The American steamship line has it as an invariable rule that no captain or other officer, sailor or employee intoxicating liquors as drink. A famous captain on one of its great lines recently said to one of our leaders: "Many a time has a .our leaders: glass of whiskey wrecked a ship."

After a fierce conflict the anti-cigar ette bill passed the California legislature. "There are a million dollars at stake in the passage of the bill" suid one defender of the cigarette. "There are a million boys at stake also," said Mrs. Purvis, the W. C. T. U. representative, and she continued to work for its passage, though threatened with removal from the floor of the

When labor is most disturbed when he demand for advanced wages is the loudest, when strikes are the most frequent; when hunger and misery are most rife in the homes of the poor, the saloon flourishes still. There may be no bread at home, but there is always beer and whiskey at the bar, and the men who consider themselves the victims of circum stances or the "thralls" of capital equander their earnings and spend their savings in these dens.

"It must be recorded to the credit of Washington, that intoxicating liquor was served at fewer houses to New Year's callers this year than ever before, and among those who enter-tained their callers without offering them intoxicants was at least one member of the Cabinet circle—Mrs. Carlisle."

The most finished negro scholar in the world to-day, according to the "Boston Transcript," is Edward Wilmort Blyden, who represented Liberia at the Court of St. James. He is a valued contributer to many English magazines, is a linguist of pronounced ability, and is one of the most profound thinkers the negro race has yet produced. He is the author of a work entitled, "Christianity. Islam and the Negro Race," which The most finished negro scholar in ty, Islam and the Negro Race," which has had two editions in London. Dr. Blyden is a pure negro, without a trace of white blood in his yeins.

Men worry themselves to death. Of ten when a man is ill his anxiety about the future of his family prevents his getting better of his disease. This anxiety is something entirely beyond the control of the most skilled physician while if the patient had a reliable policy the relief from all worry about the future might turn the scale and he would recover. W. H. Crandall, district manager of the Equitable, can give you such a policy.

Those who never read the advertisements in their newspapers miss more than they presume. Jonathan Keni-son, of Bolan, Worth Co., Iowa, who item in his paper about how a promi nent German citizen of Ft. Madison had been cured. He procured the sam medicine, and to use his own words, "It cured me right up." He also says, "A neighbor and his wife were both sick in bed with rheumatism. Their boy was over to my house and said they were so bad he had to do the cooking. I told him of Chamberlain's Pain Balth and how it had cured me. He got a bottle and it cured them up in a week. 50 cent bottles for sale by L. A. Burrows. Welcome Spring Time—A Cheap Excursion to Buffalo.

It seems almost incredible that whole village could be destroyed by fire within the space of about four hours. but the later reports from the fire which occurred at Canaseraga last Thursday morning show that this was the case there, and that the first reports were not exaggerated

Fifty-six buildings were consumed and thirty-four families rendered home less and desolate. Hardly anything could be saved. The total loss will reach $135,000, with insurance between $80,000 and $100,000. All the churches and school buildings were saved. A meat market, jewelry store and black smith shop are the only business places left standing. The only accidents were Mr. Radkee, ankle sprained or broken, and Mrs. Martha Dunham, face burn.

The office of the Canaseraga Time was among the unfortunate, but we understand Brother Miller has already taken steps to replace the plant. He will have the sympathy of all his newspaper brethren, and all will hope to see him quickly reestablished.

As a matter of course, the work of rebuilding the burned district will be gin at once, and doubtless before fall, practically the whole village will be rebuilt, probably with buildings better adapted to the needs of a growing vil-

The list of those who suffered from the fire numbers fifty-two persons, many of whom sustained losses on two or three pieces of property.

D.ath of L. C. Bentley

Lyman C. Bentley died at his home in this village on Thursday, March 28th, 1895, of cystitis peritonitis. His age was 63 years. Mr. Bentley had been ill for a number of weeks, having been taken at first with pneumonia, from which he recovered, and it was thought he would soon be out again; but other diseases speedily followed, and for a number of days previous to his death it was not believed he could rally.

The funeral was held on Saturday, at the house, Rev. J. M. Leach officiating. Mr. Bentley was a veteran of the civil war, a member of Seaman Post, No. 481, of this town, and the burial services were conducted by the Post.

The deceased was a well known and respected citizen of this village. He had lived here many years, and his friends were numbered by scores. He will be missed by a large circle of neighbors and acquaintances

The New Road Project

About the first of March, the applica tion for the continuation of the Shovel Hollow road up the valley to the Slate Creek road was made to the Highway Commissioners of Andover, Greenwood and Hartsville. This the Commissioner of Greenwood did not favor, and last Monday Attorney Crayton L. Earley made a motion at a Special Term of Supreme Court at Buffalo, for the appointment of three disinterested Com missioners to determine upon the necessity of laying out the road and assess the damages therefor. This motion, though opposed on every point possi ble, by the people of Greenwood, who were represented by Attorneys A. M. had been troubled with rheumatism in Burrell, of Canisteo, and Kellogg of his back, arms and shoulders read an Greenwood, was granted, and now the matter rests with those desiring the road to present their reasons for it. If there is sufficient demand for it, it will be laid out; if neglected by those interested, it will not. Greenwood does not seem to claim that the road will be useless, but is not willing to share the expense, which, according to the intent and expectations of those interested in laying it out, will be between two and three hundred dollars. As the Commis-sioners have larger discretionary powers than under the old law, and there is no disposition to crowd any more on Greenwood than shall be proper under the circumstances, we can hardly see why Greenwood should go to great expense for attorneys, etc., in opposition to this road, as it is to be left to disin-terested persons who are expected to act fairly and for the good of all con-

These Commissioners will probably meet and examine the proposed route, and hear what is to be said for and against the project, some time this month.

Mrs. L. C. Bentley wishes to extend her sincere thanks to the friends and heighbors who so kindly assisted during her sad bereavement especially to Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Fowler, also to those who furnished floral offerings.

Last Saturday evening about forty of the friends of the Rev. J. Kenyon gave him a surprise at his home, it being his 76th birthday, and also the 40th anniversary of his coming to this place. Very few are here now of the older class that were here forty years ago. Since that time he has attended over 1,200 funerals and married over 300 couples. There was no one at his surprise on Saturday even ing who was at his reception 40 years ago. A good supper was served and a very enjoyable time was had, all wishing the Elder many more years of happiness and prosperity
