ONE DOLLAR A YEAR.

HAMILTON C. NORRIS, EDITOR

ANDOVER, N. Y., July 10, 1895.

Light summer engagements sometimes bring on heavy pitched battles in fall and winter.

The gasoline car is no mean rival of the trolley car and other rapid transit lines to the hereafter.

Ex-Senator Ingalls is talking too much for a man who considers his political future satisfactory.

Cuba has got her second provisional president; but she doesn't appear to have much to preside over yet.

The English are now trying to decide whether Mr. Bayard, Mr. Eustis or Mr. Croker is the typical American.

Mrs. O'Leary, who milked the cow that kicked the lamp that set Chicago afire in 1871, died in that city last week.

Well, suppose Russia and Japan do go to war; it will put money in the pockets of the people of the United States.

Senator Gorman is the only man ever accused of bossing two opposing parties at one the same time in the same state.

There is a growing suspicion that the noisiest politician is usually the one who is always ready to entertain a cash proposition from the opposition.

Kentuckians are not entirely taken up with politics. A murderer was baptized and hung in the presence of 5,000 interested spectators at Jackson, Ky., the other day.

Another daughter was born to President and Mrs. Cleveland Sunday afternoon. Three girls now grace the President's household, Ruth, aged 4, Esther, aged 2, and Sunday's newcomer.

McKinley is brave, anyway. He has refused to become a buckster for the disposal of Presidential patronage to those who control, or claim to control votes in the nominating convention.

Hon. John Wanamaker is anxious to introduce some bargain counter methods in the U. S. Senate. If they include a clearing sale of all the shopworn and useless material we're with you, John.

The Michigan publisher who reduced the price of his paper, and announced that those who had paid in advance could either have a portion of their money refunded or their subscription extended, is either a very conscientious man or he had very few subscribers.

The Cleveland administration does not believe in distributing free seeds to the farmers of the country, so that practice will come to an end, so long as Mr. Cleveland continues to guide the ship of state. We are not aware that any practical good ever resulted from the custom, anyway.

Gradually does the south receive the immigration that formerly tended westward. Baltimore people have just arranged for the colonization of several thousand families in Wilcox and Irwin counties. The strange thing about it is that the colonists are to come from central and western states.

One had a right to think that the days of the rattle king and cowboy were practically ended in this country; but that the notion is a mistake appears in the fact that 118,000 acres of New Mexico have been leased for 10 years by one man for the pasturage of 27,000 cattle. The business will require 20 resident families and many cowboys.

Nearly one-third of the people in the United States are church communicants, but it is difficult to make a man who is in the habit of swapping horses believe it.

Chicago papers maintain that the new Yerkes telescope will bring the moon within fifty miles of Chicago. If that is so, we look to see the moon annexed to the Windy City and subdivided into city lots before next year.

Now for the Oil Region and Big Bridge.

Sunday, July 14th, the Erie will run one of their popular and pleasant excursions to Bradford and the Great Kinzua Bridge.

This trip is one of those pleasant outings that one never tires of. When every other point fails to interest, this holds fast and crowns all others with its amazing sights and scenes.

The train will leave Andover at 9:38 a. m. Round trip only $1.25.
