

THE ANDOVER NEWS.

ONE DOLLAR A YEAR.

HAMILTON C. NORRIS, EDITOR
ANDOVER, N. Y., July 31, 1895.

Nebraska's apple crop this year is the largest ever raised in that State. Stanley may find darker secrets in the British Parliament than he did in Africa.

President Cleveland does not object to the use of a silver rattle by Baby Marion.

The Spanish minister seems to be determined to have Secretary Olney umpire that Cuban game.

It is believed that Tom Reed shakes hands with himself oftener than any of the other Presidential candidates.

Too much secrecy in the conduct of government affairs usually results in making the turn-on-the-light cry popular.

The number of generals reported killed in Cuba would seem to indicate that both sides have more generals than privates.

Garfield traveled to the White House over the Ohio Senatorial route. Perhaps that's what's the matter with Joseph Foraker.

When Col. Fred Grant said: "I believe there are more good democrats than had republicans," which party was the most complimented?

Director General Davis broke the record in his twenty-volume report of the World's Fair. It is now in order to offer a prize to any one who will read the report.

Ex-Senator Sanders, of Montana, says the republicans of that state want John Sherman nominated for President; but Mr. Sanders has no way of making people believe it.

When a man can't think of anything else to say he finds fault; when a woman can't think of anything—no, that won't work; who ever heard of a woman being in that predicament?

The editor of the Chicago News deserves to lose several million subscribers. He says that there are only 105,000 male Americans who are not either bow-legged, knock-kneed, or spindle-shanked.

It seems really too bad that some of our Senators and Congressmen should have to travel all the way to London to find a place wicked enough in which to enjoy themselves. Do the Washington dens close when Congress adjourns?

Eastward the progressive holder-up of trains pushes his enterprise. He no longer confines his operations to the Rockies and the prairies, and the sparsely settled South-west. He is moving toward the Atlantic. Six of him boarded a train on the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern railroad, near Toledo recently, and by the usual persuasion of pointed revolvers compelled the express messenger to unlock his safe and deliver the treasure in his care. Mr. Pinkerton, head of the detective agency that bears that name, not long ago declared that the inadequacy of the laws punishing train robbers was responsible for the large increase in this sort of crime. He predicted that unless something decided was done to repress them, train robbers would move east and engage in their lucrative business near the populous and wealthy centers. He mentioned the suburbs of New York city as a particularly alluring field for train robbers. "It looks as though Mr. Pinkerton's prophecies were to be fulfilled."
