Dr. L. E. Wiles and family, of Fillmore, have been visiting at the home of P. Robinson this week.
E. W. O'Hara of Angelica recently purchased the Hume Enterprise, and a great improvement is noticeable in that paper.
Our Greenwood correspondent sends us newsy letters which make glad the heart of the editor—and the hearts of our readers also.
Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Robinson visited friends in West Almond last week. They were "snowed in," and stayed a few days longer than they intended.
Mrs. James McDonald, of Grand Rapids, Mich., who has been in this place during the illness of her mother, Mrs. Drake, for some time past, returned to her home yesterday.
Mrs. Luella J. Stillman, of Almond, recited a very fine poem, the product of her own pen, and recited it very finely, at the Lanphear Valley Open Alliance last Saturday evening.
Died, at his father's house in this town, March 12th, 1892, after an illness of four months, John, eldest son of Henry Horan, aged 16 years and 4 months. His funeral was largely attended on Monday at the Catholic Church, a requiem mass being celebrated by Rev. Father Brown.
Died, March 8th, 1892, Mary, wife of Anthony McAndrew, of this town, aged 65 years. The funeral services were held on Friday at the Church of the Immaculate Conception in Wellsville, where a solemn high mass was offered by Very Rev. Father Luddy. Deceased leaves a husband, nine children and a brother, Mr. Martin O'Brien.

The Hyland well still produces oil, there now being several feet of the fluid in the tank.
Uriah Davis is receiving the brick for a new house which he will build on his farm the coming summer.
The County Publishers' Association met at Cuba on Monday of this week. The next meeting will be held in Wellsville, April 15th.
The citizens of Cuba have formed a league, the object of which shall be to suppress vice in every form in that village. One thousand dollars have been subscribed to carry on the work.
Owing to the condition of the roads, V. A. Willard, of Belmont, did not speak at Lanphear Valley last Saturday evening as announced. He will speak there next Saturday evening and literary exercises will be presented.
The Mutual Gas Company has been considering the feasibility of extending the gas line to Alfred Centre, the people of that place being very anxious for them to do so. The company has not yet decided to extend the line.
One of the best proofs that the "Buffalo Boom" so much talked of is actual and substantial, is the steady improvement of the Illustrated Express. Every issue is an advertisement for Buffalo of which that city ought to be proud.
O. P. Crandall has, during the past week, taken a census of the people within the proposed lines of the corporation. The population of this village is about the same as it was when the first vote was taken on incorporation 1890.
Andover got its full share of the blizzard which prevailed throughout the country the latter part of last week Saturday morning found the snow drifted worse in this town than it has been in forty years. So says an old resident who knows.
Mrs. Dr. Sprague, who is connected with the Western New York Home for Friendless Children, at Randolph, has been in town during the past week soliciting contributions for that worthy institution, which is supported wholly by benevolence.
W. J. Penny was elected President of Cuba village at the corporate election held Tuesday, by a casting majority. It is fortunate for the people of that place that Mr. Penny can be induced to devote a portion of his time to village matters. The interests of the people of Cuba are in good hands for the next year.
A meeting of those interested in incorporation was held at L. C. Van Fleet's office last Thursday evening. L. C. Van Fleet was elected chairman and F. S. Clark secretary. The following committee was appointed to have charge of all details in arranging for the taking of the vote on the question of incorporation: P. Cannon, E. J. Atwood, D. D. Remington, John Prest, O. P. Crandall.
The C. L. S. C. will meet with Mrs. A. M. Burrows, next Monday evening. The following program will be given: Music—"Join, O Friends, in a Memory Song," reading of the minutes; roll call, quotations from Marietta Holley (Josiah Allen's wife). Each one to bring three questions from the History. Lesson will be 13 questions on American History, 6 on "The Story of the Constitution," and questions and answers on Botany. Recess. Report of program committee. Game of American Characters. Table talk on the questions in the Memoranda.
The Presbyterian Fair held at Prest's Opera House on Wednesday of last week was in everything a success, the net receipts reaching $51. At the Crazy Tea—many remembrancers of "auld lang syne," in the form of table ware such as made glad the hearts of our grandparents, met the eye. The sales tables, under the management of Mrs. Wm. Owen, were attractive and proved remunerative. The "Sun Flower Chorus," a study in black, was a prominent feature, or combination of features, of the entertainment which the ladies in charge, by united and well-directed efforts, made an enjoyable affair.
Last Monday we had the pleasure of looking through the new Y. M. C. A. rooms in Cuba. The Association occupies two floors of a fine brick building. On the first floor they have a reading room well supplied with newspapers and magazines; bath rooms, with hot and cold water, and a splendidly equipped gymnasium. Up stairs is the parlor, handsomely furnished, containing also a fine piano; in the rear of this is a room for games, &c., and a well equipped kitchen. It seems to us that this organization must be of vast benefit to Cuba. Certainly this fine building, with its facilities for enjoyment and mental profit, must be among the most attractive places for young people in that place.

