It is reported that the Canisteo Times has been sold to a gentleman from Bath.
The vote on incorporation will be taken one week from to-morrow—April 28.
Indications are that the town will soon be saturated with a tidal wave of baseballphobia.
Rev. G. M. Jones and James Redmon are in Bath, attending a meeting of the Steuben Presbytery.
Arbor Day this year comes on May 6th, the four hundredth anniversary of the discovery of America.
Drilling will begin the latter part of this week on the Mutual Gas Company's well on R. A. Pease's farm.
"In the spring the young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of"—fishing in the mill pond; but he can't do it, you know.
Miss Louise Langworthy was the guest of Miss Lizzie Bassett of Andover, last Tuesday and Wednesday.—Alfred Sun.
Don't forget the donation for the benefit of Rev. Joshua Clarke next Wednesday evening, April 27, at the Seventh Day Baptist church in this village.
T. McTigue has purchased the remainder of the stock of T. & M. McTigue, and will continue business in the old stand. He starts for New York Monday to purchase a new stock of dry goods, clothing and shoes.
James A. O'Leary is building a new blacksmith shop on the site of the one burned a few months ago, on Dyke street. The building will soon be finished and Mr. O'Leary ready for business again at the old stand.
Mr. George Forbes, of the Excelsior Marble and Granite works, Cuba, was in town the first of this week. While here he placed two monuments in our cemeteries—one in the Bundy cemetery to the memory of the late Wm. W. Bennett, and one in the Town cemetery to the memory of Mrs. J. A. O'Leary, who resided here.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Henderson visited friends in Wellsville last Thursday.

W. A. Wood of Rochester, son of A. P. Wood of this place, has been greeting his Andover friends during the past few days.

Mrs. Eliza Huff of Dundee, N. Y. left on train 10 last Thursday for her home. She has been spending the winter with her daughters, Mrs. Alva Slocum and Mrs. E. Houghtaling.

This is the awful season of the year when the average man stays away from home as much as possible, sleeps on a straw bed in the garret and eats his dinner off the head of a barrel in the woodshed. House cleaning!

Mr. John Prest who has been awarded the contract for erecting the new M. E. Church, is pushing the work rapidly forward. The excavation is nearly completed, and the foundation will soon be in the course of construction.—Wellsville Democrat.

A newspaper change is about to be made in this country whereby one of the oldest and leading Republican papers of the county will pass into new hands and proclaim new principles. The details will probably be made public within two weeks.

The other day one of the teachers in Andover Union School was teaching her young scholars how to address letters. She asked one little boy the question, "George, what is your address?" "George hesitated a moment and said: "My dress is is pants!"

At the Republican caucus held last evening in Prest's opera house, E. J. Atwood was elected chairman and H. Norris secretary. W. B. Bundy and J. C. Green were elected delegates to attend the Congressional Convention at Belmont; and T. N. Boyd, Edward Kinney and W. H. Phillips were elected delegates to attend the County Convention at Belmont.

The C. L. S. C. will meet with Miss Fannie Spaulding next Monday evening. The following program will be given: Music, No. 19, Chautauque songs; report of the critic; reading of the minutes; roll call, miscellaneous quotations; one fact each about Wm. Phillips, Elijah P. Lovejoy and Susan B. Anthony; lesson, remainder of the questions on American Letters and "Two Old Faiths," in the April Chautauque; also questions and answers on Mexico; recess; report of program committee; table talk. Lady Henry Somerset and Frances Willard.

Rev. R. C. Grimes gives a graphic account in the Olean Herald of the scenes at the East Olean Chapel on the night of the recent cyclone. The occasion of the meeting was the Epworth League devotional hour. A business meeting following the religious meeting had just been called to order, and a prayer by the president was scarcely concluded when the storm struck the church. The lights were out immediately. There was a heavy tremor to the building as if taken in a powerful hand and lifted from the earth and shaken—not a jolt but a slow, firm motion. The chapel will be replaced by a much better and larger building than that destroyed. In addition to the chapel, ten houses, a temperance hall and a store house were ruined. One woman was killed and another seriously injured.

Painful and Serious Accident.

