THE ANDOVER NEWS.

Office up stairs in Prest's new Brick Block, Main Street.

Don't forget the min-strels Friday evening.

Miss Anna O'Leary was in Wellsville Friday.

Miss Alice Whitney was in Hornellsville Saturday.

J. J. Russell of Scio was in town a few hours Monday.

Mrs. A. C. Frisbey has been visiting in Wellsville a few days this week.

Mrs. Addie Evans of New York is visiting at the home of J. C. Bassett.

The bicyclists of Wellsville talk of building a cinder track from that place to Scio.

Michael Folsing is moving from this place to South Bethlehem, Albany County.

The Citizens' National Bank, of Wellsville, began business Monday morning.

The Mutual Gas Company is preparing to drill another well on Ellery C. Dyke's farm.

E. C. Bently has improved in some respects during the past week, but he is still very sick.

Miss Wilma Wright left this morning for Cleveland, Ohio, where she will have a position in a millinery store.

Mrs. Whitney, of Mt. Morris, has been visiting her daughter, Miss Alice Whitney, during the past few days.

John Davis is seriously ill with pneumonia. At present writing there is a slight improvement in his condition.

Myron T. Scudder, Inspector of the University of the State of New York, is visiting our school today, (Wednesday).

Kerosene oil has advanced in price two cents a gallon. But we could not expect dollar oil to sell at a fifty cent price.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Baptist church will hold a sociable at the residence of H. Scott Wednesday evening, March 27.

B. A. Barney has returned from his medical studies in New York, and will continue his studies with Dr. Comstock for the present.

Miss May Woodruff of Grand Rapids, Mich., principal of the Kindergarten school of Wellsville, is visiting at the home of A. J. Brown.

E. Harris of Scio was in town Monday. It is understood that Mr. Harris will drill some wells for oil in this territory this spring.

G. M. Baker, who lives a short distance west of this village, is very ill with typhoid pneumonia, and slight hopes of his recovery are entertained.

Last Saturday the codicil to the will of the late Marsh Bundy was duly admitted to probate. No appearance was made by those who had contemplated contesting the validity of the codicil.

K. S. Black and son of Scio were in town Monday. Mr. Black has shipped to this place a quantity of lumber from his mill in Scio, for use in building derricks, and he intends to drill some wells in this territory.

The sale of mileage books has been discontinued on the Erie and several other roads, and passengers will now pay the regular rates. There seems little doubt that the profits of the railroad companies will be cut down under this arrangement.

The Y. P. S. C. E. of the Presbyterian church will give a social at the residence of H. Mourhess on Wednesday evening, March 27th. Supper will be served from 6 to 8 o'clock, after which a very interesting program will be given. All are cordially invited.

We regret to learn of the death of Joseph W. O'Connor, of Chicago, which occurred March 12th, 1895. Joseph was 42 years old. He was born in Wellsville, and lived and attended school in Andover. He was a brother of Philip O'Connor, and has also two other brothers, James and John, and one sister, Maggie.

Secure seats at L. A. Burrows' drug store for Friday evening's minstrels.

E. N. Hallock of Bradford has been in town for a few days. Mr. Hallock is leasing land for the purpose of putting down some oil wells.

Miss Fannie Spaulding went to Ulysses, Pa., last Thursday, being called there by the illness of Mrs. R. C. Grames, who died before Miss Spaulding arrived.

Henry Stevens and daughter Florence, of Oramel, visited friends here during the past week. Mr. Stevens has returned home, but his daughter will remain a few weeks.

James H. Martin, one of the oldest, most popular and best known Erie conductors, died at his home in Forestville, near Dunkirk, Friday. His age was sixty years, forty of which were spent in the service of the Erie railway.

Gov. Morton has signed the bill appropriating $75,000 for additional buildings for the Genesee Normal School. In doing so he warns the legislature that this is not the proper time for appropriations for any but the most necessary purposes.

The state tax of Allegany county this year amounts to $31,091.72. The amount of money received from the state, for school purposes alone is $40,438.40 or $9,347.68 more coming to the county from the state than is paid by the county to the state.

