IS HE A DEMOCRAT?

The question of what is Paul B. Hank's politics, has been raised by Allegany County Democrats since his nomination on their ticket. He sought to know, and he has made the statement that he is an "Independent Insurgent." Possibly our democratic friends may know what that is. It will not bother Allegany County voters to understand enough of it to know that they want none of it for their hoggyer. They will vote for Jesse S. Phillips and know without asking what his politics are, — the representation of the Grand Old Republican Party, in the county where the party was born, and where since that time an overwhelming majority has always been rolled up for its capable candidates.

WHAT IS AN INSURGENT?

You who have been following the political news dispatches, may have asked yourself the question at the head of this article and perhaps you have formed an indefinite idea that would be difficult for you to express as to whom and what you thought the modern, up-to-date insurgent is. Let us try and put in the words for you and if you do not agree as to the whole of the definition, you certainly will to part of it, at least. Years ago they called opposers "Mugwumps." Then someone coined the word "Bolters," and after a time they who were not regulars and who did not confine themselves to stereotyped political doings were and are today in some instances called Independents. Now the popular name for a man who will not get in to line is "INSURGENT."

There is much food for thought to the reflective mind about the present INSURGENT. Perhaps never in the history of the republic has there been so much of a breaking up, and so chaotic a condition politically as there is at the present writing.

Some think that the old forces are disintegrating in both the dominant parties and there will be in the near future a lining up out of both parties, and perhaps new organizations to take place of the old.

We do now and always have favored organization. If work or ideas are to succeed or be advanced they are best put through organization. It is a great and a long lived organization that has for its leaders men who are willing to adapt themselves and their methods to advancing and changing conditions. On the other hand, if those leaders are unwise and short sighted to see that old methods are no longer effective and would rather sacrifice ALL than to give or break, rather than bend, they can expect nothing less than the juggernaut car of advancing thought and conditions to run over them.

Why? Because for years there have been teachers out through the land propagating their advanced ideas of advanced thought, and leaving impressions, that evidently are forming into opinions, that have become convictions with the great thinking public. THE OLD CONDITIONS ARE PASSING.

It is a wise man that climbs into the band wagon, rather than sit in the dust crying that he couldn't learn the new tunes.

We think nothing because men have changed methods of word and even expressions of belief in church and ecclesiastical affairs, and also in business, then why should we not admit at once that the chaotic state, at present is because a few short-sighted ones are not up to the changing of political conditions.

Advices from the West and Middle West for the last few months have indicated this changing purpose, and sometimes it looks to the writer that in Washington, they are holding back some of the future movements expecting that in the fall an expression of the people may indicate that the above is true. Even well known recently has given evidence that there is need of conservation on some lines, until the seeming chaos is worked out into order and stability.

Now, then, if it is evident that unless there be a wise and judicious movement on the part of the leaders, the progressive element — and you know, the word progress has a catchy sound for some, — the mountain will leave Abraham, and he will be alone and the insurgents will be leading.

Timothy L. Woodruff, Chairman.
Lafayette B. Gleason, Secretary.

TIME TO GET BUSY.

A long time ago, a certain wise man said "A time to every purpose under the sun." Experience has taught the careful man the truth of the words quoted. Observation has led us to conclude that the time to get busy is when things are on the decline. The sailor who has fair winds and smooth seas takes life easy and has a comfortable time, but when the storm is on and the sea raging, that's the time he gets busy. Why? Because the occasion demands it, and if you have gone through the world with your eyes open reader, you, too have made definite conclusion on the same line. Our sailor battened down the hatches, saves all he can and when he sails into the harbor he has the consciousness that his duty is well done. Now apply the same principle to village or community life. It is when things are on the "BLINK" that men need to pull like they never pulled before and stop the mouths of croakers. There may be time to get busy for our own interests, our village has the same sterling public spirit it always had, the same interests are to be conserved as always, great things have been done and no step backward will be taken if every man realizing the need will get busy, for this the TIME.

Some will say what have we gained? Much in every way. There is a spirit of co-operation that never came to the community before, simply because many now see the need of a doing that they never saw before.

So the gist of it all is "GET BUSY."

But the facts are that this would be a poor statement indeed if there were not some suggestions for the future, they might be put in the form of VILLAGE DON'TS.

Don't knock your own interests by speaking ill of your village.

Don't think your neighbor's backyard is the only one that needs cleaning.

Don't think because you have lost a few dollars that you are going to the poor house. There are others.

Don't litter the streets with your gossip any more than you would spit on the sidewalk.

All men are not rascals misfortune may sometime sit on your front stoop.

