VITO FRUCCI NOT GUILTY

Jury Acquits Belfast Italian of the Charge of Murder—Mrs. Decillio Gets Six Months and $400.00 Fine.

Belmont, Oct. 15.—The jury in the case of Vito Frucci, who has been on trial for his connection with the murder of Chalker and Gleason at Belfast last April, was out six hours, reporting to Justice Brown at 10 o'clock last night, that Frucci was not guilty. The prisoner was immediately discharged.

It is understood that the jury on the first ballot was nine for acquittal and three for guilty, and after six hours deliberation, an agreement of not guilty was reached.

This morning Mrs. Decillio was arranged before Justice Brown and by recommendation of the court the indictments for murder in the first degree and subordination of perjury was dismissed.

Mrs. Decillio pled guilty to the indictment of keeping a disorderly house and was fined $400, which was paid. She also pled guilty to four indictments for excise violation, and was sentenced to six months in the Erie County Penitentiary on one of them. Three other indictments are hanging over her and Justice Brown gave her plainly to understand that if she ever returned to Allegany County again she would be sentenced on these three indictments.

Register tomorrow. Your last chance.

CONVERTED TO WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

In giving expression to his thoughts on the Roosevelt meeting at Wellsville Friday, "Uncle Cy" in the Wellsville Reporter, among other "Conclusions," says:

"Uncle Cy has never been very favorably impressed with the idea of woman suffrage. He is converted now. After seeing that sea of eager upturned faces sitting in silence and harkening to the golden words that were ejected so effectively, and that sea filled with white caps of womanly interest he will no longer oppose giving the women the right to cast a ballot on any question, be it municipal, state or national. What's the use? Custom has decreed that they are entitled to first place in everything else; they have nerve enough to take advantage of opportunity, just as all shrewd men do, so why not give them the right to vote? Then, when Mr. Roosevelt, or New York's next Governor, Mr. Stimson, or other able man speaks here and the women turn out to meet and greet the speaker, the seed sown will all be to the good. That's business, and that's another conclusion of

AUTO TRIP ENDS IN DISASTER

C. W. Terry of Salamanca Collides with James Dougherty Passengers and Vandalia Boy Injured.

James Dougherty and Grace Fowler were in a serious automobile collision Sunday afternoon, at Seneca Junction, between Olean and Salamanca, narrowly escaping a horrible death themselves and being directly responsible for the serious injury to a young lad at Vandalia, Michael Beatty, who is now in a very critical condition at his home in that village, having been run over by the disabled car as it was being towed into Olean for repairs.

James Dougherty and Grace Fowler started early Sunday morning for Salamanca in the new Fowler-Dougherty Buick, where they took dinner with Mr. Dougherty's sister. They started early in the afternoon on the return trip. At about 4:30 they were at a place on the road known far and near as "The Narrows," where the hill on one side is cut away to get room for the road, and a deep embankment on the other side, and then a railroad track.

While in the narrowest place they saw a large auto coming down upon them. Mr. Dougherty turned his machine to within two inches of the embankment—as subsequent measurements show—and slackened his speed to less than four miles. The approaching machine was driven and owned by C. W. Terry of Salamanca.

It came on to them at full speed, without turning out of the road sufficiently to escape the Dougherty car,—which was already on the very brink of the embankment—and struck the car violently, on its front wheel, throwing James over the steering wheel and Grace through the wind shield. Both were severely bruised and cut and are very fortunate to be alive to tell the story, as it is a great wonder that the car was not thrown down the embankment, and all land in a heap at the bottom.

As soon as Terry could straighten up a fender of his machine, he started up and left them to get out of their difficulty as best they could, not even stopping to say he was sorry.

Grant Wilson, of Bolivar, came along with his family in a car and offered them assistance and towed the disabled car into Olean for repairs. When reaching Vandalia, Michael Beatty with other playmates of his years, about ten years old, came running along, jumping onto the Wilson car. The boys were having all kinds of sport, as the machine could not be driven over five miles an hour while drawing the other car. All went well until the Beatty lad fell and the disabled car coming about ten feet behind, caught him before he could get up, running over his head. Both cars were well lighted.

The machine was instantly stopped and the boy picked up unconscious. Dr. Bourne was soon on the scene and the lad removed to his home, and a short distance away, where everything possible has been done for him, but with little hope of his recovery.

The party arrived in Andover, yesterday noon, bruised, sore and weary, and thankful that they are alive. The new Buick, while it has been repaired is a sorry looking bird. The front axle was bent, frame crooked, steering mechanism demoralized and the glass windshield minus.

FOUND THE PARALYSIS BUG.

Dr. Allen J. Smith, dean of the Medical Department of the University of Pennsylvania, and Director of the School of Tropical Diseases, recently founded in that institution, declared that in the blood of the sufferers from infantile paralysis has been found a protozoa, or low form of animal life, which he thinks may prove to be the germ which causes the disease. It resembles the germ which causes sleeping sickness and in his opinion is carried from one victim to another by insects.

Colonel Roosevelt In Wellsville

First Guns of the Campaign in Allegany Fired by ex-President, the Champion of Honest Methods and Honest Politics.

A large and enthusiastic audience greeted Col. Theodore Roosevelt at Wellsville Friday evening. The spacious Baldwin Theatre was filled to its capacity with interested citizens. The Colonel arrived at the theatre exactly at 5:45, the hour announced and was introduced by Senator Geo. H. Witter, of Wellsville as follows:

Ladies and gentlemen, I have the great pleasure and honor of present-there had sprung up business, political, social corruption here which delighted the enemies of popular rule and which caused genuine alarm to those people all over the world who had believed that there can be a government by the people in which there shall be entire honesty and the people genuinely represented.

Friends, every American not only owes it to himself and his children ing to you a man who needs no introduction to any man, woman or child in Allegany County, Col. Theodore Roosevelt.

Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen and small folks: It is a great pleasure to be here in my own state standing for what I believe to be essentially the cause of decency. My friends, when I was abroad this summer—during last spring, the thing that struck me the most was a curious double attitude in the minds of most men when they spoke of America. To almost every man America was a land of promise, a land where an effort had been made to realize in actual fact some of the doctrines in which the great reformers of mankind had for so long believed, a land where there really had been an effort to have the people govern themselves and do justice while so governing themselves; but there was always also an uneasy feeling that to keep this government straight and decent, to keep our conditions clean and honest, but he owes it to the nations of mankind; for if our experiment fails, the hope of the world will be dimmed.

Friends, the one name that was always mentioned to me as a symbol of our political corruption was Tammany Hall. All through Europe Tammany Hall was known as embodying what was worst in our political life. And friends, another name, less frequently but very frequently, was mentioned to me as embodying political conditions which ought not to exist—Wall Street, meaning by that nothing to do with the business men who get their fortunes and rise in the world by honest work but meaning the men who get their fortunes by some form of special privilege half the time obtained through political favoritism, either through action or inaction of the
