respectfully,

MRS. AMELIA P. WATSON.
