We use Alcohol

pure alcohol to make WOLFF'S ACME BLACKING. Alcohol is good for leather; it is good for the skin. Alcohol is the chief ingredient of Cologne, Florida Water, and Bay Rum the well-known face washes. We think there is nothing too costly to use in a good leather preservative.

Acme Blacking retails at 20c. and at that price sells readily. Many people are so accustomed to buying a dressing or blacking at 5c. and 10c. a bottle that they cannot understand that a blacking can be cheap at 20c. We want to meet them with cheapness if we can, and to accomplish this we offer a reward of

for a recipe which will enable us to make WOLFF'S ACME BLACKING at such a price that a retailer can profitably sell it at 10c. a bottle. We hold this offer open until Jan. 1st, 1893.

DEATH OF FATHER BROWN.

The Beloved Priest Called From His Earthly Labors.

Last week's News stated that Rev. J. H. Brown of this place, who had not been well for many months, was in a more critical condition, and that the end of his earthly duties was probably near at hand. Death came on Thursday, June 23d, 1892.

The deceased was born in Canada, February 14, 1858, and when he was yet a child his parents removed to South Hill in the town of Andover where they yet reside, and where the deceased lived until he left home to pursue his studies. Father Brown attended school in Wells-ville, and in 1879 he entered St. Charles College at Baltimore, Md., where he remained three years, finishing his classical course. He then entered Niagara University at Suspension Bridge, where he took his philosophical and theological courses, completing the same in four years, after which he was ordained a priest for the Diocese of Buffalo, and duly installed as assistant in St. Bridget's Church in Buffalo. He remained there about two years, and was then transferred to Ellicottville, where he remained but a short time, being then appointed pastor of the Church of the Blessed Sacrament in this village, where he remained faithfully discharging his duties as teacher of his people until Death removed him from those for whom he labored.

During his residence in Andover Father Brown endeared himself to the people of this place. He was loved, honored and respected by everybody who had the pleasure of his acquaintance. He resided in Andover more than three years, and during that time the community has felt the influence of his good works and deeds to a remarkable degree.

For the past few months his health rapidly failed, and much of the time during that period he was unable to perform all of his duties. The disease which took him away just as he was entering the prime of manhood had long been working upon his system, and its progress was watched with sorrow by our people, who realized that the good priest's work was rapidly drawing to a close.

The funeral took place from the Church where he had worshipped, on Monday morning last. The interior of the edifice was heavily draped in mourning, and beautiful flowers adorned the casket. The large church was filled to overflowing, and many were unable to find seats.

Solemn Requiem Mass was offered for Father Brown. The celebrant of the Mass was Father John Bandinelli, S. P., of Dunkirk; Deacon, Rev. P. J. McAvo, Syracuse; Sub-Deacon, Rev. J. J. Dealy, Buffalo; Master of Ceremonies, Rev. J. F. McGloin, Buffalo. Rt. Rev. S. V. Ryan, Bishop of this Diocese was present and assisted at the mass.

A sermon was preached by Rev. T. D. Johnson of Owego, who, in beautiful and eloquent language, paid tribute to the memory of the deceased. A few touching words were also spoken by Bishop Ryan.

Messrs. J. E. Cannon, J. P. Cannon, T. K. Regan, M. J. Regan, T. Hyland, of Andover, and Wm. Roach of South Hill. The procession was over a mile long and perhaps contained more vehicles than were ever seen before in Andover upon a similar occasion.

During the funeral services, as a mark of respect for the deceased, the business places of the village were closed.

AN OIL TANK STRUCK.

35,000 Barrels of Oil Make a Huge Fire at Dyke.

Last Thursday morning during a thunder shower, one of the United Pipe Line's oil tanks at Dyke was struck by lightning. The tank was situated near the road leading from Andover to Wellsville, about four miles from this village. It had a capacity of 35,000 barrels of oil, and was full when it was struck. The surface of the oil was immediately one vast sheet of flame, and the black smoke rose to a great height. As soon as possible workmen were engaged in making a bank of earth in a large circle surrounding the tank, and the pumps were set at work drawing the oil from the bottom of the tank.

About two o'clock p. m. the company's cannon was brought to the scene and about a dozen holes were shot into the tank, letting the oil into the space inside the embankment, and greatly increasing the area of the flames. The sight was a beautiful one, and hundreds of persons were on hand to view it. Only a few thousand barrels of oil were drawn off before the tank was shot, and 30,000 barrels of oil was consumed. The fire lasted until well along into the night.

SOME GUMPTION.

PULMER VALLEY NEWS.

The general topic of conversation the past week has been politics and paint brush. The latter has attracted your correspondent's attention more than the former. I will venture to say it is not necessary for me to describe paint brush. I will say, however, I do not mean a brush used for applying paint, but refer to a very troublesome plant which I understand was introduced some years ago as a perennial acquisition to some lady's flower garden. It has been the practice of the most careful farmers in this section to use salt as an exterminator of this pest, but for some reason it spreads so rapidly that it can be found in profusion where it has never been seen before, and we think it is time our legislature was called to consider the passage of a law forbidding any one from allowing seed to mature on any of this species of weed in our state.

Referring to politics, nearly every one concedes the chances favor President Harrison's re-election although ex-President Cleveland has admirers here.
