Suddenly a scene of peril caused Somera to go to the balcony near at hand, the beaned out over it, and as he looked an awful sound filled the air. The people will be a summary of the peril, but it was plain to Somers that the peril, but it was plain to Somers that the peril, but it was plain to Somers that the peril, but it was plain to Somers that the peril, but it was plain to Somers that the peril but the simply availed himself of the chance to leap out on the bosom of the lake, trusting to chance to enable him to escape the fate of those he left behind him. He sat up. Tom Jerrold was walking back and forth on the mountain side clasping and unclasping his hands.

Somers was on his feet presently. Seeing him up, Jerrold spoke to him: "What is it, may." Best lie down again. You can do no good. No one can help now."

They were in a dent in the mountain side. Standing or lying there, it was impossible for any one to witness the horors transpiring at the railway bridge. Jerrold was resolved that Somers should not see them, lest he should conclude, as so many others did, that all they loved were imprisoned in the debris and slowly burning.

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.-Thomas A. Edi son, the "Wizard," the king of practical electricians, has been "done." The hands of Wall street manipulators are seen everywhere in the act of his undoing.

The calm, clear-headed, big-hearted inventor relied on friends and business associates. The former were speculators the latter have largely proved incompe

The result of the intellectual giant's dependence will be the amalgamation of the Edison General Electric and the Thomson-Houston companies. The re-organization plan was practically agreed on several days ago

Henry Villard arranged it. Drexel, Morgan & Co., the bankers, who have succeeded in obtaining control of the majority of the stock of the Edison General Electric company, were and are the powers behind the throne, The coalition as arranged wipes out the Edison influence and transfers the good will of a business capitalized at $15,000, 000 to the Thomson Houston company. The brainiest inventor of the age is asked to play "second fiddle" to Elihu Thomson, the practical man of the absorbing

The scheme was planned by Mr. Villard and carried out before Mr. Edison realized what was being done. He imagined that the immense financial interests he had brought into the General company were being properly taken care of by the men he trusted. He never expected to submit to the dictation of Wall street manipulators.

men ne trusted. He never expected to be in a position where he would have to submit to the dictation of Wall street manipulators.

When the details of the amalgamation plan were presented to him he frowned. It did not take him long to realize that he was in a sad minority, and that those who were engineering the scheme were in virtual control of a business that he had spent fifteen years in building up. He was practically driven out of the General Company. Here is the way the situation presented itself to him:

"When the General Edison Electric Company was formed in the latter part of 1889, the Edison Electric Light Company, the Bergmann Company on Avenue B, the Edison Mechine Works at Schenetady, N. Y., the Edison Lamp Company at Harrison, N. J., and the Sprague Electric Railway & Motor Company were the elements of organization. I owned a controlling interest in the Light Company and the majority of the stock in Bergmann Company, the Edison Machino Works and the Edison Lamp Company and the majority of the stock in Bergmann Company, the Edison Machino Works and the Edison Lamp Company.

"I don't know what those interests were worth, but I do know that the companies that now represent $15,000,000 in capital under the title of the General Electric Company were practically controlled by me. Now there is not, under the old separate organizations, even a suspicicion of controlling power in my mame."

Inverescing Labor Questres

ZANESVILLE, Ohio, Feb. 20.—An interesting question concerning the precedence of labor organizations will be presented to the Trades Council here. The bricklayers of the city have sought the aid of the International Bricklayers Union to enforce a demand made upon the manufacturers, that they shall sell only to those who will sign a contract to employ union bricklayers. The members of the Mayflower Assembly, Knights of Labor, who are largely employed in the bricklayers' demand, on the ground that it curtails the market and throws them out of employment. There is bitterness between the leaders in the two organization over the matter.

said that rather than be separated from her four-footed companion she would remain in her car.

After a two hours stay at the depot she reconsidered her determination, and, entering a cab, drove to the Lindell.

Here she was told that her requirements could not be granted and after a rather stormy scene Mile. Bernbardt drove to the Southern.

She had evidently wearied of the attempt to keep her St. Bernard companion with her and told the hotel people she would not insist on the dog sharing her rooms with her; but during her ride the rooms had been engaged and Sarah's choler, which had been gradually rising, now reached a point which she could find relief in an outburst of the most emphatic French that has greeted the ears of the hotel folks in many a day.

She again folded her wraps about her and giving the hotel clerk in particular and St. Louis in general, such a scorching as only Sarah can give, once more entered the cab, and at a late hour in the afternoon, was wandering about the streets in a pouring rain, seeking quarters for herself and dog.

WESTLY WEST, A GAY LOTHARIO

He Came East to Wed Miss Henshaw, but Took Miss Gardner Instead

Complicated Besult of an Advertisement Inserted by Young and Pretty Lottie Henshaw in a Chicago Matrimonia Far Western Home to Claim the Advertiser as His Bride, but Forsook Her te Elope With the Daughter of His Boarding Mistress-A Breach of Promise Suit May Follow.

