Members of the Universalist Society of Whitesville played, "Followed by Fate" at the Opera House Saturday evening to a fair-sized audience. Had their work been that of professionals no audience could have appreciated no. the production in the trame of mind they were in owing to the coldness of the house. No miticism of the play has been suggested. But the weather will have to be much warmer than it was Saturday evening last before many will wish to jeopardise their health by sitting thru a performance at "The Cold Storage." It is only fair to the management of the house to say, as they told the writer, that fires were lighted in the Opera House Friday night and kept burning all day Saturday in vain effort to get the hall 'n good temperature for Saturday
