THE ANDOVER NEWS.

Office up stairs in Prest's new Brick Block, Main Street.

At a meeting of the Allegany County Publishing Association, held at Bolivar, April 28, 1892, the following rules were unanimously adopted: Rule 1. That not less than 5 cents per line be charged for resolutions of respect, and local notices of entertainments from which revenue is to be derived. Rule 2. Cards of thanks to be charged $1. Rule 3. Ordinary notices, except such as are published as a matter of news, and lists of wedding presents to be charged for as not less than 5 cents per line.

A Few of Andover's Advantages.

- Five churches.
- A Union School and Academy that is not excelled by any school of its class as an institution of learning.
- A newspaper that prints the news and what it can to advertise the town and its advantages, and also believes in doing whatever will increase those advantages.
- An incorporated village, whose affairs are conducted on business principles, giving the inhabitants the best administration of village affairs and a low rate of taxation.
- Handsome residences, pleasant, shaded streets, good sidewalks, all contributing to make this one of the most desirable places of residence that can be found.
- An abundant supply of natural gas for household lights, the convenience of which cannot be overestimated.
- A perfect system of water works, insuring fire protection, fire and an unlimited quantity of the purest of spring water for domestic use.

Kilmer's Sure-Headache Cure will cure all kinds of headache. For sale by O. E. Andover, N. Y.

Mrs. M. A. Lawrence of Oranet is visiting relatives in town.

Martin O'Donnell of Elmira was in town the latter part of last week.

The County Publishers' Association will meet in Belmont this week Friday.

Rev. J. M. Leach is assisting at the revival services in Greenwood this week.

Ziba F. Cook has gone to Hornellsville, where he has a good position in a shoe store.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Joyce are the parents of an eight pound girl baby, who was born Monday night.

Miss Fannie Bronson and Miss Palmer of Ulysses, Pa., visited friends in town the latter part of last week.

County Court opens at Belmont a week from next Monday. Some of the cases will interest Andover people.

The Alfred Sun says the terra cotta works in that place have been rented to Chicago parties for a term of years.

W. E. Snyder has returned from the Eastman Business College at Poughkeepsie, having finished his course of study there.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Bundy are visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Durand, of Moscow, N. Y., and other friends in different places.

The electric light matter is being looked into, and before long we will doubtless know whether the plan outlined last week is practicable.

The family of the late W. C. Lever yesterday received a check for $1,800 from the Equitable Aid Union, being the amount of insurance carried by Mr. Lever in that organization.

There are many people in Andover who should be interested in the Allegany County Historical Society. T. N. Boyd is the member of the general committee for Andover, and will furnish information concerning the Society to any who may wish it.

We understand Assemblyman Robbins will fight the scheme to divide the county of Allegany. So far as we can learn the scheme to make the new county is composed more of rumor than anything else. No person can be found who is at the head of the movement.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Baptist church met with Mrs. Scott Prest last Wednesday evening. The attendance was very large, about one hundred persons taking supper, which was served in a large vacant room adjoining Mrs. Prest's apartments in the new brick block.

This year will be a sort of "off year in town meetings." The supervisors, town clerks, and commissioner of highways (in towns where only one commissioner of highways is chosen) who were elected last spring will serve two years, consequently no candidate for these offices will be nominated this year.

The Junior League of this place went to Elm Valley last Saturday for a sleigh ride. They were met at that place by the Wellsville Junior League. Both parties took provisions with them and held a "pic-nic" in the Elm Valley school house. The crowd numbered 133 persons, and the little folks all had a good time.

J. W. Crosby died at his home near this village, Saturday morning, Jan. 26, 1895, at 1:30 o'clock. Mr Crosby had been a sufferer for a long time, with liver trouble, and had been worse at times, and again better, for many months past, although in reality probably growing gradually worse all the time. He was confined to his bed only two or three days previous to his death. His age was 58 years. Short services were held at the house Monday at 8:30 o'clock a. m., and the remains were taken to Cohocton the same day, where funeral services and interment took place.

The drama, "The Lightning Rod Agent" will be produced by home talent at Prest's opera house in this village, Saturday evening, Feb. 9, under the auspices of the Citizens' Hose Company. Frank Cotton, a recent member of the Scott & Ransom Comedy Company, who played here four nights a short time ago, is in town and is taking an active part in arranging for the production of the play. He will also take the title role on the evening mentioned. "The Lightning Rod Agent" is a play that everyone will enjoy seeing, abounding with funny scenes, and containing enough sentiment and tragedy to make it interesting. The people of this place and vicinity should not fail to take advantage of the opportunity to see this play. Look for further announcements.

Those wishing a supply of Croft's & Reed's Medicated Toilet Soap can procure the same of Mrs. Lawrence, at the home of D. B. Spaulding. For sale—a good new milch cow, 3 years old. R. Hardy, Andover.

The C. L. S. C. will meet with Mrs. H. A. Benedict on Monday evening of next week at 7 o'clock. Program as follows: character sketch of Dryden, Mrs. H. A. Benedict; quotations from Dryden; usual amount of work in the Chautauquan; paper, England in the time of the Revolution, Mrs. R. E. Burrows; reading, selection from Tennyson, Miss Millie Barney; table talk, each relate a current event as found in the Chautauquan.

The News made an error last week in publishing the names of officers of the Steuben County Farmers' Alliance. It should have stated that it was the Farmers' Alliance Fire Insurance Company of Steuben county that elected Sanford Mead president, Gordon Pease one of the executive committee, etc. This is a separate and distinct organization from the Farmers' Alliance. Last year this insurance company made a gain of $925,604 in amount of insurance carried.

During the past week Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Boyd have been called upon to bear a greater burden of affliction than usually falls to the lot of any person at one time. Thursday night, January 24, their youngest son Freddy, aged 1 year and 2 months, was taken away during an attack of membranous croup. The suddenness and severity of the blow nearly prostrated Mr. and Mrs. Boyd. Their only remaining child, Earl, aged 2 years and 10 months, had also been ill, but was thought to have rallied sufficiently to warrant belief that he would soon be well, but he was taken suddenly worse with the same disease soon after his younger brother had been laid to rest, and notwithstanding all that could be done in the way of medical treatment and care, he, too, was taken to dwell with Him who knoweth and doeth all things for the best, passing away about 6 o'clock Sunday evening. The funeral of Freddy was held Saturday, and that of Earl took place Tuesday. Both caskets were laid in the same grave. The floral tributes on both occasions were profuse, and the attendance at the services was very large. Rev. G. M. Janes officiated. It is utterly impossible for their friends to realize the great sorrow that has come to Mr. and Mrs. Boyd, but the afflicted ones have as great a measure of sympathy as can possibly be shown and felt under the circumstances. Both of the little ones were bright, pretty and attractive, and their death will long be mourned outside of the immediate family of their parents.
