The trade mark illustrated above—the miniature capitol which can now be seen in the windows of more than 2,000 drug stores—is an emblem of tremendous importance to smokers. It means better cigars, in better condition and for one-third to one-half less money than it has ever been possible to purchase before. It means that 2,000 druggists, the undersigned among them, have brought about a revolution in the cigar trade by combining their buying power. It means that these 2,000 druggists, who as individuals were obliged to buy their cigars from the jobber a few boxes at a time, have now become a National organization which constitutes the greatest cigar outlet on earth. It has its own brands, controls its own factories, commands absolutely the character and condition of every cigar it handles.

Its members own and control their own cigar business as heretofore—all the revolution has been wrought by the simple expedient of buying together instead of separately. Go to any drug store that has the National emblem in its window, and ask for a and a good 3-for-a-quarter value! It will say more for the National Cigar Stands in a single whiff than we can say in this whole advertisement, and that is only one brand out of 30, produced exclusively by and for this organization, which will testify to the same effect.

Half the cost of the average cigar is added between the factory and the retailer. In brands owned and produced by this organization that unnecessary cost has been cut out. Here are a few of them:—
