Fenton Olive of Cuba has been appointed a special Fish and Game Protector for this county.

Prof. A. J. Glennie, principal of the Bolivar Union School, was married a few days ago to Miss Mary Cowles of that place.

The largest farm in the state is owned by Congressman Wilbur, and is located near Oneonta. It contains 6,400 acres of land under cultivation.

A company of Pittsburg gentlemen have bought the Potter farm of 50 acres near the Chautauqua Assembly grounds and will build up a summer resort.

A three-year-old son of a Mr. Thomas of Hornellsville, was drowned in a mill race at that place a few days ago. Mr. Thomas' home is near the race and the little one wandered away and fell into the race.

The Presbyterian church at Portville was struck by lightning and burned to the ground last week Wednesday. The church contained a $1,600 pipe organ. The total loss is $15,000, partially covered by insurance.

Assemblyman Fred A. Robbins of Angelica will deliver the 4th-of-July oration at Arcade, Judge S. McArthur Norton of Friendship at Franklinville and Dist. Atty. Charles H. Brown of Belmont at Rosburg.

The New York, Lake Erie & Western railroad has paid to the city of Dunkirk some $6,000, the amount of the railroad company's assessment for the Third street pavement, with costs of a suit that has lasted some fourteen years. The original assessment was $2,548.47. This shows the "economy" of litigation.

The Cuba Temperance Assembly will hold its seventeenth annual meeting August 13 to 19. There will be addresses by such noted lecturers as John G. Wooley, Rev. Dr. Russell Conwell, Rev. Dr. P. S. It is said that there are in the state of Kansas twenty well-built towns without a single inhabitant. Saratoga, in that state, has a $30,000 opera house, a large brick hotel, a $20,000 school-house, and a number of fine business houses, and yet there is not a single person to claim that city as his home. At Fargo a herder and his family constitute the sole population of what was once an incorporated city.

Wm. A. Delaney, who claimed Boston as a residence, borrowed a bicycle of Prof. A. D. Howe at Whitesville, Wednesday, promising to return it that day—but he never came back. The Prof. discovered him in the Centennial crowd here Thursday and secured a warrant for his arrest and about the same time Mr. Delaney of Boston suddenly left town. Saturday, Deputy Sheriff Johnson captured the thief and wheel at Angelica and brought them back to Wellsville. Before Justice Ward the Boston man was allowed to plead guilty to petit larceny and was sentenced to the county jail for 45 days. —Wellsville Reporter.

Close Call for a Burn-out.

A chimney on the residence of J. Driscoll burned out yesterday afternoon about three o'clock. It was thought from the great amount of smoke emitted that the fire was not confined to the chimney, and the hose company was called out. The boys had a line of hose laid but the water was not turned on and in a short time the danger was thought to be over. At ten o'clock last evening an alarm was given and it was found that the roof of Mr. Driscoll's house was on fire. The burning chimney had started a smoldering fire in woodwork in the garret, and when discovered the flames were breaking through the roof. The hose company was again called out and a stream of water soon ended the trouble. It is lucky for Mr. Driscoll, the owners of the adjoining property, and the people of Andover in general, that the fire was discovered when it was and not a few hours later, also that our boys can get a stream of water onto a fire in quicker time than you can say Jack Robinson, and lastly that we have something to fight fire with.

The Centennial Celebration.

Apparently there were very few people in this vicinity who did not attend the Centennial Celebration at Wellsville, which was held last Wednesday and Thursday. The program of exercises was carried out substantially as advertised, and the one hundredth anniversary of the settlement of Allegany county was celebrated with all of the enthusiasm and vim which the occasion demanded. The speeches were listened to by large crowds of people and the addresses, together with the Centennial Poem and Centennial Hymn, gave evidence of much ability and thought on the part of the authors.

The parade on Thursday was unique and contained many appropriate features.

The museum of relics probably contributed to the success of the celebration to a greater degree than any other one feature, and the credit for this belongs, as we understand it, entirely to the women. They certainly did their part of the work well, and the museum contained a greater number of articles illustrative of pioneer life than was thought to exist in Allegany county at the present time.

Andover did her full share in supplying relics for the museum, and many of the ladies here did a great deal of hard work in collecting and arranging articles for exhibition. Among those who contributed largely to the success of the undertaking were Mrs. F. S. Clark and Mrs. A. B. Richardson.

Altogether the celebration was a great success, and the people of Wellsville, as well as those throughout the county who assisted in making it so, are entitled to much praise for performing the work necessary in carrying out such a mammoth undertaking.

A. P. Wood Sadly Afflicted.

A. P. Wood, a well known citizen of this place, has been suffering for a few days past with aberration of the mind, which it is hoped will prove but temporary. Late last Saturday evening he complained of feeling badly, and in a short time he was completely out of his head, and threatened violence to members of his family, who were obliged to keep out of his way. Mr. Wood secured a rope and left the house. He escaped from a window without attracting attention, and had been gone several minutes when his absence was discovered. As soon as his family became aware of his escape a search was instituted, a number of neighbors being called on to join, among whom was his father, N. P. Wood, whose residence adjoins that of his son. Search was made in all directions, and finally Mr. Wood was found by his father, lying prostrate under a tree in the latter's yard. He was carried home and a physician summoned. All day Sunday the patient continued in the same state of mind, but Monday he began to improve, and at present writing his mental equilibrium seems partially restored. He is weak, however, and at the best will not be fully recovered for some time.

Death of Mrs. B. S. Brundage.

Jennie, wife of B. S. Brundage of this place, died at her home on Sunday, June 30, 1895, aged 30 years. Mrs. Brundage had been ill over two years, and her case had attracted much attention from members of the medical fraternity, some of whom were eminent physicians. She had consulted practitioners in many places, including several large cities, but was unable to receive benefit from any source. After death occurred it was thought advisable to perform an autopsy, and this was done by Dr. Comstock, assisted by Drs. Stillman and O'Donnell of this place and Dr. Williamson of Canisteo. The autopsy showed the trouble to be sarcoma, or a tumor of fleshy consistence, made up of cells—one of the rarest variety of tumors. The tumor weighed about twenty pounds. A nearly correct diagnosis of the case had been made by some of the physicians who had examined and attended her, but this variety of tumor is seldom if ever successfully treated if taken at the start, differing as it does from the more prevalent forms of similar disease.

Mrs. Brundage was born in Cameron, N. Y. She was married to Mr. Brundage in 1884, and after marriage the couple lived in Greenwood until about a year ago when they removed to this place. The deceased leaves a husband and one seven year-old son, also a mother, Mrs. W. C. Williamson of Cameron; one sister, Mrs. W. C. Dickey of Hornellsville; four brothers, Dr. O. S. Williamson, H. A. Williamson, J. C. Williamson, all of Elmira, and C. L. Williamson of Cameron.

Funeral services were held at the house yesterday forenoon, Rev. J. M. Leach officiating, assisted by Rev. Wayne Brewster. The remains were taken to Greenwood for burial. Mrs. Brundage has been a great sufferer, but every possible attention has been given her, and her sufferings, although great, have been alleviated as much as was possible by human skill and tender care.

Much sympathy is expressed for the husband, son, mother and all other relatives of the deceased, by their many friends and all who are acquainted with the case.

Card of Thanks.

The husband and relatives of the late Mrs. B. S. Brundage return thanks to the many friends and neighbors who have rendered assistance during the illness of the deceased. They feel that they owe a debt of gratitude which can never be paid, and wish to make acknowledgment of the indebtedness, and assure the friends that their kindness is not forgotten.
