

Endover News.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 14, 1895.

Says the Boston Transcript: "The bicycle is doing more to bring about dress reform than centuries of exhortation, even accompanied by heroic example by Mrs. Bloomer, could accomplish."

The report of the public schools of the United States for last year shows that there were in attendance 15,530,268 pupils. The country is safe upon this showing alone, which exceeds that of any other nation on the earth.

Argentina offers prizes of $20,000, $10,000 and $5,000 for plans for a legislative building. The competition is open to the architects of the world, and the prize winner will get the construction of the building.

"Now it is rumored," notes New York Mail and Express, "that a movement is on foot in down town business circles to employ mature and plain women in place of the young and pretty girls as typewriters, operators and assistant bookkeepers."

A large number of prizes are offered by the society for the Encouragement of National Industry of France, for various achievements. Competition is open to all nationalities. Among them is one of $400 for a motor of some kind weighing less than 59 kilograms, (110 pounds) to the horse power.

An Englishman at Jackson, Tenn., has invented a machine which it is alleged will revolutionize the compressing of cotton. The machine takes the cotton direct from the gin, explains the Louisville Courier-Journal, and compresses it on an iron spindle, getting a 500-pound bale into the size of a flour barrel.

Of the professional classes of this country, such as doctors, lawyers, teachers, journalists and clergymen, forty per cent have less than $1,000 capital; fifty per cent have in a capital of from $1,000 to $10,000; nine per cent have from $10,000 to $100,000, and only one per cent enjoy the possession of more than $100,000.

Niagara, according to the New York Mail and Express, represents a potential force equal to that of all the coal mined in the world, computed at 7,000,000 horse-power, all of which has been running to waste for countless ages and aeons since the cataract first blew its trumpet from the steep and hung the rainbow amid its ascending spray.

The economist may rejoice that so much working energy has so long been thrown away, but a sentiment of exaltation that some part of it is now to be girded in the harness of the world's industry is more correctly in order. Skillful engineers declare that the available power of the falls, leaving its peculiar grandeur entirely unimpaired, will turn every wheel, run every trolley and light every city within a radius of 230 miles, and one of the most eminent among them says it can be conveyed in any desired volume as far away as Chicago or New York. The first wheel has just been set in motion, equal to the transmission of 5,000 horse-power, to be increased according to existing charters something like one hundred fold as the need for it is developed.

Henceforth Niagara possesses an industrial interest equal to that which it has always had as one of the most majestic spectacles on the globe, its latter attribution shorn of none of its glories by the creation of its new and stupendous utilities. The success of the work there shows that all waterfalls can be harnessed to production and made to do a part of man's work, and they will be, one after another, all over the world, producing industrial effects, comparable with those following the invention of the steam engine.

Large Trust Deed.
Duluth, Minn., Aug. 12.—One of the largest trust deeds ever put on record in this country was filed by the Duluth, Mississippi river and Northern railroad yesterday when it made over to the New York Central Trust Company all its property to secure $2,500,000 of bonds in the sum of $1,000 each, which are to be used in extending the lines. The bonds draw interest at the rate of 5 per cent, and will not be issued in excess of $24,000 per mile.

MISSIONARY MASSACRE

Foreign Residents Distrust Platonic Remedies.

Believed Worse Scenes Will Follow the Recent Outrages Unless the Foreign Powers Deal Strongly with China—A Minister's Child Succumbs to Injuries Received.

London, Aug. 12.—The Times will today print a despatch from its Tien-Tsin correspondent saying that the recent massacre of foreign missionaries is regarded there as a symptom of incipient anarchy, and that the belief is expressed that it will be followed by worse scenes unless the foreign powers deal strongly with China. The despatch will also say that at a meeting of the foreign residents of Tien-Tsin the declaration was made that the massacre was the natural outcome of the leniency shown towards the Chinese upon the occasion of outrages committed by them in the past thirty years. The meeting also expressed distrust in platonic remedies. The British government was urged to make local reprisals in every case of outrage, and it was demanded that the provincial authorities be made answerable for all officials under whose jurisdiction foreigners are attacked, and be dismissed. This, it is asserted, would certainly be effectual, and is in accordance with Chinese principles of government.

Another Victim of the Chinese.
London, Aug. 12.—A despatch from Foo-Chow says that the infant child of the Rev. R. W. and Mrs. Stewart, both of whom were among the victims who lost their lives in the massacre near Kucheng, has died from the effects of the injuries inflicted by the murderers of its parents and been buried at Foo-Chow.

PELTED WITH STONES.

