THE ANDOVER NEWS.

Office up stairs in Prest's new Brick Block, Main Street.

Mrs. Joanna Fulmer was taken seriously ill this morning.

Hose Company Drill and Reception this evening.

Mrs. C. S. Hall of Wellsville was in town last Thursday.

"The Woven Web," May 30th. See seats at L. A. Burrows' drug store.

Mrs. A. C. Crandall is visiting relatives and friends in Olean for a few weeks.

Ellen Harder and Miss Lotta Lee of Wellsville were in town a few hours Monday evening.

Misses Ella McLaughlin and Rose were in Hornellsville the latter part of last week.

Mrs. Anna Hinchey of Wellsville visited relatives and friends in town during the past week.

W. E. Snyder has been very ill for a week or more. He is somewhat improved now, and his early recovery is expected.

There is no license in Wellsville, and nobody who was very "dry" broke a liquor store in that place the other night and stole a quantity of jag.

The Standard Dictionary was delivered to Andover subscribers last Friday by the agent, G. H. Crandall of Andover.

Those who bought a copy will regret it, which may not be the case with many who did not. How a copy may be secured at any time and orders left at the News office receive prompt attention.

There was a man in our town who was so wondrous wise, He left his winter flannels off, Because 'twas time for flies. But when he saw the "cold wave" flag, With all his might and main He jumped his "bike" and flew down home, And put them on again.

Chas. Magee of Salamanca was in town Sunday. The dog poisoner is getting in his work in Wellsville.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Sweet of Wellsville are visiting friends in town today. Don't forget the Memorial Service at the M. E. church next Sunday evening, May 25th. Everybody is invited to be present.

William Snyder, father of Jesse, John and W. F. Snyder, whose illness was mentioned last week, has improved somewhat, and it is now thought he may recover.

Miss Mary Wilcox of this place will hold a position in the Wellsville Academy next year, and we are confident that at least one place in the faculty will be well filled.

The Political Equality Club will meet with Mrs. E. S. Bradley next Tuesday evening. The annual election of officers will take place at this meeting, and every member is requested to be present.

The Mutual Company finished its well on Ellery Updyke's farm on Monday, and the well was shot yesterday. It is good for a small amount of gas and will be a fair oil producer. This company has another rig up on J. J. Warfield's farm.

If you haven't secured a ticket for the Hose Company's Drill and Reception, which takes place this evening, there is yet time to do so. The Drill begins at 9 o'clock sharp, and will be worth seeing. Grand march at 9:30. Prof. Davis will furnish the music.

T. McTighe will return to Andover to live. He has exchanged property in Hornellsville for the place owned by the late Mrs. S. K. Hale on Hill street, which lately passed into the possession of Mrs. C. A. Dolson. Mr. McTighe will remove his family here at once, and we understand he will continue to travel on the road.

The Andover alumni association has a reputation for providing some of the most enjoyable entertainments that have ever been given in Andover, and "The Woven Web," which will be produced by this association, Thursday evening, May 30th, is intended to eclipse all previous efforts. The cast is made up of the very best of home talent, and the play cannot fail to please all who see it.

L. G. Raymond, editor of the Angelica Republican, will prepare a paper entitled "The Press," and present the same at the Centennial Celebration to be held in Wellsville June 26 and 27. Similar papers will be prepared by a member of each of the other professions and trades, and the whole will be a valuable collection of statistics concerning Allegany's growth and progress during the past 100 years.

The commissioners who will decide the matter of laying out a new road through Shovel Hollow, and into Greenwood, which has been described in these columns, met here last Wednesday, and are holding another meeting today, at C. L. Earley's law office. The meeting today is held for the purpose of listening to the arguments, etc., which will be presented for and against the project.

The Women's edition of the Alfred Sun appeared last Thursday, and we do not hesitate to say that it was the best Women's edition of any paper that has been published in this section. As has been the case with every issue of any paper edited by women, the Sun was not a complete success in the amount of news matter it contained, but as a literary production it was decidedly so. The paper contained many illustrations, and everything about it was up to a high standard.

Jeremiah S. Cartwright, one of the oldest residents of this township, died at the home of his son, La Fayette Cartwright, in the town of Alfred, on Thursday, May 16th, 1895, aged 84 years. He was born in Brookfield, Madison county, N. Y., and came to this county with his parents in the early '20's, his father settling on Benjamin Hill, not far from where the subject of this notice died. He married Huldah Clair, by whom he had seven children. Of the sons two died in the army in the war for the Union, and La Fayette and Darrell survive. Of the daughters only Mrs. Delight Partridge remains. He also leaves a widow and several children by a second marriage. The funeral services were conducted on Saturday by Rev. G. M. Jones, and the interment was in the Eddy cemetery.

THE KELLEY SHOES

Have gotten to Andover and can be found only one place in town. That is our Shoe Department and we predict a great sale for them in Andover as in New York and Chicago, when first introduced.

The Kelley Shoes from an artistic standpoint, are surely the perfection of style and fine shoemaking.

If you are the owner of a homely foot you will not recognize that pair of feet when dressed up in Kelley's Shoes.

Don't buy a new pair of shoes until you have seen our new foot wear which is now ready.
