ANDOVER, N. Y., Sept. 7, 1892.

POLITICS.

"GRANDPA'S HAR"

The Senate committee's report and this one from New York Labor Bureau, supplemented by the returns of the foreign commerce of the United States, leave nothing for the Cleveland canvass to stand on but "no Force Bill" and wildcat banking.—Utica Herald.

Welsh tin-works are shutting down, and thousands of tinplate makers on template coming to the United States to find employment. This is all wrong, from the Democratic Free-trade standpoint. The American tinmills should be shutting down and the foreign mills should be active.—Evening Times.

If it be true that American manufacturers are growing wealthy, it would be poor policy to turn this wealth into English channels. It is not impossible nor improbable that this surplus wealth should be distributed among the laborers of this country. If our manufacturers are getting too much, labor organizations soon discover that fact, and in consequence demand for higher wages is made. No such a demand could be made if the manufacturer were a British subject.—Toledo Commercial.

At last it has been discovered whom the Democracy means by the "monopolists who benefit by Protection." It means those 89,717 workmen who have had their wages increased.—Buffalo Express.

David A. Wells thinks that the Democrats did not go far enough in declaring for Free Trade at the Chicago convention. It could be interesting to hear how they could have gone further than to declare that anything resembling a protective tariff is unconstitutional and must be abolished.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

The tariff law under which nearly 90,000 instances of increased wages have occurred in the State of New York alone is what the Democratic national platform denounces as a "fraud."—Albany Journal.

Does anybody doubt that Mr. Grover Cleveland would cheerfully give half his fortune to be able to look into the eyes of a gathering of old soldiers, as Gen. Benjamin Harrison did at Malone last week, and say: "Comrades, I give you a comrade's greeting, God bless you, every one."—Hartford Courant.

George E. Hahner, who is a first cousin to David B. Hill, had a talk with the Senator the other day and immediately afterward announced that he would like to make a small bet on the election of Harrison. The history of recent political contests shows that Hill is a good tipster.—Buffalo Express.

In our most enthusiastic moments we have never dared to suspect, much less to insist, that the McKinley-Tariff Law had gone so far and done so much for the wage-workers of the State as is now officially revealed by the report of Commissioner of Labor Charles F. Peck, himself a Democrat and standing on a political platform which denounces Protection as a fraud and a protective tariff as unconstitutional, and demands the enactment of a Free Trade tariff modeled after the revenue-only system of Free Trade Great Britain.—Albany Journal.

"THE TARIFF IS A TAX." The workingman naturally finds fault when Protection is enacted in his name while the manufacturers absorb the profits and refuse to dole out the same or decree a smaller rate of wages.—Empire Gazette.

It is announced that the Hon. J.

Sloat Fassett will take the stump for Harrison and Reid in Maine. If his speaking is as effective there as it was in New York last year, the Democrats have no reason to be alarmed. Mr. Fassett's present ambition is to succeed Frank Hiscock as United States Senator and if the Republicans shall carry our next Assembly, Mr. Fassett's chances will be good for he is a pet of Mr. Platt, who runs the Republican machine in this State pretty much as he chooses.—Albany Times Union.

By the time the votes are counted he (President Harrison) will learn that neither alleged Republican enthusiasm nor supposed Democratic treachery is sufficient to succor a political organization which persists in going wrong. Even the colossal endeavors and gigantic intellect of a Peck may not, in the hour of trial, suffice to save him from merited defeat.—Brooklyn Eagle.

We are ground down by taxation, the sole aim of which is to enrich a few men whose purpose is to buy the Presidency for Harrison and to debauch American liberty. Better a thousand times "absolute Free Trade" than the present condition of things!—Birmingham Age-Herald.

The Pennsylvania Iron Company of Lancaster resumes work, the purchasers accepting a reduction from $4 to $3.65 a ton. It is incidents like this which move Terence V. Powderly to say in the September North American Review: "Our Government has enacted protective legislation in the interests of labor, if we read congressional speeches aright, but it quiescently allows the manufacturer to absorb the bulk of protection."—Utica Herald.

The Democratic state headquarters is formally opened, Chairman Sheehan of the campaign committee is in charge and that fact is sufficient to assure a hustling campaign. William F. Sheehan has never managed anything that terminated in defeat.—Utica Herald.

Whether the tinplate manufacture in this country thrives or fails, the consumer is bound to be mulcted, and he will not even have the satisfaction of knowing that he is contributing to the earnings of American labor.—Rochester Herald.

Indeed, if the Republicans are again successful and pursue their plan of looting the Treasury, the Tariff must be sent up several notches higher to secure adequate revenue, unless the money can be raised in other ways.—Utica Observer.

Credence is confounded at the perfectly unanswerable folly of Republican faith. Without a vestige of virtue it has laid claim to the wonderful warrant of God. Without a conception of patriotism, it has arrogated to itself all patriotism. With a record riddled from top to bottom by scandals and failures and preposterous lies, it has shamelessly, vociferously, claimed to be pure and true.—Chicago Herald.

"PROHIBITION WILL PROHIBIT." It takes the political support of at least ten Christian voters to keep each saloon going. The way to stop the saloons is for the Christian voter to withdraw his support.—Dayton (O.) Liberator.

There are laws forbidding the sale of strong drink to minors; but a man who has sold himself to the devil and gone into the rum business, cares little for law—his business is to sell all he can and make all he can out of it. And it is the business of men and women to teach their children, and guard their homes, and how to run traffic out of the land, into the pit of darkness where it belongs.—The Safeguard.

Each voter is responsible for the crime of liquor selling, nor can we screen ourselves from personal responsibility by inaction. Our not doing in this emergency becomes a terrible responsibility and a cowardly crime, both in its effect upon ourselves, and its terrible results upon the community.—Demorest's Magazine.

"As no political party that was on its knees to the slave power deserved support from honest, patriotic citizens so no political party that is on its knees to the whisky power deserves support from men of intelligence, conscience and honor."—Joseph Cook.

The Brewers' Journal for July published a list of sales during the years from 1885 to 1892 in the different states. Maine was not in the list, and still prohibition does not prohibit, according to some people and papers.—Union Signal.

Kansas with prohibition and one hundred thousand more people than Texas has one penitentiary and nine hundred and ninety-six prisoners. Texas with saloons and one hundred thousand less people than Kansas has two penitentiaries and three thousand convicts.—Union Signal.
