The ward" Hats male in England are now being showing the ward" Hats male in England are now being shown It III so as we might not be able to reproduce these for the to come. In two qualities at $3 and $3.50. Shapes to the different heads and in several colors.

At $2.50 an exceptional good Hat as they were bought before advance in price of felts. Most every stylish color and staple hads and blues are here.

P. S.—Showing of Knox Spring Hats the latter part of this

TROUSER SALE

Do not forget our Trouser Sale as this is an opportunity you not want to miss. They are exceptional values at regular ces, but as usual we are having our Semi-Annual Sale and with reduction in price that is not universally shown

$6.00 Trousers now $4.75 $5.00 Trousers now $4.00 $4.00 Trousers now $3.25 $3.00 Trousers now $2.40 $2.50 Trousers now $1.90 The famous "McMillian" Trourers which most of you know wheter than we can describe to you universally reduced 10% on such pair which means:

eans: now . $3.60 $3.50 Trousers now . $3.15 $3.00 Trousers now . $2.70 $4.00 Trousers now

Schaul & Roosa Co.

117 Main St.

Por

Hornell, N. Y.

A CONTRACTOR OF THE SECOND OF

Winter, like the Germans, dying hard.

Monday was the coldest, gas the lowest and coal the scarce

There was a meeting of the patrons of the Hornell Sanitary Dairy Co., at this place, Monday, to talk over the question of last month's wages. The Borden Com pany are taking milk here now.

Wednesday was St. Valentine' day where you may look for a picture of yourself on a card.

The Cuban people desire to show to the world that they can play at the game of war too. Unhappily the killed and wounded all among themselves.

A mishap to train 3 occurred Tuesday by the breaking of a rail near Fall Creek by which the rear passenger car was derailed The car was considerably shaken up and crossed a culveri running on the ties before the train was stopped. One lady is said to have fainted but fortunsaid to have rainted but fortun-ately no one was injured. The damage to the car was slight. The extreme cold weather caused the break and the Erie and other roads are experiencing the same trouble and many delays are made on account of the cold.

It is the belief generally Washington that this nation will soon he one of the belligerents it soon be one of the belligerents in the war arrayed against Germany It is apparent that the latter named power is going to stake everything on a final effort re-gardless of its effects on neutral friends, and in total disregard of humanity or the law of nations. The German government claims the English are starving thir women and children, but the facts show that their military forces are the robbers who take the food dawy from their starving wives and offspring to feed their soldiers. If they cannot win by lawful warfare they should lay down their arms and not add to their long list of crimes against neutrals and civilization.

Merchant vessels might as well The German government claims

Merchant vessels might as well arm for their own protection. Their failure to do so, affords them no protection as the enemy will sink them regardless and by arming they might stand a chance of winning

Lincoln's birthday was generalobserved throughout the land. and as time passes his name grows brighter. He was one of the world's greatest characters and is now revered by all and looking back to his official life, it is hard to explain why he was so viciously maligned by his enemies

It is gratifying to witness the strong and undivided support the country is extending to our President in his efforts to maintain peace and the honor and rights of the country at the same time. The world recognizes that this great nation has a master hand at the

The Jasper Amateur Dramatic The Jasper Amateur Dramanu Club hold forth at the Opera Ropes hers, Monday night. Henry. Ford is a genuine pa-trict. After doing all he could to find the present war and to avert find the war now impending and his efforts having proved unsuccessful in so doing he now of find his great plant free of use to the company and also his own services. He says he can present acture 5,000 autoes a day can day capable of surrying 10 soldiers your property."

CREENCOD LOCAL BRIEFS each, and can easily equip his works to manufacture munitions of war too. No graft in that as is too often the case in govern ment contractors. The tank at the railroad station burned Thursday morning.

Att'y J. H. Stephens, of Hornell, was in town Monday on neit, was in town Monday on legal business.

Mrs. M. D. Webster gave a party Wednesday night for the benefit of the suffrage cause. Refreshments were served and card games and other amusements provided

General complaint is heard of the freezing of water pipes the recent cold wave-

The Grange worked the 3rd and 4th degrees at the hall, Wednesday night. Refreshments were served afterward. Friday evening the Genesee and Jasper basket ball teams have a meet.

The Kanona and Prattsburg callroad has been sold by the

The Kanona and Prattsburg cailroad has been sold by the bondholders and has been bid in by them. They offer to sell the ame to the people along the line in the towns of Bath (in the village of Kanona is situated) Wheeler and Prattsburg for the sum of $50.000.00 and the amount liss heen raised by subscription all us been raised by subscripion all out $1,000.00. By this actoin the people will retain their railroad Bernard O'Hargan Esq of Rex-ville, was in town Wednesday. Adolphus Hardy was a Green-wood visitor Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. A Huff, of Jasper, were in our city Tuesday.

