F. J. Myles will soon occupy the Wm. Owen house on North Main street.
Dr. and Mrs. Kelly of Hornellsville visited Mr. and Mrs. T. McTighe this week.

Miss Zadie Smith is in Rochester for a couple of weeks visit. On her way home she will stop in Bath for a short stay.

B. A. Barney left last Friday for the Long Island City Hospital, at Brooklyn, where he will continue his medical studies.

Members of the Board of Trade, and all others interested, are urged to remember the meeting next Tuesday evening.

A great many of the G. A. R. "boys" are making preparations to attend the encampment at Belmont on Thursday, Oct. 3rd.

Andover was well represented at Wellsville last Monday evening. "Shore Acres" at Baldwin's theatre was the attraction.

Mrs. J. L. Cunningham went to Moscow the first of this week, where she will visit the family of her son, A. V. Durand.

H. P. Benton was in Mt. Morris on business last week. On his way home he stopped in Belfast and Oramel to visit friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Elliott of Rochester visited Mrs. Elliott's mother, Mrs. Thomas McGrath, last week, returning home Friday.

A foot ball team has been organized by the students of the Academy, and the boys will soon be in shape to receive and send challenges.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Baptist church will meet with Mrs. A. M. Burrows, Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 2d. All are cordially invited.

George Mead has purchased the Lever house and lot on Hill street, from Charles F. Vincent of Wellsville. Possession will be given October 1st.

Prof. B. B. Brown left Saturday evening for Brooklyn. From there he went to New Haven, and will this week enter upon a course at Yale College.

Instead of the regular union meeting at the Presbyterian church next Sunday evening, the service will be a Chautauqua Vesper service. All are cordially invited to be present.

Dr. Comstock last week removed a cataract from an eye of Russell Bliven of Sharon Center, Pa. Sometime ago the doctor removed the same kind of a growth from Mr. Bliven's other eye.

It is said if a man will allow the mosquitoes to bite him freely that he will not suffer from malarial fever. Yes, and if a man should saw his feet off he probably would not be troubled with corns.

Wm. Sirakin, wife and daughter Mary E., of Voorhies hill returned the latter part of last week from a trip overland through Steuben, Chemung, Schuyler, and other counties in the central part of the State.

B. A. Hammond has removed to Lockport, where he has purchased an interest in a laundry. He began business there Monday of this week. We are sorry to see so good a citizen as Mr. Hammond leave town, and Andover people will wish him success in his new home.

They grow big crops in Elm Valley. A few days ago we saw a pumpkin, grown by L. S. Burdick, that weighed 53 1/2 lbs. It was on exhibition at the store of Burdick & Smith of this place. Also, we have at this office several heads of German millet, grown by Low, Howland, one of which measures 13 1/2 inches in length.

R. S. Langdon, of Whitesville, was in town last week. Mr. Langdon is superintendent of the Whitesville Fair grounds, and is also assisting the secretary of the fair. He informs us that parties shipping stock to the Whitesville Fair next week can unload the same from the cars to the fair grounds, as the track runs close to one side of the grounds, and suitable facilities for unloading having been provided. Mr. Langdon says Whitesville people will be prepared for a crowd at the fair. There is no doubt they will have it.

At the Cuba fair last week, the fancy riding by ladies in bloomer costume was a great feature. There were four contestants, Miss Laura White of Black Creek; Miss May Darling of Franklinville; Miss Grace Lanphear of Andover; Miss Eva Merritt of Bolivar. The champion trick rider, Sid Black, acted as judge and each contestant was given three minutes to ride in front of the judge's stand. The prize, a handsome gold watch valued at $25, was awarded to Miss Grace Lanphear. She is certainly a very pretty rider.

"The Devil's Dream" is the title of a book whose author is Evangeline B. Blanchard. The book was published a few years ago by a New York firm and had quite an extensive sale. The copyright was recently purchased by C. B. Brown (care B. B. Brown) Andover, N. Y., and a second edition has just been printed. "The Devil's Dream" is a temperance story, founded on facts, and some of the characters are now living. The scene is laid in the northern part of Pennsylvania and the southern part of New York, the city of Elmira being one of the prominent localities of the narrative. Aside from its moral, the book is decidedly interesting to read, and will doubtless have a large sale. Copies may be obtained from Benedict & Van Noy of this place.
