This walk is traveled more than any other, and to visitors and comers to our village it will give a good impression of the enterprising spirit so clearly n evidence, and not only Main and Center streets, but Elm street in front of the Can--mon property, Dyke street, and among others who have recently pui wwn new side walks are son, G. Let the good work go on. Good sidewalks and do permanent improvements of the like are not conducive to substantial growth only but undoubtedly are a factor in the moral ideas and growth of a village. * * * That the general Secretary Root public know little about the inner side South America of public affairs and that the United States is playing a large part in the diplomatic situation in the world is evidenced by Secretary of State would appear that the visit was made none too soon. The South American republic, either as the result of drifting or of some carefully devised and executed manipulation, public sentiment is not as friendly to the United States as formerly. There seems to be a "know nothing" movement under way and the sentiment "Mexico for the Mexicans' is or was being promoted as vigorously as possible. Some of the press of that country have gone so far as to applaud sentiments, anti American and urged boycott on Secretary Root, However, Mr. Root is making him. self very popular both with the Brazillians and the delegates of the Pan American Congress. Honors are being crowded upon him both for his own personality and for the - high position and the country he represents. There are few if any in this country better qualified to discharge the delicate and difficult duties incident to this trip. And undoubted'y the results will be beneficial to all Americans. The South American bunch are a suspicious lot and there is no reason for any real hostility. Their interests are bound up with the interests of the United States and Mr Root is meeting with success in convincing those Latin Ameri-

It has required a vast amount of accumulated evidence to convince me that it is, and for a long time has been, impossible for the average | PORTER'S STUDIO | and advancement and this in consequence of EXPLOITATION OF HIS LABOR by privileged persons who take for their own enjoyment a large portion of the product of HIS toil.

I have been long in perceiving clearly that there are two chief economic classes in America, as elsewhere—those whose poverty compels them to produce more than they require for their own maintenance and those whose wealth enables them to control and CONSUME MORE THAN THEY PRODUCE and more than they render proportionate service in exchange for; that the reward of the former class is invariably less than the value of its product, whereas the reward or income of the latter class is greatly in excess of the value of its product and bears no proportionate relation TO THE VALUE of the service

I have learned but gradually the injustice of the situation which confronts the average worker. Honest and earnest men and women / hundreds of thousands suffer privation and want, although surrounded by prosperity and plenty, and owe their sufferings chiefly to There is Going to be Some Lively the Monopolization of the Land and of the machinery of production by the few exclusively for the purpose of PRIVATE gain, access to the land and machinery being denied unless the workers I F. V. MEENEY'S will produce enough not merely for their own support, but for the maintenance of the idle and luxurious as well. This is to my mind a great injustice, and one that demands early remedy.

Incidentally I have observed that under our present industrial system pauperism prevails as widely among the rich as among the poor, a pauper being one who through disability or disinclination for self support by useful service is supported at the expense of the people. WOULD NOT HAVE IT THOUGHT THAT I DISAPPROVE OF CAPITAL ON THE CONTRARY, I REGARD CAPITAL AS NECES-SARY AT PRESENT TO THE PUBLIC WELFARE, BUT AS SO HARM. A strong man OF ANY KIND will find friends and followers. Be he prize fighter or fanatic, politician or millionaire, philosopher or Christian, there will be men who will choose him for a hero and stand or fall by the choice.

I BELIEVE THAT WHENEVER IT COMES TO A GREAT CRISIS. POLITICAL, INDUSTRIAL OR MORAL-THERE IS ENOUGH OF THE SPIRIT OF CHRIST IN AMERICA TO SAVE US.

But though we have good ground for hope, we are far short of having ground for complacent assurance. That part of our people which turns with avidity to sensational accounts of OF ALL KINDS, robbery and arson and murder is not far removed from the multitude that cried, "Not this man, but G. H. That part which looks to platform or press for ANDOVER, N. Y. appeals to its passions, and which seeks a leader who can give voice to the promptings of its own prejudices or emotions, has advanced little beyond the stage of those who clamored for the crucifixion.

And that part of our people which, though more respectable than the first group and more enlightened than the second is nevertheless ' content to make prosperity in business or politics the test of success, and to give all its thoughts to the attainment of that prosperity BY ANY MEANS not too grossly inconsistent with respectability or enlightenment, does not differ greatly from him who washed his hands of the whole matter that was the most momentous in the world's his-

As we look back on the pages of history, the men whose figures | rise large and inspiring are not those who amassed fortunes or won battles or conquered empires, but those who, amid the hostility of the critics and the indifference of the world about them, HAVE STRONGEST STOOD FOR PRINCIPLE.

The battles and the fortunes of a Marlborough—nay, the very empire of Louis—pale before the majestic constancy of purpose of William of Orange.

In the great drama of slavery and secession we draw our largest counter. inspiration not from the brilliant arguments of the orators nor the brilliant strategy of the generals.