The Treatment a Young Missionary in China Received.
Minneapolis, Aug. 12.—A letter has been received here from Miss Serrid Helgeson, a Norwegian girl, who went as a medical missionary to China a year ago. The letter is dated June 14 at Han Kow, a place in central China on the Yang-tse-Kiang. She writes: "Riots and unlawful acts occur daily. Six provinces not far from here have of late been devastated—that is, property belonging to foreigners destroyed by fire and other means. Many lives have been lost and innumerable arrests follow. We are apprehensive just now even here. Telegraph wires are down, and we have not had any communication with other settlements for some time. Possibly this is my last as well as first letter home. But you must not think that I am weakening or fear death. God is with me, if I live or die. Yesterday I visited one of my patients, and when on my way home was attacked by a mob throwing stones and mud. I was struck on the head. It made me feel pretty badly for a while, but to-day I am all right. One of my former patients happened to come along, and by telling them that I was a harmless doctor saved my life, which I must surely otherwise have lost."

A WHARF GIVES WAY.

Twenty five Persons Thrown Into the Water—All Saved.
Concord, N. H., Aug. 12.—The steam boat wharf used by Edmund Burk, Blast-gel's Landing, Sunapee lake, gave way yesterday afternoon. As the boat came near the wharf suddenly gave way and about twenty-five men, women and children were precipitated into the water, which at that point is nearly ten feet deep. Others saved themselves by seizing the posts and other supports of the wharf. All were rescued from the water with much difficulty, and many narrow escapes from drowning occurred. Several persons were injured by a falling plank.

WRECK OF A COAL TRAIN.

Engineer, Fireman and Brakeman Killed.

Springfield, O., Aug. 12.—A fatal wreck occurred on the Ohio Southern railroad yesterday afternoon at Paint river, forty miles south of here. At this point there is a two-span bridge over the river. A westbound coal train of thirty-five cars struck the bridge, which had been considered perfectly safe. The structure gave way in both spans and the engine dropped twenty-five feet into the water, which at that point is thirty feet deep. The coal cars followed the engine until twenty had piled up in the river. The remainder of the train had by this time become checked and stopped on the track. Engineer Clint Raskoff, Fireman Martin Houser and Brakeman William Hincos, who were all in the cab at the time the bridge collapsed, went down without a woman's warning and were drowned. They are at present buried in the river under 400 tons of coal. They all lived here. The remainder of the train's crew escaped. In connection with the accident it is reported that four tramps who were stealing a ride went to death with the train. This cannot be substantiated until the debris in the river is examined, but seems to be true. A wrecking train from here is now on the scene doing what it can. Late this evening it was learned that the cause of the wreck was that the bridge caught fire and had half burned in two at the time the engine struck it. Work was begun at once on the wreck when a crew and train arrived. The debris was removed so that the body of the engineer could be seen pinned in the cab, but cannot be released. The engineer and fireman were single. The brakeman was married and leaves a widow and two children.

Pontifical vespers were celebrated last night by Mgr. Sattoli, and Bishop McPaul preached the sermon. The corner stone of the church was laid July 17, 1894. The church is of Romanesque design, built of rock face stone, with limestone trimmings. The church will seat 800 people, and it is all completed except the tower, which will be 90 feet high. The edifice when finished will cost $50,000. The furniture and statues are very expensive. Numberless arc and gas lamps light the building, many being added in the ceiling. It is claimed to be the handsomest church in the state.

BIG BLAZE AT NEWARK.

About 500 Hands Thrown Out of Work—Loss, $500,000.
Newark, N. J., Aug. 12.—The fire which visited this city yesterday afternoon was very destructive. The blaze occurred in the extensive works of the Central Stamping company. The total loss is estimated at $500,000. The fire originated in the main building, gained great headway and soon the whole building was a mass of flames. The fire swept through the extensions and adjoining buildings belonging to the works and completely ruined the whole plant. Several frame buildings near the works were crushed in by falling walls. Several firemen were badly burned. The works have been running on full time, and the buildings were full of valuable patented machinery. The insurance will probably foot up $250,000. The cause of the fire is unknown. About 480 hands are thrown out of employment.

THE GERMAN FETES

Celebrations of War Victorories Continue.

Criticisms of Emperor William's Worth Speech—The Object of the Demonstrations is To Celebrate the Founding of the Unity of the Empire and Not To Offend France.

Berlin, Aug. 12.—The war celebrations continue. The Third Brandenburg artillery regiment celebrated Saturday the anniversary of its going into field service. The veterans of the regiment took part in the celebration. Wreaths were placed on the graves of those members of the regiment who had been killed in battle, after which the regiment paraded. Later there were fetes at the Stadt Park casino, where a banquet was given in the evening. During the banquet Col. Humann announced that Emperor William had appointed Col. Stumpf a general in memory of the battle of Spicheren.

Celebrations at the Niederwald.

