IT'S A MISTAKE

to think training isn't a factor—a very important factor—in taking proper care of one's future.

Many people have money left to them but lack the special training needed to properly care for it—it gets away.

If YOU expect to have money left to you later on in life you will need training in order to be able to give your interests the vigilant care they will demand if you are to hold your own or build for a larger success.

This training is only acquired by actual practice. No other method for gaining it is so good, so business-like, so safe as the Bank Account Method.

Start YOUR training NOW by coming in and opening an account with us—one dollar will get you started—add to it as you can.

WORK OF ANCIENT DENTISTS

Remarkable Teeth Decoration Shows That They Possessed Considerable Skill.

By far the most transcendent example of teeth decoration which has at present come to light in America is in a skull discovered in 1909 at a place called La Piedra, near the point on the right bank of the Esmeraldas river where it empties into San Mateo bay. It was accidentally found by Mr. Pinzon and Mr. George D. Hedlan, the latter an American consular agent at Esmeraldas, and was kindly presented by Mr. Hedlan for the Heye museum during his visit to Ecuador last summer. The skull was seen projecting from the bank, but no other parts of the skeleton were uncovered, probably having been washed away after the bank was undermined.

The upper part of the skull is in fragments, but is restorable. The skull, slightly deformed, is that of an adult female. The decoration of the teeth is unique and presents a new type of facial ornamentation. Instead of small disks being set into artificial cavities we find in this case that certain teeth of the upper jaw were almost entirely covered on the outer face by an overlay of gold. The entire enamel of the teeth decorated has been removed, with the exception of narrow bands at the bases and the upper parts, where they were close to the flesh and embedded in the jaw.

The removal of the enamel is through to the dentine and was skillfully accomplished. It appears that in some instances sawing was done slightly under the enamel, at the upper part, so that the gold overlay, or covering, might be fitted under it in order to make it more secure. The teeth thus practically "face-crowned" are the four incisors and the two canines. The overlays are missing in all but one of the teeth, the left lateral incisor. This gold covering is slightly folded or bent over each side of the tooth for greater security.

A Real Wonder.

Snooker (fiercely)—Your fowls have been over the wall and scratched my garden.

Chanks (coolly)—Well, there's nothing extraordinary in that. It's their nature to scratch. Now, if your garden were to come over the wall and scratch my fowls it would be extraordinary and something worth communitating.—Pearson's Weekly.
