The News this week presents the appearance of being issued for advertising purposes only, but at this season the people are looking for announcements of Holiday bargains. We need not tell you that our columns are a complete directory in that respect.

H. F. Wilcox's bargain store seems to be headquarters for fancy china. He has a very large stock, comprising nearly everything in this line, and those who know good china when they see it say it is of remarkable good quality considering the price at which it is sold. The china constitutes only a small portion of the stock carried at the bargain store, and the place is just running over with useful and ornamental articles.

CONFECTIONERY

FRESH CANDY EVERY DAY

Remember we will have only pure fresh stock for Christmas. Buy your children good candy if you don't buy so much. It may save a doctor bill.

Jahu DeWitt Miller will deliver a lecture at Prest's opera house upon the evening of Jan. 2. He is one of the foremost speakers now before the public, and the opera house should be crowded to its utmost capacity. This will be the second entertainment in our course of lectures.

Since advertising the closing out sale, Epstein's clothing house has been a busy place, and much of the time it has been an utter impossibility to wait on all the customers present. Owing to fact that this store carried a very large stock of goods, the sales thus far made, while they have been decidedly numerous, have by no means depleted the stock, and those in search of bargains will doubtless find just what they are looking for.

Last Friday evening a number of members of Andover Lodge No. 558, F. & A. M., went to Friendship and visited the Lodge at that place. Prof. T. H. Armstrong, formerly of this place, received more light in Masonry by the conferring of the third degree upon him. Those who were present from this place were royally entertained, both at the Lodge and the next morning, when they were shown through Friendship's handsome and commodious school building, upon which an addition was built during the past summer. Space will not permit us to describe this structure, but we must say that the people of that place take a just pride in possessing it, and any outsider who sees it is pardonable for the spirit of envy which is almost certain to be exhibited.

OUR POLICY.

We operate our store on a determined policy of fair, square dealing, backed by resources and ability. This means that we give the customer the benefit of the lowest prices every time. We do not slaughter our goods, nor sacrifice any special line to bolster up any other, but purchase carefully, buy closely and are thus enabled to sell on narrow margins of profit. We have won a reputation for reasonable prices that we intend shall stay with us. It pays you to trade here because here is a fixed, honest system of value. Before you buy investigate us.

NEW CUSTOMERS

Are coming to this store every day—people who haven't been in a habit of buying their goods in this place. Words of praise are daily heard that there is a house here that has nerve enough to run their business as it is run in all the large cities and that keep a stock that is far beyond any ever gathered here. We want everybody hereabouts to come and see this great gathering of new Fall Goods whether you wish to buy or not.

Close Out Our Business In Andover,

Our large stock of
