A Very Sad Accident.

Last Saturday morning a little son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Redmon, fourteen months old, met with a very sad and unexpected death. The little one had stood alone for the first time that morning, and all in the family were exceedingly jubilant over the event. Not more than ten minutes afterwards, when the family had separated and gone about their usual work upon the farm, Mrs. Redmon suddenly exclaimed: "Where is the baby?" No sooner were the words spoken than she rushed out to the spring house a little distance from the back door, and there, in the tank filled with water, lay the little one dead. Everything was done to restore life that could be done but it was too late, for the little body that a few moments before was so full of joy and happiness, was now utterly limp and cold. Of course no one can appreciate the sorrow of the parents, for none but those who have been in similar circumstances knew anything about it. Indeed, what adds to their troubles is the fact that only last winter the next older child, a beautiful and promising little girl of three years, died with the scarlet fever. By this event the family is doubly bereaved.

The funeral was attended at the house on Sunday afternoon, a very large company of friends and neighbors being present, including the choir of the Presbyterian church, and Rev. G. M. Janes officiating.

The sympathy of the entire community is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Redmon.

Word of Thanks.

The undersigned wish to return sincere thanks to friends and neighbors for assistance rendered and sympathy manifested at the time of the death of our little son. In the midst of our trouble it gratifies us to know that willing hands and hearts came to our aid.
