WOMAN SUFFRAGE A REAL BLESSING

Says New South Wales Editor, Where it Has Been the Law for Many Years--Women Influence Men's Vote.

Robert Nall, of the Daily Telegraph published at Sidney, New South Wales, is on a trip around the world and in an interview with a Buffalo following statements concerning Woman Suffrage in his country:

"What about the woman movement in Australia?"

"I" said Mr. Nall, "We settled that long ago. In our country we have literally universal suffrage. The women vote as well as the men and they take as much interest in politics as the men do and their influence on legislation has been excellent. We found this out on trial and whereas it was said at first that there were about as many bad women as good, just as there are about as many bad men as good ones, we found that we were mistaken. Nine-tenths of the women stand every time for sound legislation, for the right kind of laws."

"They are zealous for spending money properly on sound education. They won't stand for redlight districts, for gambling games, for disorder in the state of any kind. They want good streets and good paving and good sewerage. They insist upon sound sanitary devices of every kind. They bring a higher average degree of intelligence into public questions than the men had displayed before the suffrage was extended to include women."

"You speak with enthusiasm of the success of the suffrage movement."

"Well," he said, "Every sensible man in Australia does who has lived there long enough to see how it has worked out. It is only the honest truth to say that the blessed thing that ever happened in our country was to let the women in to take the share in the government as well as the men."

Home Life Good.

"But what is the effect upon the home life?"

"It must be good," was the reply, "else there would be some complaint about it. But the truth of the matter is that we have less domestic difficulty in proportion to population than you have in America. I know that the privilege of franchise has had no ill effect and on the contrary, as near as I can gather, from 25 years' acquaintance with the people especially in the first city of the continent, I am satisfied that the women handle their end of the domestic firm--if I may term it so--with more intelligence and more interest by far than women average who have only a household and do not have a right to vote and have no say in public affairs."

"If the husband and wife differ, as they may occasionally, about politics, but in the great majority of cases they agree--to tell the truth the woman is apt to be the better politician of the two and to understand public questions better than the ordinary working man and he is more frequently than otherwise influenced by her views and opinions and votes with his wife or his sister or his relatives who are women."

"Then there is no talk of recalling the privilege of the ballot from the women?"

"Not in the least. The very last thing to be thought of in that country, I imagine."

FRED W. CORRAN.

Fred W. Corran, the proprietor of the Genesee House, of Genesee, Pa., died at 9:45 a. m., Thursday, August 19, after an illness of nearly one year.

Deceased was 48 years of age and had been a resident of Genesee for about ten years. Having moved from Andover to that place. He is survived by his wife and three children.

The body was taken to Hornell where funeral service was held from St. Ann's Church and burial made in that city.

The increase of work in our job department is the best evidence of its growth.

GRAND REPUBLICAN PRINCIPLES ENDORSED

Resolutions Adopted at the County Convention at Belmont Last Week--List of County Committee.

At the Republican County Convention at Belmont last week, the following resolutions were introduced by Frank S. Smith, of Angelica, and were unanimously and enthusiastically endorsed by the convention:

Resolved: That the Republicans of Allegany County commend highly the many admirable measures enacted into law by the Republican administration of state and nation. We pledge our active support to Republican policies, reiterate our belief in the Protective tariff and its beneficial effect. In the Payne Tariff Law we recognize with President Taft, the best tariff law that ever has been enacted, being a revision downwards, in that more than one-half of the articles scheduled are on the free list, and the majority of dutiable articles are luxuries, which in no way affect the cost of proper living of our industrial and agricultural population. Yet the new tariff law protects the American workman and farmer against competition with cheap foreign laborers, whose standard of living and of education of their children is far below that of our beloved country.

Under the Payne tariff law a sufficient amount of revenue is raised to meet the expense of the government, the first year of the operation of the new tariff law yielding a surplus of $24,000,000.

We record our satisfaction that the Republican Congress passed and President Taft signed, in addition to the Payne tariff law, many excellent measures, among them being the Postal Savings Bank Bill, the Railroad Rate Bill and the law for the protection of the American workman from injury to life and limb.