Hammonton, N. J., Feb. 20.—Westly West, the young Vanderbilt from the Pacific Coast, who created such a profound sensation in this place last spring by coming on from his Souch Dakota home in answer to an advertisement in a nome in answer to an auterpsement in a Chicago matrimonial periodical by Miss Lottle Henshaw, a pretty 19-year-old factory girl, whom he wooed and won, and then suddenly disappeared on the eve of his proposed marriage, has created another sensation here by suddenly turn ing up and marrying another girl of the name of Miss Laura Gardner.

The story of Miss Henshaw's romance

The story of Miss Henshaw's romance created a great flurry among her associates at the time.

The night her lover was expected to arrive in Hammonton from his Western home, the girls in the great shoe factory where the fortunate Miss Henshaw was employed, took a half holiday and turned out in force to see the gay Lothario, but when the train steamed into the station he was not on board, and all concluded the fair Lottie had been duped. Lottie said nothing and waited. Soon after her confidence was vindicated by the arrival-of young West. He procured board at the home of a family named Gardner, where he remained while arrangements were being perfected for his marriage to Miss Henshaw.

The Gardners, where young West boarded, had a very attractive daughter named Laura, and the gossips soon actived that the young people vere very attentive to each other. Lottie heard of this and demanded an explanation from her lover.

In answer, she received a note from her lover in which he said that he had gone to Philadelphia to have a draft cashed, and that he would return that evening and claim her as his bride. That made the girl's heart light again, but in the evening she was doomed to disappointment, for her lover did not appeur to redeem his promise and she has not seen him since.

It has leaked out, however, that Westle West hear sturned and he mutured and he nower.

seen him since.

It has leaked out, however, the Westly West has returned and has no gone away with Miss Gardner.

Miss Henshaw, when seen in regard the matter, refused to talk. Friends the family say, however, that a bread promise suit will be instituted.

The affair has caused a great sensation here and there is no end of gossiping.

THE TREATY POSTPONED. Brazilian Decree of November Not to Go Into Effect Until May.

Brazillan Decree of November Not to Go Into Effect Latil May.

New York, Feb. 20.—The Brazilian consul-general, Senor Macedo, has received by the steamship Vigilancia official advices from the Brazilian Government postponing until May 1 the decree of November 21, 1891, which was to go into effect on January 1, 1892. This decree sets forth the conditions of the reciprocity treaty between the United States and Brazil and the manner in which merchandise is to be exported.

The postponement is due to the strenuous objections made by American exporters, who allege that the Brazilian Government requires too much information from exporters.

The decree requires that an exporter shall formulate in three blanks the list of the articles to be shipped to Brazilian ports, faithfully containing names, marks, numbers, weight, kind, quality, quantity, origin and value of the merchandise, as well as the destination, and shall take it to the Brazilian consulate for legalization; and regarding articles of which Brazil is the principal, or one of the principal consumers, the consul must verify most scrupulously the real cost of the production, and add thereto the inherent expenses and profits.

The chief objection raised by exporters is the declaration of the forwarder, the date of purchase, the factory, warehouse, store or office where the goods were bought, the declaration of the price per quantity, local value and quality.

HUDSON STILL FASTING.

The Aged Bostonian is Now Reduced to a Mere Skeleton.

Boston, Feb. 18.—Charles Hudson, who lives with his son-in-law, George Richardson, at 24 Tremont street, in this city, was taken with grip on January 1.

January 1.

In ten days he recovered, but expressed sorrow at not having died, and soon after he began to starve himself. For forty-one days not a mouthful of food has passed his lips, and his only subsistence has been water and ice. He refuses to take medicine as well as food.

A day or two ago some nourishment was given him in water, but he discovered the trick and refused to swallow the dose.

From a comparatively strong and healthy man of his years, Mr. Hudson has become reduced to a mere skeleton.

The case is exciting widespread attention.

A BONAPARTE PRINCE INCOG.

Living Quietly on an Immense Hacienda in Bolivia.

ORUBO, Bolivia Feb. 20.—M. Fexon, attache of the French Legation at La Plaza, spent several days in this city on Plaza, spent several days in this city on his return from Santa Cruz, where he went recently in quest of information as to one M. Fure, a Prince of the house of Bonaparte, who suddenly disappeared from Paris several months ago, went to Constantinople, and was afterward re-ported as living incognito in this re-public.

porcea as aving incognito in this republic.

He found the Prince living quietly on an irrmense hacienda in the vicinity of Chiquitos, with a beautiful Circassian girl, said to be the wife of one of the Sultan's favorite Ministers of State, who eloped from the Turkish capital by night with the gay. Franch Prince.

M. Fure told M. Pexon that nothing could induce him to abandon his present life and return to the bosom of his friends and family in the Old World.

CURIOU POISONING CASE.

Twenty-eight Persons Seriously Ill from

Bangon, Me., Feb. 20.—A strange case of poisoning is reported from Mount Chase, a town in the norther-part of the

A family named Rider, who had moved into a house formerly occupied by an old hunter named Jarrett, found therein a box of sods.

Recently the supply of this article in the vicinity became exhausted and the Riders and other families used from the box which the Riders had found.

Twenty-eight persons became seriously ill shortly afterward and one of those has since died. Most of the others are in a fair way to recovery.

It is presumed that some some some of the police and forward bear layer to the hot in which the sods was found.
