THE ANDOVER NEWS.

Up stairs in Prest's Brick Block, Main Street.

Home today.
A man of Alfred was in town of the week.

ora McAndrew is visiting her father, James Boyle, at Belfast.

annon returned last week from an extended trip to Buffalo, Toronto and other places.

esses King, of Riverside, Wells, has been visiting Miss Margaret King the past week.

William McAndrew and Mr. McAndrew attended the Catholic Mass at Belfast last Thursday.

Mrs. L. N. Corwin of this town and Mrs. J. C. Dyer, of Wells, are visiting in Ceres.

concerning the recent election, the Friendship Society of Andover Citizen's Association serenaded several of the candidates.

They, along with the Andover Hose, serenaded the candidates.

Mr. H. A. Corwin, of Rockwood, has been in town for several days.

Mr. Corwin is in town for several days.

Mr. Corwin is in town for several days.

The reunion of the Krusen and Mead families will occur tomorrow. It will be held on the M. E. lawn in this village, and a large attendance is expected.

School will begin Sept. 2d. Unless we are very much mistaken, the Andover Union School and Academy is about to enter upon a year of unparalleled success.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Dean, of Hackensack, N. J., are visiting relatives and friends in town. Mr. Dean always finds a cordial welcome awaiting him when he comes to Andover.

The Greenwood ball club will play the Andover nine this afternoon on the ground on the Dolson farm. It will probably be a good game and a large crowd will be present.

Rev. Dr. and Mrs. L. A. Platts are attending the Seventh-day Baptist General Conference at Plainfield, N. J., this week, as delegates from the church of that denomination in this village.

It is expected that Rev. B. G. Van Cleve will occupy the Presbyterian pulpit next Sunday morning. All of his old friends in this vicinity will doubtless embrace the opportunity to hear him.

A free scholarship in the University of Rochester or Vassar College awaits the student of Andover Union School and Academy who first complies with certain conditions. Read the announcement in another column of this issue.

A Belmont correspondent to the Wellsville Reporter says: "A reliable Andover gentleman says that the recent political deal that was consummated there, will cut a portion of the local county ticket down to the lowest notch ever reached in that town since the formation of the Republican party."

Last Friday the Alfred ball nine came to this place and played a game with the home club. The result was a victory for Andover by a score of 24 to 19.

On Saturday a game was played by two home clubs, one being picked from players on the west side of Main street, and the others from the east side. The east side was victorious, the score being 37 to 21.

Sawyer Post No. 333, G. A. R. and the W. R. C. will hold their annual reunion and basket picnic at Bloss' grove, Tuesday, August 27. Seven G. A. R. Posts and a number Relief Corps are expected to be present. The company will assemble at 10 a. m. and after dinner the program will be rendered. The Whitesville cornet band will be present and furnish delightful music. Everyone is invited and a pleasant day is guaranteed by the "Boys in Blue" and their wives. — Whitesville News.

Our readers are referred to an article elsewhere in this issue headed "To Patrons and Students of Andover Union School." B. G. Estes, who will be principal of the school the coming year, has already given evidence of his ability as an instructor and his earnestness as a worker for the interest of the school.

A hearty co-operation with him in everything that pertains to the welfare of the school, by the people of this place and surrounding country, will result in great good to the students and much benefit to the public generally.

While Truman G. Burdick of Lanphear Valley was returning with his family from church on Saturday, and while still half a mile from home, he discovered smoke issuing from the roof of his house, which had presumably been set on fire from a passing engine.

Neighbors went promptly to the rescue and by energetic action and the use of spray pumps succeeded in saving the building; and kindly assistance, in the shape of lumber, from a neighbor, in a measure protected the family from the downpour of the great shower in the evening. The damage was slight, but it was a close call for the house.

During last week's session of the Cuba Temperance Assembly, an out-of-town hack driver, who went to Cuba in search of business, reduced the fare between the village and camp ground to five cents. The charge has always been ten cents. The man who drove the five cent bus got the lion's share of patronage, and the drivers of rival carriages emptied a pail of red paint on the occupants of the cheap rig, as it was passing through the Erie culvert, between the grounds and the village. The affair caused great excitement, and the checking of the occupants of the carriage was made. If the manufacturers of the cheap rig are given a chance to compete with the other drivers, they will be given a chance to compete with the other drivers.
