

THE ANDOVER NEWS

ONE DOLLAR A YEAR.

HAMILTON C. NORRIS, EDITOR

ANDOVER, N. Y., Aug. 31, 1892.

FIVE YEARS OLD.

Five years ago to-day the first number of the ANDOVER NEWS was printed, and to-day we enter upon another year with considerably brighter prospects than were manifested when we first tried the experiment of publishing a newspaper in this place.

The paper has never been perfect, and we do not expect it ever will be, but we think every person who takes it receives his or her money's worth.

And while the News has lived and prospered, the village and town in which it is published have changed wonderfully for the better.

Citizens of Andover, this change has been due to the enterprise and public spirit manifested by you.

You have prospered. You deserve to prosper, and the degree of your success in the future will depend as it has in the past—upon yourselves.

Let the prosperity go on! Let us see Andover noted for its enterprise and thrift as it has never before.

Now there are tens of thousands

ALL KINDS OF POLITICS.

THIS IS VOUCHER FOR.

The Democracy at first elated over prospective Republican dimensions is now becoming cognizant of Republican unity and is becoming alarmed at the dissensions in its own party.

In the work of breaking the Solid South the Republicans will begin with West Virginia, Virginia, and one, and probably both, of the Carolinas.

Alabama's Democracy is fighting the Weaver ticket hard. To us up here Democratic supremacy in Alabama in the national canvass does not appear to be in danger.

Since Western Democrats learned that Pulitzer's $10,000 subscribed to carry conviction and conversion to "four States in the West" was to be spent in New York "Worlds" and such literature, instead of beer and red-eye, they have lost all interest in it.

Were the Elections Bill, or Force Bill as dishonest Democrats prefer to call it, not so long it would make an excellent Republican campaign document.

Senator David B. Hill said to the Old Guard at its clambake yesterday: "For reasons too numerous to mention, I am a gentleman of leisure this summer."

It is the purpose of the Democracy if power shall be given to that party, to wipe out the fraud of Republican Protection and to correct the vice, the unyeness and the illogic that abides in McKinleyism.

Cleveland's simple, natural demeanor has attracted a popularity unrivaled in this generation. The demeanor and its popularity are the purest American democracy.

Both the law and the examples of employers powerfully, if silently, incite them to these assaults upon other workmen and those acts of incendiarism and general lawlessness and criminality which have made it necessary within the past few weeks to invoke the military arm in no less than four States of the Union.

The plain fact is, the Republicans, beyond affirming their confidence in Protection put forward no fixed theory about the tariff at all. They put up rates to increase the revenue and also to decrease it. They demand Protection to keep up prices, and yet affirm that it puts them down.

THIS IS ALL BUT SWORN TO. An old man, who has foretold the winners in presidential races for the past 52 years, was recently interviewed on the contest of 1892.

breaking away from the Republicans and the Democrats and joining the People's Party and the Prohibitionists. Whole States will be wrested from their former connections.

This interview sets one to thinking. The Republicans want to break the "Solid South?" Then let them vote for Bidwell. Do the Democrats want to cremate the force bill?
