DAIRYMEN'S LEAGUE DON'T LIKE WICKS BILL

ment of the right of contract and of the right of private property.

Eleventh. This bill, if enacted into law, will, in the opinion of your committee, result in a gradual but certain elimination of the small dealers, thus vesting in the large dealers a monopoly in the business of buying and selling milk.

Twelfth. And finally, the ultimate results of this bill, if enacted into law, will increase the cost of production, will raise the price to the consumers, and will increase the business and the profits of the dealers; and this is so, not only as to milk but as to all products of agriculture.

Recommendations

The objections to this bill are so fundamental that any amendment removing them would change such bill beyond recognition. We therefore recommend as follows:

First. That the board of directors, by the adoption of this report, hereby declare themselves to be unalterably opposed to the enactment of such bill into law.

Second. That the secretary be, and upon the adoption of this report is, hereby directed to immediately communicate with the secretaries of the local leagues throughout the state, instructing them to immediately convene with the secretary and members of the assembly from their respective leagues, requesting such representatives to vote and work against the passage of such bill.

Third. That the secretary be, and upon the adoption of this report is, hereby directed to request the members of the league throughout the state to communicate with such representatives in the general assembly, requesting them to vote and work against the passage of such bill.

Fourth. That the passage of this report is, hereby requested and directed to use all honorable means to defeat the passage of this bill.

Fifth. That the secretary be, and upon the adoption of this report is, hereby instructed to at once communicate with the master of the New York State Grange informing him of the action of this league, and requesting the co-operation of the State Grange in our efforts to defeat such bill.

Pending the receipt of a communication from Secretary Manning, the attention of the officers and members of all local leagues is hereby called to the defects in the Wicks bill as pointed out above, and also to the recommendations of the legislative committee of the Dairymen's League.

At 2 p. m., March 7th, the board of directors were given a hearing before the joint agricultural committee of Senate and Assembly. Director J. D. Miller spoke for the board of directors, stating the reasons why the Dairymen's League is opposing the measure. A brief will be filed with the committee at once. After a short discussion the agricultural committee asked the board of directors to suggest amendments which would remove the objections made. They further suggested that the league be represented at a meeting of the committee on a future date to discuss changes in the bill.

Should the league deem it advisable to offer amendments such amendments will be treated later.

This year no sugar has been made in the section of Northern New York around Potsdam, and present indications do not warrant any hope of sugar being made there this season. The late snows and the weather warm up suddenly and the sap runs very slowly and the sugar content is very low.

With a few exceptions, and of course a few sugar plantations, the sugar industry in this section of the state can be said to be a very poor one.

A consignment of 18 Holstein cattle was shipped from Cuba, owned by H. Byron, who has a stock farm at Bartlesville, Okla. A T. WHO'LL GO TO WAR State Preparing to Make List of Those Eligible for Service. Few Exemptions. May Recruit Million Men

It will not be very long before a state census taker will reach this town and proceed to take a military census of every man, woman and child, factory, store and in fact everything that might be of use to the nation in time of war, according to present indications Governor Whitman has heartily endorsed the plan and is trying to speed up the work.

Adjutant General Statesbury has announced that steps have been taken to complete the census, bringing 1,000,000 men annually, if not actively under the colors within a month.

Secretary of State Hugo is hard at work preparing to turn over to the military authorities all the records of the 1916 census. These records give the names of all men, their ages, places of residence, etc., who lived in the state at that time.

The Robinson bill providing for the census provided $200,000 to carry on the work and a special state department is to be created.

Military authorities at Albany expect the Governor to call for a certain quota of troops from New York State in case actual hostilities are declared. Their plan is first to call for volunteers.

Military men at the capital have been conferring over the exact way in which drafts would be made from the lists secured in the military census. Recruits would be chosen by lot and there would be no exceptions. Under the law every male citizen between eighteen and forty-five will be liable for service.

The only exception will be for disability and for certain occupations. Clergymen, practicing physicians, certain classes of railway men, etc., do not come under the act.

STATE SCHOOL URGES FARMERS TO MAKE SUGAR

Because of the apparent scarcity of cane sugar and the resulting high prices the State School of Agriculture at Alfred, N. Y., is urging farmers who have sugar bushes to make the best possible use of them this year.

Sugar and syrup are almost certain to reach record prices this season. The late snows and the weather warm up suddenly and the sap runs very slowly and the sugar content is very low.

With a few exceptions, and of course a few sugar plantations, the sugar industry in this section of the state can be said to be a very poor one.

Child Diagnostician Proffers Counsel to American Mothers

"Know thy child!" This is the precept of Mrs. Mariam Finn Scott of New York to all mothers. Her diagnosis is always in its various moods, and then to prescribe some method of rearing it properly and according to rule.

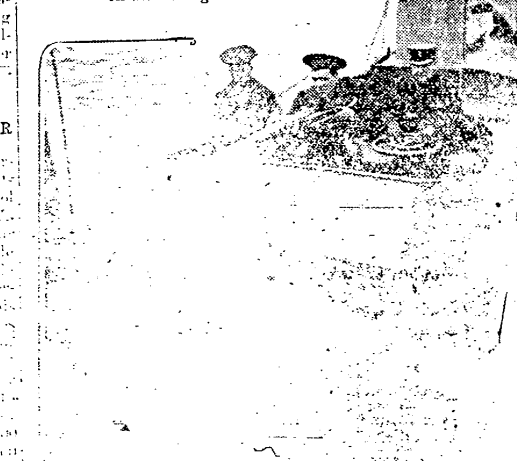

"Mothers are the most important persons in the world," says Mrs. Scott. "It is in their hands to make or break the life entrusted to their care. Careful observation of the child when it is in the formative period, and the early correction of its faults, makes for the betterment of the race. The first six years of a child's life are the most precious and important. The education should begin the day of birth."

Mrs. Scott conducts a "laboratory"—or it may in reality be an observatory—where she can focus her attentions upon the child to be reared. Her diagnosis is always in its various moods, and then to prescribe some method of rearing it properly and according to rule.

Freight Congestion Quickly Relieved in New York When Patriotism Lubricates Railroad Machine

When the machinery of railroading was set into motion after the adjustment of the impending war was unalloyed patriotism that was used as a lubricant. How quickly its effect was felt may be gleaned by a study of this remarkable picture of the freight yards of the New York Central Railroad on the West side of New York City where serious congestion was relieved almost overnight. Hundreds of freight cars moved to terminals in the city or started on their journeys to other parts. In the newest and gravest demonstration that started even the most calloused of railroad officials.