At Rudesheim, the site of the Niederwald monument, where the celebrations were held of daily occurrence. Secretary Gander of the Imperial bank made a patriotic speech. The Eighth Hessian fusilier regiment arrived at Rudesheim on three special Rhine steamers. After landing they formed in line and marched up to the monument, on which they deposited a wreath. The colonel of the regiment made a patriotic speech, winding up by calling for cheers for the emperor and the empire, which were given with deafening enthusiasm. The whole regiment then joined in singing "The Watch on the Rhine." The Seventy-third Hanoverian fusilier regiment celebrated before-hand the battle of Colmbe, the coming manoeuvres in which the regiment will take part preventing it from celebrating on the actual anniversary of the battle.

German Press Indignant.

None of Emperor William's doings in England has attracted greater interest here than his speech on the anniversary of the battle of Woerth, the first decisive encounter that took place between the German and French armies on August 6, 1870. The speech was regarded by German as a happy thought well carried out, and consequently the irritation of the German press on reading the adverse criticism of the London Daily News on the speech was proportionate to the previous enthusiasm. The Daily News described the speech as a spontaneous indiscretion that was not calculated to allay the suspicions of England and Germany's French neighbors. Emperors, the paper added, ought to be strong enough to resist the temptation to make speeches. This, coming on top of an offensive article published by the London Standard, filled the cup of German indignation to overflowing.

The Idea of the Fetes.

The idea that the fetes in celebration of the German victories are intended to reopen French wounds is repudiated. The main object of the demonstrations is to celebrate the founding of the unity of the empire and not to remind France that she is a conquered nation. Germans hold that without taking the feelings of a nation into consideration the events that placed Germany in the forefront of the nations of the world, and it is held in many quarters that the British adverse criticism has its basis in jealousy.

Emperor William I. Memorial.

The ceremonies that will attend the dedication of the Emperor William I. memorial on Aug. 18 are anticipated with interest. The emperor, empress and the imperial princes will attend the consecration. On the same day there will be a parade of the German-American veterans, who will be reviewed by the emperor, and a great military musical tango will be given in front of the royal castle on the eve of the Sedan day, September 1.

After the robbery the two men started toward Leadville.

London, Aug. 12.—Sir Julian Pauncefote, British ambassador at Washington, who has for some time past been in Europe on leave of absence, has just returned to London from Dresden. Sir Julian expressed himself as being warmly attached to America, and said that he and his family felt as much at home in Washington as in London. He now regards it as fortunate that he has escaped being appointed to fill any of the diplomatic vacancies, which have occurred in Europe in recent years, and hopes to remain in Washington for some time to come. When questioned as to whom he thought likely to succeed him at Washington, in the event of his transfer to Berlin, he showed a disinclination to discuss the matter, but intimated that, in his opinion, it would be unwise to appoint a novice to the post.

In the evening a revival service was held which was presided over by O. D. Woodruff of Southam. There will be services every day this week.

NAVY SHORT OF MEN.

Difficulty in Enlisting Them Causes Embarrassment.
Washington, Aug. 12.—The navy department is finding considerable difficulty in enlisting men to fill existing vacancies and to man the new ships that will soon be ready to go into commission. It is authoritatively stated at the department that neither the second class battle ship Texas nor the armored cruiser Maine will be enabled to participate in the drill off Newport. Aside from the delay in procuring crews for the two ships there are other embarrassments which will render it impossible for even the Texas which is in the more advanced condition to be in commission for several weeks.

A STORY OF L...

With the warm sun and the blue sky, the story of L... is a tale of adventure and discovery.

And it is a story that will be read with interest and pleasure by all who love a good tale.

No sound breaks the truth, floating down from the sky, like a wall for a long time.

Here sleep the bright, with many a costly, here many lie in slumber, in the long years that pass.

The little shrub pined, beside his lonely bed, now widely spreads its arms, above his mourning.

Where now are they who were his cold and lifeless? Some are sleeping near, and some are far away.

Faded and gone like the, but if any yet remain, 'Tis no sound that breaks the truth, and sooths the cure.

Near by is another, a no, the spirit gone back to, by this sinful world.

Who can tell what hope, 'neath this tiny beam, how desolate now seem, and the mother's who.

The little rose-tree plant, has not yet seen the light, 'Tis no sound that breaks the truth, and sooths the cure.

When we think how many, have dropped the sea, what depths of grief are, life unmentioned here.

We are wont to ask, is it in such misery and woe, why come so much of, to poor mortals here.

Put in the light that glows, the gloom from the ch, and we see that it is, to a home beyond the.

Our Father well knows, they within it a pure, but like the rude, and broken, ere their deep-bidden.

These terrible trials w, bright, are only in mercy given, they prepare us more, to dwell 'mid the, Kansas City, Mo.