Geo. McKinley, of West Union, was a business visitof in this place Wednesday.
Monday the mercury cavorted between 20 and 30 degrees below

othing

Patrons of the milk company are now placing their milk with the Bordens, Leu Osmin was a Monday vis tor in town Clifford Schinick was a caller in town Tuesday.

Mrs. W. O. Slocum and daughter, Dorothey, were in Hornell l'uesday.

STUP THAT COUGH

STUP THAT COUGH
A hacking cough weakens the whote system, drains your energy and gote worse if neglected; your throat is raw, your chest aches and you feel sore all over, Relleve that cold at once with over the cold at once with the programme and the antesptic and laxative qualities kill the germs and break up your cold. Don't let a cold linger, Gettra, Ring's New Discovery to-day at your Druggist, soc.—Advertisement.

Underground Mountain

A curious result of operations by the trigonometrical survey in India was the conclusion that there was in the middle of India an under ground or buried mountain range a thousand miles in length and lying bout parallel with the chain of the Himalayas.

This conclusion was based on the singularities of the local attraction of gravitation in central India, the short him hours deflected earth. plumb line being deflected south plamb ine being deflected south-ward on the north side of the supposed subterranean chain and northward on the south side, lead-ing to the inference that a great elongated mass of rock of excessive density underlies the surface of the earth between the two sets of ob-serving status.

If you have some real estate sell, you have s vertising to do.

A classified advertisement

.

_aidlaw's 🚄 Lucky Leap

And the Great Reward That Came After.

By ANNETTE DUMOIS.

When Rud Grayson, the big cen-ter rush of the Crescent team, toppled like a falling tree with his full, hard, bunched 230 pounds on top of Don Laidlaw there was a howl of joy from Grayson's side, for with the downfall of Laidlaw the Scythian team was doomed.

That night the spectators of the great event of the upper ten ath-That hight the spectators of the great event of the upper ten athletic season went home well pleased that they had seen a desperate and perfect game. But Don Leidlaw was left a wreck for life by it. "Something" had happened to his back. What the "something" was the doctors and surgeons didn't seem able to say. At any rate, they agreed that probably he would never welk again unless "something" favorable happened, and that was not at all likely. "Life is full of sarcagms, and this seems to be one of them," murmured Laidlaw, despite his illness still a fine looking young fellow, as he was being propelled down the avenue in an invalid's chair.

He turned to the attendant and

He turned to the attendant and said:

"Wheel me into that sunny corner and then run over to the library and fill this list. There; that's something like it. This wind cuts like a knife."

Laidlaw watched the man disappear around the corner with a sense of irritation foreign to his hitherto bold and almost cheerful acceptance of fate.

"Hang it all! I wish there was some artistic way of leaving this world," he muttered. "Who would have thought one short year would make such a change in one's pros-pects? Then full of life and pluck pects? Then full of life and pluck and now a husky babe in a perambulator!? He laughed in spite of his fit of despondency.

The laugh vanished almost at once. He was thinking, and thinking hard. He always did think of ing hard. He always did think of that same one thing—of the girl to whom he had intended to propose on the very night of the game. "Kismet!" he nuttered. "I wonder if she cares—much? She is sympathetic when we meet and in a manner that doesn't sting. Bless her! To think that that's all over now!" And Don sighed heavily her! To think that that's all over now!" And Don sighed heavily over his blasted hopes.

"Oho-ho! What a funny baby carriage! Ain't you dot any tootsies, Mr. Man?" pined a little voice. Laidlaw turned his head quickly. A golden haired tot stood close beside him. Her big brown eyes, with golden lights in them, gazed wonderingly with the frankness of babyhood straight into his astonished gray ones. gray ones.

Laidlaw was fond of children and she was a welcome interrup-tion to his thoughts. He answered cheerily: "Hello, kid! Where did you escape from? You'll catch your you escape from? You'll catch your death out here without a hat and those bare legs," noticing the blue flesh above—the tiny white socks. "Where's your nurse or whoever has you in tow?"

"Over dere." answered the baby vaguely, pointing across the park that ran down the middle of the broad avenue.

"Come up here in my lap," coaxed Don, "and when James comes back you shall have a ride in my gocart."

"Let me see 'em," persisted the mite

-"What?" questioned the puzzled

man. "Footsies," replied the infant.
"Oh, my feet! Yes, I've got feet, though they're not much use at present." Laidlaw pulled the rug aside. "Now, are you satisfied, my lady?"

lady?"

She surveyed his No. 9's approvingly and said, "Dess me come now," and climbed into his lap.

