THE ANDOVER NEWS.

At a meeting of the Allegany County Publi- cation Association, held at Bolivar, April 29, 1892, the following rules were unanimously adopted to take effect the week beginning May 9, 1892:

Rule 1.—That not less than 5 cents per line be charged for resolutions of respect, and local notices of entertainments from which revenue is to be derived.

Rule 2.—Cards of thanks to be charged $1.

Rule 3.—Obituary notices, except such as are published as a matter of news, and lists of wed- ding presents to be charged for at not less than 5 cents per line.

Mr. P. A. Diffin left yesterday for her daughter's home in Camillus, N. Y.

Mr. Arthur Strang of Geneseo visited his sister Miss Louise Strang in Andover last Thursday and Friday.

Ira Holmes, the man who was scalded so badly at the Torpedo (Pa.) tannery, has since died. He leaves a wife and three children.

School Commissioner Stephen Pollard will examine teachers for second and third grade certificates at Andover on Saturday, November 5th.

Chauncey M. Depew is to speak at Hornellsville next Tuesday evening. The announcement is sufficient to fill Hornellsville with a crowd of people from all points in the vicinity.

The citizens of the village of Alfred Center are making preparations to ma- cadamize their streets. Durham & Boughton of Plainfield, N. J., were called by the trustees to make estimates for the work.

Immense quantities of potatoes have been shipped from Andover station during the past two weeks, and thousands of dollars have been paid to the farmers. The price has been 50 cents a bushel, with but slight variation.

The registry in Andover shows a decided gain over last year's figures. In District No. 1 last Saturday 338 names were placed on the list and in District No. 2, 282 names were written. The figures last year on the first day of the registry were: District No. 1, 305; District No. 2, 276.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Chase of Hornell- ville passed through here on train one last evening, enroute for Cleveland, O., where Mrs. Chase goes for medical attendance. She has been in serious health for several months past, and it became necessary to remove her to a place where the best of medical and sur- gical skill could be obtained. The many friends of herself and her husband in this place sincerely hope for good news regarding her health as a result of the treatment which she will receive in Cleveland.

The Village Trustees will soon put up a number of street lamps.

There is no politics in the statement that the Andover Cornet Band gave un- bounded satisfaction at the Republican meeting this week Monday evening. The band was heartily encored and applauded, and deserved it.

Every voter should see that his name is on the registry list. Next Saturday is the last day for registry, and if your name is not now on the list, you must go personally in order to have it done. You can't vote if you are not registered.

Phillip O'Connor of Chicago supplied many people in this place with Chicago papers containing accounts of the dedi- catory exercises of the World's Fair buildings, last week. The News came in for a share of favors.

The Republican meeting Monday evening was a rouser. Hon. Seth H. Milliken made a splendidly compre- hensive statement of the issues and the Alfred Centre Glee Club and the An- dover Cornet Band rendered inspiring music.

We understand Archie Macaulay and the railroad company have come to an agreement as to the amount Mr. Mac- aulay should receive as indemnity for his recent injuries, received while un- loading a hay press at the depot. The amount is stated to be $150.

Deputy Sheriff Smith captured the man who stole the money and watch from William and Edward Jones. Mr. Smith found him at Troy, N. Y., and arrived here this morning. The prision- er was taken before Justice Harman, where he waived examination and was sent to jail to await the action of the grand jury.

Last Friday evening a union social representing the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor of the Baptist and Presbyterian Churches, was held at the home of Thomas Comstock and Wm. Diffin. Two large loads went from this village. All who attended unite in praising the hospitality of the hosts, and all declare that the event was in everything a success.

A team of horses driven by Mr. Rich- ard McAndrew ran away Monday. They started to run on Elm street, and turned the corner onto Main, running as far as J. A. Hunt's store where they turned in onto the sidewalk, turning again into the street, however, as soon as they had passed the store; the team was brought to a stop a short distance further up the street. Mrs. McAndrew was in the wagon with her husband, and showed her good sense by "staying in," and escaping unhurt.

Democratic Meeting.

Hon. Wm. A. Wood of New York City will speak at Prest's opera house in this village, Wednesday evening, Nov. 2. Everybody invited. Music by the band.

Death of Mrs. Sophia Burrows.

Mrs. Sophia Burrows died at her home in this village at six o'clock Thursday evening Oct. 20, 1892, of peripura, or cap- illary hemorrhage. Deceased was born in 1816, and had lived in Andover village for over 50 years, the last 48 years being passed in the house where she died. Her maiden name was Cook, and she was the last of a family of eight child- ren. Her husband, Periam Burrows, and two sons, Periam and David, died in 1859, within about four weeks, of typhoid fever. Another son, William died in 1887. Mrs. Burrows was the mother of six children, of whom two, Mr. A. M. Burrows, and Mrs. Phebe Bundy, both of this place, survive.

The deceased was a most estimable woman, widely known and highly re- spected. She was an earnest christian, and had been a member of the An- dover M. E. church ever since its organ- ization. She was always deeply in- terested in church work, even during the later years of her life, and the Society loses one whose hands and mind were ever ready in any service for the advancement of God's work.

The funeral services were held Satur- day afternoon in the Methodist church, and were very largely attended. The business places of the village were closed during the services, as a mark of respect for the deceased, as well as for her son, A. M. Burrows, and also follow- ing a custom much practiced by And- over business men when the family of one of their number is afflicted by death. The services were conducted by Rev. G. W. Gibson, assisted by Rev. G. M. James and Rev. Wayne Brewster. Beau- tiful floral tributes were offered, and appropriate singing helped to make the services complete as a last tribute of respect to mother, friend and neigh- bor.

The remains were buried in the Lever Cemetery, beside those of the husband who went so long before.

Basket Picnic.

All ladies interested in making the carpet for the Methodist Church are in- vited to come Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock, bringing their lunch with them. Hot coffee will be served free. Don't forget thimbles, needles and scis- sors. Come early and stay late!