The Republican State Legislature and Governor Hughes are responsible for much splendid legislation, which we heartily endorse. Republican administration is constructive and remedial, and we again emphasize our loyalty to party principles and our belief in Republicanism.

We earnestly commend to the Republican State Convention and the Judicial Convention for the eighth judicial district the nomination of the Hon. Irving G. Vann as judge of the Court of Appeals to succeed himself, and of Hon. John Woodard, to succeed himself, and Clark H. Timmerman, Esq., as Justices of the Supreme Court for said judicial district.

We congratulate the 37th Congressional District, of which our county is a part, upon the late seventh consecutive nomination of Hon. Edward B. Vreeland for representative in Congress and felicitate the people of the district upon the position he has attained, not only in the House of Representatives, but as a leader in the national policies of the Republican party.

We commend the unswerving loyalty to Republican principles and devotion to the best interests of the state and this senate and assembly district, of our able representatives, Hon. George H. Witter, in the Senate and Hon. Jesse S. Phillips in the Assembly.

Andover Celebrates Labor Day.

Every Man, Woman and Child in Andover Working Hard for the Gymnasium Fund --- Committees and Races.

The largest Labor Day demonstration ever held in Western New York, will be pulled off at Andover this year, Monday, September 5th. The day was so pleasantly passed last year in Andover, by people all over this section of the state that every one who attended have been telling their neighbors about it, and as a result the largest crowd ever gotten together in a town of fifteen hundred will surely be here, whether permitting.

The executive committee appointed last year to make arrangements for the celebration this year are doing their part and everything indicates that Labor Day 1910 will be the greatest day ever seen in Andover.

Already the mammoth parade is planned out and will even excel in all respects the magnificent showing of last year. Industrial and trades people are volunteering to go into line this year, while last year it took much coaxing on the part of the committee.

Make all arrangements to be in Andover, Monday, September 5th and you will meet everyone you ever dreamed of seeing with hundreds of others you do not think of seeing.

Besides the immense parade there will be horse races, ball games, athletic sports and everything to interest. Labor Day 1910 will be a hummer--a regular field day.

All of the Committees have been appointed and are all getting down to hard work already. Get into the spirit of the game and help the various committees all you possibly can. Following are the committees:

WANTS SOME OF ATKINS' PROPERTY

Mrs. Helen Hovey Atkins Says She Was His Wife and Wants Dower Interest in Estate.

The case of Atkins vs. Atkins was opened at Corning last week, before referee Reuben R. Lyon, of Bath. It is the action of Mrs. Mary Helen Hovey Atkins against Mrs. Harriet Atkins and others. Mrs. Harriet Atkins is the mother of the late Jesse T. Atkins, of Greenwood, a wealthy farmer and stock raiser, who died in Andover about two years ago from a stroke of apoplexy. At the time he was thought to have been unmarried, but Mrs. Mary Helen Hovey Atkins says she cohabited with him as his wife and furthermore that she was duly and legally married to him.

At all events, Atkins left personal and real property conservatively estimated at from $40,000 to $50,000 and Mrs. Mary Helen Hovey Atkins is suing for her dower rights. Her lawyers are Sebring & Cheney of Corning.

Rhoda Donaldson, a sister of Jesse T. Atkins, who was known throughout western New York as "Shing" Atkins, is represented by Attorney Wm. G. Kellogg. The mother, Mrs. Harriet Atkins, is represented by Attorney Jesse Phillips of Andover. A brother, Will Atkins of Fall Creek, has engaged M. M. Acker, of Hornell, to represent him.

Evidence taken.

The witnesses sworn were J. R. Marlatt, of Woodhull, Wm. Winne and Mr. and Mrs. James Roblee, of Canisteo and Mrs. George Laine, of Greenwood, who testified principally that Atkins referred to Mary Helen Hovey Atkins as his wife. The case was adjourned while the plaintiff was on the stand. The next hearing will be on August 30 at the court house at Hornell.

JEREMIAH DRISCOLL.

