

W. C. T. U.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Andover meets the first and third Thursday in each month.

Statistics show that the entire results of the labor of the people for one day in every nine go to support the liquor traffic.

In a town in Japan this motto is found over each house: "Frugal in all things; liquor prohibition."

Between the ages of twenty-five and thirty, where ten total abstainers die, thirty-one moderate drinkers die.

The twenty-second Annual Convention of the W. C. T. U. of the State of New York will be held in the Central Presbyterian church of Rochester, N. Y., Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 24, 25 and 26, 1895.

God's minorities are majorities. But if it seems hopeless then I would reduce the problem to its lowest terms like this: God on his throne, and on earth only three living souls—John Smith, who wants to run a saloon; John Jones, who wants to drink; and John Woolley, a son of God. What is Woolley's duty? Simply to wash his hands of that saloon. But Jones and Smith are two against one, and will beat him. What do you mean by "two against one?" Who is one? Whom will he beat? Has God abdicated? "They'll have a saloon." Yes, but they will not have me. Four words answer all arguments. "We must be politic," says one. "Not from my bottle." "They will have it." "Not from my bottle." "It will always be drunk." "Not from my bottle." "It will be sold on the sly." "Not from my bottle." Perhaps the saloon is to go on. I am not bound to abolish it, but only my interest in it. There are twelve million votes in the United States. I'll vote my fraction right, and every time I vote I'll carry my share of the election as long as God is alive. That may not do the saloon any harm, but it will be good for me. I am not bound to be successful, but I am bound to be true. A square man is never wrong side up. "My vote will not count," says one. Listen. "Abraham believed God, and it was counted." Yes, the saloon may go on, like the brook, forever, and men may die in them like flies, and hell grow fat on drunkards. Women may still break their hearts in the vain efforts to woo their loved ones from drink. Ladies may sip their wine, boys learn to drink, and men burn their hearts to a crisp in alcohol, "but not from my bottle."—John G. Woolley.

Irving W. Laremore, physical director of Y. M. C. A., Des Moines, Iowa, says he can conscientiously recommend Chamberlain's Pain Balm to athletes, gymnasts, bicyclists, foot ball players and the profession in general for bruises, sprains and dislocations; also for soreness and stiffness of the muscles. When applied before the parts become swollen it will effect a cure in one-half the time usually required. For sale by L. A. Burrows.

A. M. Bailey, a well-known citizen of Eugene, Oregon, says his wife has for years been troubled with chronic diarrhea and used many remedies with little relief until she tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy, which has cured her, sound and well. Give it a trial and you will be surprised at the prompt relief it affords. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by L. A. Burrows.
