The dog had never been taught anything of the kind, and if he did not reason what shall we call it?—St. Augustine (Fla.) News. Getting Sea Temperatures

Herr Luders, of Gorlitz, has recently invented a thermometer for ascertain-ing the temperature of the depths of the sea. Its action depends on the dif-ferent electric conductivities of sub-stances at different temperatures. In side a glass tube are fixed a spiral iron vire and a bar of earbon, which only teach at their lower ends. Their other ends are connected to copper wires. which constitute an electric circuit, and in this circuit there is a galvanemeter which indicates the differences in the current due to the variations in the temperature of the contents of the glad tube. ANSWER THIS QUESTION

Why do so many people we see around us seem to prefer to suffer and A gentleman living in this city tens this for a true story: I have a little dog that stays in the house at night. This morning he came to my room about the time I usually get up, but although wide awake I did not stir. The little fellow tried to attract attention by rolling on the floor in front of the bed, and by so doing suprend wide nart the folds.