Don't stop boosting any more than a man should stop advertising in the dull season. IT'S TIME TO GET BUSY.

Many schools have commenced the fall terms and more will shortly follow. Our public schools system is a grand one and one of which we may justly rest proud. The value of an education cannot be estimated and the apparent neglect of some of our people to avail themselves of the opportunities afforded for their advancement is a marvel to us. Parents and guardians see to it that your children attend school. "As the twig is bent, so is the tree inclined." If the little ones are kept steadily at school in their early days habits of study will be formed which will not deter them in after years. Send your children to school — compel them to go and as they grow older they will bless you for it. There is no better place in the world for a good strong healthy child than inside the walls of a well regulated school room.

more young men in the neighborhood in this country learning trades than there are outside of them. The principal cause of this is, we are neglecting our young men for agriculture.

Trying to make lawyers, doctors, clerks out of the material nature is done for blacksmiths, carpenters, and other "traders of wood and draw-ers of water." It is a mistake and a big one, to teach boys and girls by inspiration or otherwise that labor is disgraceful, or that labor is necessary for a livelihood to follow a general occupation, and that to do nothing for a living is more becoming the society in which they expect to move and have respect. Hang such society! It is rotten to the core and there are many men's sons and daughters who are now being educated to play the part of "leading lady" and "walking gentleman" in the great drama of life, who will light out for a poor house or penitentiary before they have played their parts and the curtain drops. Go to work.

If the young people who live in the country could get an inside view of city life, they would perhaps be more thankful for and contented with their lot. Every avenue of trade is overcrowded, and there are thousands of men and women seeking employment and thousands of hard worked people, who receive a mere pittance in return for their labor. Few employees in the city make as much as almost any young man can farming. Even many of the clerks who create such a sensation by their seeming polished ways, fine clothes and dignified airs when they come down from town to visit their country cousins get barely enough to keep soul and body together — a mere, flimsy show with no prospects ahead of anything better. Young man, stick to the farm awhile longer. The hope of our land is its yeomanry. An educated righteous, farming population will bring prosperity to any nation.

Let's sing a song as we go long so every one can hear, and tell them all to trade this fall where goods are not too dear; and bear in mind that you can find right where these goods are sold, if you will read with care and speed the ads these columns hold.

AN OLD SOLDIER DEAD.

James Keegan, of Hornell Lived a Life of Adventure.—Aged 75 Years.

James Keegan, who lived near Hornell and died recently, had a remarkable history. He was 75 years of age and was born in Hamilton, Ont., but when a child removed to Ireland with his father, who had a government position. Young Keegan enlisted in the Dublin Fusiliers, but becoming tired of the monotony of barrack life, deserted and came to America. Following the California excitement in 1849, he was one of the first gold hunters to reach the coast. He was not successful and he identified himself with the Walker filibustering expedition in South America. He and some of his companions were captured and thrown into prison. They escaped while waiting trial by court martial and Keegan got back to the United States. When the Civil War broke out he enlisted in the First New York Light Artillery and served until the close of the war. He was wounded in three different engagements. When war with Spain was declared Keegan attempted to enlist and was rejected on account of his age.

Mr. Thornton took a severe cold driving home from the Republican County Convention and for a few days was ill with tonsillitis. On Friday last, the inflammation developed and there was rumors of the seriousness of the attack. Dr. Witter is in charge of the case. Mr. Thornton shows improvement and his physician and family are very hopeful of complete recovery, a result that will be much hoped for by the many friends of Mr. Thornton, throughout the county.

VIENNA MEN DOFF HATS.

Unless Expense and Killis Hair is Argument of Club.

Vienna now has a "no hat" brigade, fashioned after the one which is thriving in London.

"The hat," says one of the Vienna members, "is a superfluous article of man's wearing apparel. It deprives the head of needed air and sunshine, retards the growth and in many instances kills the hair and is a source of inconvenience and considerable expense. At no time does a member of our league appreciate his resolution to go bareheaded so much as when he visits a theater or opera. The crush hat, has gone out of style, the cylinder hat, takes up too much room, and it is never improved by storage in a theater wardrobe."

HARD HEADS.

What was the cause of the hard heads in the county? In the course of the summer season, the county was visited by a hard frost, which was very unusual for that season. The frost was very early and very severe, and it was very much to be regretted that it was so early and so severe. It was very much to be regretted that it was so early and so severe. It was very much to be regretted that it was so early and so severe.

Belmont, Thought you had wanted some so send you back the catalog of the Wellsville Business Men's Association, but I thought to pay at home and help run the business, and the decided college would be cheaper.