A Queer State of Affairs in Excise Matters.

A couple of years ago, as most of our readers doubtless know, a law was passed by the Legislature of this State compelling every candidate for office, whether elected or not, to file an itemized statement of his campaign expenses, within ten days after election. The law has been extensively commented upon in the newspapers, until it was thought that every person understood its provisions. Items concerning it have several times appeared in the News. One of the provisions of the law is that the successful candidate who fails to file such a statement within the time specified shall forfeit his office. It makes no difference whether the candidate paid out any money or not—he must file an affidavit just the same.

Last Friday was the last day for filing such statements by candidates at the recent town meeting, and on Saturday it was discovered that F. O. Livermore, the excise commissioner elected to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of M. A. Woodbury, had failed to file his statement! When this piece of news became known throughout the village, two entirely different brands of emotion were exhibited. Great consternation and disappointment were manifested in the ranks of those who favored license and thought they had it solid, while those opposed to license cried in one voice, "Bully Hallelujah!" or words to that effect. Here unfold the first chapter.

Chapter two runs as follows: John Cochrane was elected Excise Commissioner in March, 1891. There is a law which provides that no Excise Commissioner shall be interested, directly or indirectly, in the manufacture or sale of liquors, and any person elected to the office shall file an affidavit to that effect within thirty days after his election. Mr. Cochrane has failed to file such an affidavit.

Chapter three—It is held by some attorneys that Mr. Livermore's failure to file his statement of expenses within ten days after his election does not make his office vacant provided there was no willful violation of law, and provided further that he files the said affidavit immediately upon having his attention called to the matter, and before a protest has been entered against his holding the office. Upon learning of this on Monday, Mr. Livermore promptly filed all necessary affidavits with the town clerk, and his friends claim he is a full fledged excise commissioner.

Whether the same rule will also apply to Mr. Cochrane we are not aware, but there is no doubt that the muddle will all be straightened out before long, if not "to the satisfaction of everybody," at least to the satisfaction of the law and the white dove of peace will take possession of the excise affairs, and allow the people to turn their attention to corporation matters.

LATER.—We understand Mr. Cochrane has also filed the affidavit required, and it seems to be the general opinion that both he and Mr. Livermore will hold the office.

Edward Padden's Death.

Edward Padden, son of Hubert Padden of Cuba, met an untimely death at Salamanca last Thursday. He was a brakeman on the Erie, and was engaged in coupling the air-brakes between the engine and a car. The engineer received a signal from some one to back up which he did. Padden started to get out from between the cars, when his coat caught on some portion of the car and he was thrown under the tender, the legs being nearly severed from the body. He lived about forty minutes, the Rev. Fathers Murray and Burkely of Salamanca administered to him in his dying moments.

The family of the deceased formerly lived in Andover, and the body was brought here for burial. The funeral was held Saturday morning in the church of the Holy Sacrament at this place. A Requiem for the dead was celebrated by the Reverend Father Griffin of Cuba, as Master of Ceremonies. Father Murray of Olean as Deacon and Father Reilly of Belmont, as sub-deacon. Miss Mame Sullivan of Cuba, at the organ sang the responses and the beautiful hymn "Take him, my Jesus, to Heaven." After blessing the body the Rev. Father Griffin made a few remarks about the deceased and on the uncertainty of life, and the necessity of being always prepared spiritually to meet death. The deceased leaves a father and mother and six brothers.

The expenses of the Erie are being cut down to the lowest notch. All carpenters are to be laid off five days each month, and the number of linemen has been reduced.