Jeremiah Driscoll, died at the home of his son-in-law Thomas L. Tolan in Hornell, Saturday evening, August 20th, after an illness of months duration which would not yield to medical skill. Some weeks ago he was taken to St. James Mercy Hospital at Hornell for treatment and there to the home of Mr. Tolan.

Mr. Driscoll has been identified with Andover business men for many years, having owned and conducted a Carriage and Blacksmith Shop at his place on Main Street.

He is survived by his wife, who has been with him during his stay in Hornell and three children, Mrs. L. Tolan, of Hornell, Mrs. R. C. Heltzer, of Passaic, N. J., and George A. Driscoll, of Cleveland, Ohio.

Funeral services were held from St. Ann's church in Hornell Tuesday morning and the body laid at rest in the Catholic cemetery in that city.

HAS INFANTILE PARALYSIS.

Wellsville Child Suffering from the Disease--Child Taken to His Home.

Canisteo, Aug. 24.--The first case of infantile paralysis, the dread disease that is now sweeping through the country, has been discovered here and has caused some alarm.

Donald, the eleven-year-old son of William L. Carter, of Wellsville, was taken ill here Sunday night. He was visiting at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Summers, of Greenwood Street. He began to suffer from pain in his toe. Gradually the disease spread through his body and by Monday he was very ill. Two doctors were called and realizing the seriousness of the case had the boy sent to the sanitarium at Hornell. The doctors there seemed to be undecided and called an officer of the state health department who pronounced it infantile paralysis. The sanitarium people would not let the child remain there and the boy was taken to his home in Wellsville.

Several cases have been reported in this part of the state and doctors regard the epidemic as most serious. There is said to be no effective remedy for the disease and it either proves fatal or leaves the sufferer with some terrible marks of the attack. Over the state line at Genesee there are a number of cases. Several children have died and others are said to be dying. Among the victims is a man nearly thirty years of age.

Doctors are convinced that the disease is contagious and will watch carefully for the development of any more cases in this vicinity.

RECEPTION PICNIC.

There will be held a picnic in Grant Sherwood's woods, on Voorhess Hill, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Adams, Tuesday, August 30, that their friends and acquaintances can have the privilege of meeting them before they return to their home in Seattle, Wash. Every body welcome. Bring your lunch.

REV. W. B. WAGONER DROPPED DEAD

Former Pastor of Andover Methodist Church Stricken with Apoplexy at Dunkirk on Sunday.

Dunkirk, Aug. 21.--Rev. W. B. Wagoner, an aged minister of Friendship, dropped dead of apoplexy at the Union Station this morning shortly after nine o'clock. He was passing in front of the steps leading to the Western Union telegraph office in the second story of the Union Station building, when he reeled and fell to the platform. He was carried into the baggage room where it was found that he was dead.

Coroner Blood was summoned and had him taken to the morgue, where a search of his pockets revealed his identity. From the papers found in his clothing he evidently had been in Fredonia Friday, where he had been negotiating for the purchase of the property of the late John L. King, on Day Street.

Mr. Wagoner was the pastor of the Andover Methodist Church for several years and had many warm friends here.

Funeral service was held at the Methodist Church in Friendship, Wednesday.

ANTHARAX OUTBREAK.

Colt, Mare and Bull Died With Disease, Near Allegany.

Anthrax, a disease that is highly contagious and which attacks both domestic animals and the human family has broken out in the vicinity of Allegany. A bull and mare owned by Charles Linderman and colt owned by Thomas Moran have died from the disease. The bull was skinned and its hide sold before the nature of the disease was known. A quarantine has been established and extra precautions are being taken to prevent a further spread of the disease.

OILED STREETS PLEASE.

Angelica has experimented with oil on the streets for a few weeks and the job seems to be giving great satisfaction. The Advertiser says: "If there was ever a good thing done on the streets of Angelica it was the job of oiling which was done some weeks ago between the park and the Busy Corner. The high winds of Friday and Saturday failed to disturb the dust and every day is just like it is after a hard shower. This experiment in oiling has been so highly successful that undoubtedly next year nearly all the village streets will be oiled."

NOTICE TO PATRONS.

In order that we may make necessary repairs to our plant, we will be obliged to close the laundry for the week, beginning September 4.