In the midst of an interesting conversation Toodles, as she called herself, said abruptly, "Sissie dot you on her tabo!"

"Oh, has she? What on earth is a tabo?" queried Laidlaw.

you on her tabo!"

"Oh, has she? What on earth is a tabo?" queried Laidlaw.

"On her tabo, vere she does her hair—pitchur card, wiv funny sings on here," and she patted his shoulders, "an' wood sings down dere," rubbing her plump little knees.

"Oh, a picture of me in football togs, I suppose. What is "sissie's name?" saked Laidlaw.

"Vy, Sissie. Oh, dere is nursie! Doodby!" she interrupted and, sliding from his lap, ran toward the park.

As she reached the middle of the street her wee sandal came off. Laughingly she hald it—to Pushong a pretty pick stood in the sunlight.

chug chug chug reached Laidiaw's cars. With unspeakable horror the helpless man saw a runaway touring ear, with a white faced chauffeur yanking desperately at the wheel, bearing down upon her.

"hun, baby, run," shrieked the young man, but Toodles never moved.

With an awful wrench that seem.

moved.

With an awful wrench that seemed to tear soul and body apart Laidlaw got on his feet, stumbling and staggering toward the child.

A long reach, a quick clutch, and he rolled over against the curb with the little one safe in his arms just as the monster thundered past.

Presently he drew himself up on to the curbing and tried to soothe the whimpering Toodles.

"Nassy sing get baby!" she sobbed.

sobbed. Thank God it didn't!" said

"Thank Goo it didn't said Laidlaw fervently, trembling vio-lently with the reaction, while the pain in his back shot and stung and raged through his nerves and brain raged through his nerves and brain like white hot iron.

"Mercy! Mercy on me!" cried the nurse as she reached them. "You have saved her, sir!. Oh, how can I thank you?" And she hugged the child passionately to her. "Navghty, baby! What is the name of the gentleman that I may tell it to Mmc. Vernon?" she pleaded.
"Never mind," answered Laidlaw

"Never mind," answered Laidlaw stily. "Take Toodles home now. hastily. I'll come to see you some day, little one," he added as he kissed the red lips.

"Vernon? So that is Maud's baby sister. She was a nondescript bunch of white clothes the last time I saw her. And Sissie has my picture on her 'tabô.' Oh, pshaw; that doesn't signify anything."

The astounded look on his at-The astounded look on his attendant's usually impassive countenance encouraged Laidlaw to make another effort to surprise him. "I actually believe I can walk with your help, James." said he, with a gasp, as he pulled himself up and sank into his chair.

"I felt something snap in my back as I jumped; that's all I know," said he later when question-know," said he later when questioned by the doctor.

"H-m-m!" said the great surgeon as he prodded up and down Laid-Law's spine. "It is unquestionably a case of"—
"Then followed something that sounded most alarming-

"You can call me any old name you like, doctor, if you'll only let me walk," answered the happy fellow.
"With care—with great care—wall" smiled the

"With care—with great care—we shall do very well," smiled the oracle. Mrs. Vernon and Maud called that afternoon to thank their "hero," as Mrs. Vernon pereisted in calling Don, to his great discomfort.

With maternal instinct, fully aware of Don's state of mind, his mother offered to show Mrs. Vernon her cherished orchids, leaving the young people to gaze at each other with beating hearts.
Shyly Maud approached the couch where Laidlaw reclined in answer to his ananoten wish where Laidlaw reclined in answer to his unspoken wish.

"How can I ever repay you, Don?" questioned the girl. "My baby sister! Oh, thank God for— both!"

both!"

He could scarcely hear her sweet voice, but, grasping a ruffle on her gown, pulled her gently nearer. "Shall I tell you how?" he asked eagerly.

"Yes, Don," with a sweet. "Yes, Don," with a sweet, shy note of surrender in her soft mur-note of surrender in her soit mur-mur.

"Kiss me, sweetheart, with all that it means to us both," begged the invalid.

"That was a lucky jump," re-marked Don Laidlaw later. And two shadows faded apart silently at the sound of voices in the conservatory.

Cloud Colorings.

The blue color of the sky is owing to floating particles of invisible dust that break up and scatter the short-waves, which are the blue waves, of light. This occurs principally at a great elevation, where the atmospheric dust is extremely fine, while in the lower regions of the air, where the dust is coarser, the scattering affects all the rays, or colors, alike. The brilliant fringes of clouds, seen nearly in the direction clouds, seen n-vly in the direction of the sun, are largely due to dust, which especially accumulates in the peighborhood of clouds and refracts the sunlight around their edges.

Lamb Didn't Like Byron.

Lamb Didn't Like Byron.