Yesterday, Mrs. G. B. Proper met with an unfortunate accident which caused her intense pain and which will deprive her of the use of one hand for some time. Her husband recently purchased a new machine for chopping meat, which runs with a crank and has a large balance wheel. Mrs. Proper was showing the machine to a neighbor, and had started it into a good motion, when she discovered that some part of the mechanism was not in running order and the knives were liable to be injured. She caught a large cog wheel with her right hand, intending to stop the machine, but the momentum was so great that her hand was drawn between this wheel and another cog wheel, which it turns. Her hand was lacerated in a terrible manner. The wound extending towards the wrist between the bones of the forefinger and thumb. Fortunately no bones were broken. Dr. O'Donnell dressed the wound, and it is hoped Mrs. Proper will recover as a result of the accident.

A despatch received to-day by H. S. Smith states that the wife of R. R. Parshall, of Westfield, Pa., is dead, and the funeral will be held to-morrow. Mr. and Mrs. Parshall were well known in Andover.

Married.

At the residence of Mr. Chas. Updyke in Andover, N. Y., April 13, 1892, by Rev. G. W. Gibson, Mr. Nathan Kettle and Miss Agnes Whitney, both of Tioga, Penna.

Easter at the Churches.

Following the usual custom, Easter was appropriately observed by the several churches in Andover.

AT THE METHODIST CHURCH.

The regular morning service was dispensed with, and a pleasing and appropriate program was rendered by members of the Sunday School, old and young, consisting of music, recitations, responsive readings, etc. The Church was handsomely decorated with flowers.

AT THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

Special Easter music was given, an appropriate sermon was preached by the pastor, and the presence of beautiful flowers helped to make the service in keeping with the joyous occasion.

AT THE BAPTIST CHURCH.

In the morning the pastor preached a sermon on the "Resurrection," and the choir sang beautiful anthems. Here also was seen a profusion of beautiful flowers.

In the evening a program was rendered by members of the Sunday School and Church, the features of which were in accord with the spirit of the Easter Festival.

AT THE CATHOLIC CHURCH.

The altar of this church seemed a veritable flower garden, cut flowers and potted plants being artistically arrayed and forming a beautiful sight. Father John of Dunkirk conducted the services and delivered an appropriate discourse. The music was specially prepared; there was a very large attendance at the service.

A Drug Store Sold.

Mr. D. R. Spaulding has sold his drug store to Dr. F. E. Comstock of this place and Prof. H. A. Benedict of Deposit, formerly principal of Bolivar Union School. The transfer has not yet been made, and the inventory will not be taken until about the first of May, but it is not thought that any contingencies will arise to present the consummation of the bargain.

Exhibition and Sales Day.

The Allegany County Farmers' Club will hold their annual exhibition and sales days at Belfast the 26th and 27th of this month. Farmers from every section of the county should make it a point to be present. Every kind of article pertaining to the farm and dairy will be on exhibition and for sale, stock and produce included. If you have anything you wish to dispose of, take it to Belfast. The services of an auctioneer are furnished free on the second day.

The ladies of the W. R. C. will serve dinner for 25 cents and supper for 15 cents. An invitation is extended to all. Remember the date—April 26th and 27th, at Belfast.

Judge Dexter Honored.

At the meeting of the United States league of building and loan associations held at Chicago yesterday ex-Judge Seymour Dexter of this city was elected president of the newly organized league. Judge Dexter is in a manner the father of building and loan associations and has probably taken a greater interest and devoted more time to their advancement than any other man in the country and his election to the presidency of this national league is a deserved recognition of his services and an honor worthily bestowed.—Elmira Advertiser.

There have lately been placed upon the market a number of copies of an obsolete edition of "Webster's Dictionary." These books are given various names, "Webster's Unabridged," "The Great Webster's Dictionary," "Webster's Big Dictionary," "Webster's Encyclopedic Dictionary," etc., etc.

Many announcements concerning them are misleading. The Webster reprint portion of each from A to Z is the same, forty-four years behind the times, and printed from plates made by photographing the old pages. The old book has been padded out by various additions culled from various sources, but the body is the same that was published when Polk was president and duly buried at the incoming of Lincoln. The Webster, current from Lincoln to Harrison, is the popular copyrighted "Unabridged" which has just been republished by Webster's Literary and Printing Co. See advertisement in another column.
