Oil Matters.

Last week's edition of the News, which contained an account of the shooting of the Mutual Company's oil well on the R. A. Pease farm, three and one-half miles east of this village, was exhausted before the demand for extra copies was filled. We have also received a few new subscribers to whom we were unable to send last week's issue. For the benefit of those interested we will state that the well is in good for twelve to fifteen barrels of oil per day, and flows at frequent intervals. It is by all odds the best oil well in this field. Other wells are to be put down, one having been located on the Atkins farm, just east of the Pease farm, to be drilled at once by parties from the Bradford field. Much land has already been leased, but there is no doubt that operators who mean business may yet secure desirable tracts.

One night last week somebody wanted to know how much oil there was in the tank at the R. A. Pease oil well, and stuck a lantern into the top of the tank to throw a little light on the subject. There was gas in the tank as well as oil and it wasn't half a second after the lantern went into the tank until the "whole business" was in flames. The tank was destroyed and the exact quantity of oil it contained will never be known. The flow from the well is shut in until a new tank arrives.

A new tank arrived Monday to replace the one burned at the Pease well. It will hold 600 barrels, and will soon be put in place, when the oil will begin to flow again.

The fellows who caused the Mutual Company's oil tank to burn are no doubt liable for damages, provided the company sees fit to press the matter. They ought to call at the gas office and make explanations, at least. "A stitch in time" etc.

To C. W. S.—The Pease farm, on which is located the Mutual Company's latest well, is in the town of Greenwood, about three and one-half miles easterly from Andover.

How One Woman "Kills" Time.

A guileless unmarried man, asked in the Washington Star, "How do women kill time?" He will probably not ask that question again. He got his answer from a woman who with her husband, two children and two servants, lived in a house containing nine rooms. Having kept a statistical account for one year, she gave the result as follows:

"Number of lunches put up, 1,157; meals ordered, 1,053, desserts made, 172; lamps filled, 328; rooms dusted, 2,259; times dressed children, 756; visits received, 897; visits paid, 187; books read, 38; papers read, 553; stories read aloud, 234; games played, 329; church services attended, 115; articles mended, 1,236; articles of clothing made, 120; fancy articles made, 56; letters written, 428; hours in music, 20 1/2; hours in Sunday school work, 208; hours in gardening, 49; sick days, 44; amusements attended, 10. Besides the above I nursed two children through measles, twice cleaned every nook and corner of my house, put up 75 jars of pickles and preserves, made seven trips to the dentist's, dyed Easter eggs, polished silver, and spent seven days in helping nurse a sick friend who was ill, besides these the thousand and one duties too small to mention yet taking time to perform.

A few more ladies spring and summer wraps and jackets left, which we will be closed out cheap. A. M. BURROWS. Having sold my stock of goods, all persons having accounts with me, will please call and settle by note or otherwise at their earliest convenience.

OH, WHAT A COUGH!

Will you heed the warning? The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that most terrible disease, consumption. Ask yourself if you can afford for the sake of 50c to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a million bottles were sold the past year. It relieves croup and whooping cough at once. Mothers do not be without it. For lame back, side or chest use Shiloh's porous plaster. Sold by D. B. Spaulding.