So we have lost another poet. I never much relished his lordship's mind and shall be sorry if the Greeks have cause to miss him. He was to me offensive, and I can never make out his great power which his admirers talk of. Why, a line of Wordsworth's is a lever to lift the immortal spirit. Byron's can move only the spleen. He was at best a satirist. In any other way he was mean enough. I dare say I do him an, injustice, but I cannot love him nor squeeze a tear to his memory.

—Writings of Charles Lamb.

TWO LONG YEARS HE SUFFERED

Front-a-fives" Made Him Feel As II Walling On Air

Onuna, Nov. 23th, 1914.
"For over two year, I was troubled with Construction, Drousiness, Lack of Appetite and The glades. One day I saw your sign which read "Printa-tives." Appetite and freedackes. One day law your sign which read "Pruita-tives make you feel like walking on air." This appealed to me, so I decided to try a box. In a very short time, I began to first better, and now I feel fine. I have a good appetite, relish everything I eat, and the Headaches are gone entirely. I recommend this pleasant fruit medicine to all my friends".

DAN McLEAN.

50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At all dealers or sent postpaid by Fruitatives Limited, Ogdensburg, N.Y.

BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. V. L. Eggleston in Charge

Preaching service Sunday morning at 10:30.

Bible School at 11:45.

Y. P. S. C. E at 6:15

Annual church meeting, Monday night, at 7:30.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Hamilton B. Williams, Minister.

Sunday, Feb. 18, 10:30.

sermon of interest for open uinded folk -

The Sunday School—11:45. Young Folks Meeting — 6:30.

THE METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Rev. Chas. Collins, Pastor.

The pastor will preach at 10:30, Sunday morning. The service will be in harmony with the evangelistic efforts of the co-operating churches. Miss Ora Loma Rew will sing a solo. Members and friends are urged to attend the morning church service and the tabernacle services in the af-the moor and evening.

Miss Rew and Mr. Alexander will sing at the evening tabernacle ervice.

The afternoon tabernacle ser yice will be a mass meeting for men. Sunday will be a great day in the churches and at the tabernacle.

A classified advertisement is a renting agent—and the busiest in town

You learn "values" thru read ing the ads, and thru buying advertised things. "And that is business education"—in its tru-

Sore Muscles, Rupture Pain,

Recognized all over the World as the Best, and honored by its use in

Soldiers' Home. Bath, N.Y. Firemen's Home, Hudson, N.Y. Masonic Home. - Utics, N.Y. I.O.O.F. Home, Lockport, N.Y.

And other greet institutions, including many. Nurges, whom we have grateful Testimonials from. Practing the wonderful healing qualities of this grand old Remedy for Man and Beast 25c Bortle.

TIMELY BOOKS

Government Telephones By JAMES MAVOR, Ph. D.
Prof. of Political Economy in the University of Two see. Author of "An Economic History of at now when the at ownership is so Cloth, $1 met; Po

FOOTBALL DAYS

By. WM. H. ("Big BEF") EDWARDS 50 pages of rattling good stories of more men and trams of all the colleges, a pages of wonderful Elustrations that re-call the stirring scenes of the part. A book in which you get the thrill and fever of the greatest of all outdoor games.

The School in the Home with parents and teachers on in-ve child training, by a writer of I vision and deep insight, me. Cloth, $1.25 Net; Pestage 10s.

Teaching in the Home A manual of school seets that can be done at home. It sarries on and develop in poscerete form the principle laid down in The Spinol in the Home." 12 ms. Cloth, $1.25 Not; Postage 16c.

hotore, or Direct from MOFFAT, YARD & CO., Publishers 156-120 West Med Street MV YORE

Try the job printing department of the News for quality printing.

FOR SALE BY RAKER BROTHERS

ob 14.—St. Wal he change in w ome siter nead lisserds and a lowest tempera in locality was iday morning. in. Dean was Vellaville Friday iss Mary Casey ted her parents Casey, Saturd Horan is out al hotal 3 out bele with the grip louis Dean was tor Saturday. Its Pearl Liver Wellsville where yed at the Well

Ve have been as NOT extinct in A nity Co-operative contrary, the color of vim and elector of vim and elector of vim and dover's future. lenry Horan and visited Mr. yder of East Vall urning Sunday. s. Snyder quite Miss May Dean le from Friday un Dr. Brainard, of led to the home lrew, Sunday in e son being ver ppe. The little ering.

o Horan and Ro arty of Andover Tuesday evening ornell where they me talent enterta that city.

What ' you have h The ho the problem The sa the living and spring -We ha holstered in are finished with an 18 springs are coil spring fastened to with cottor Five d

Davenport

O The d Papers h forced to increase.

our last Our present vantages

LA more mo - 2 O

Jus