Wm. A. Baldwin of Wellsville died in Rochester last Friday evening. His remains were brought to Wellsville and the funeral was held yesterday. Mr. Baldwin was a member of the firm of Baldwin Bros., bankers, who failed in business last summer.

The boxing and wrestling exhibition at the opera house last Saturday evening did not draw a crowded house.

Those who attended say it was a fair exhibition of the kind. Jack Leonard won the boxing match against Patsy Connors of Youngstown, in two rounds.

It is reported that John M. Shay of Washington, Pa., and W. J. Fox of Oramel, will put down a test well in the town of New Hudson as soon as the weather will permit. These gentlemen are experienced oil men and say the indications are favorable for oil in that section.

Mrs. R. C. Grames of Ulysses, Pa., whose serious illness was mentioned last week, died on Thursday, March 14. Funeral services were held at Wellsville on Monday of this week. Many from this place attended. Rev. Mr. Grames has a large circle of friends in Andover who deeply sympathize with him in his affliction.

P. C. Lynch and P. L. Lynch will open a grocery, provision and feed store in P. C. Lynch's building on Greenwood street. The feed department will be started next week in the market building, and after a short time the new firm will occupy the building Mr. Lynch now lives in and will then add the other departments mentioned. A strictly cash business will be done.

Many people in Andover will remember Miss Minnie Robinson, a former teacher in Andover Union School. Soon after leaving here she was married to Charles C. Wiley, of Springwater, N. Y. News now comes to us that her husband died at the above-named place, Feb. 26th. Mrs. Wiley's many friends here will join in sympathy for her in her affliction.

The great comedy drama, "The Lightning Rod Agent," will be produced at Ulysses Wednesday evening, March 27th, and at Whitesville Thursday evening, March 28th, under the direction of Frank Cotton, the favorite comedian. He will be assisted by the same cast that appeared in this place a few weeks ago. The entertainment will be deserving of crowded houses at both places.

John Johnston, whose family have resided in this place for some time past, has rented a farm in Alfred and moved his family to that place. Mr. Johnston has held a position on a western railroad, and returned to this place last Thursday. A day or two later, he and his wife drove to Alfred to make arrangements for renting the farm. Between here and that place there is a hill, and the bank descends from the road into a creek some distance below.

When going down this hill the horse slipped, fell over the bank, and horse, carriage and occupants landed in the creek, with everything wrong side up.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnston were underneath the carriage, and it was with considerable difficulty that they extricated themselves, which they finally did. Strange to say very little damage was done, but Mr. Johnston probably does not care to run into the "ditch" again, especially while going down grade.

A gross of Hood's Sarsaparilla just received at Benedict & Van Noy's.

Sunday evening an alarm of fire called out the hose company and a large crowd of people. It also caused congregations at the churches to be dismissed a little more hurriedly than usual. The cause of the trouble was found to be a chimney burning out on Stillman Burdick's house, and the excitement was soon over. Monday afternoon another alarm sounded, and the depot roof was found to be on fire. The blaze was extinguished with pails of water, with no damage resulting.

The Oil City Derrick, reviewing oil operations for February, says: "During the month of February 213 wells were completed in the oil fields of New York, Pennsylvania, West Virginia and southeastern Ohio; 55 of them were destitute of oil in paying quantities, while the total daily output for the last day of the month is placed at 3,672 bbls. Compared with January, this represents a decrease of 83 wells, 2,166 bbls. production and 21 dry holes."

W. J. Hoyt of Wellsville and W. H. Phillips, of the firm of Phillips & Owen, of this place, leave tomorrow night for Philadelphia and New York to visit the dry goods markets in search of new goods for the spring campaign. Watch for them next week. They may have something you are in need of.

To those in need of watch and clock repairing and cleaning: Please leave the same at Mrs. Martindale's Millinery store and it will receive prompt attention. CLARK BOYD.

All persons having accounts with the undersigned are hereby given notice to call and settle, as it is nearly time to buy spring goods and the money is needed. MRS. E. C. MARTINDALE.
