WHEN EVERY MOVE HURTS

Lame every morning, aching and stiff all day, worse when it's damp or chilly? Suspect your kidneys and try the remedy your neighbor uses.

Ed. Swain, Maple St., Andover, says: "I think hard work is what weakens my kidneys and brings on attacks of kidney complaint. When I stoop over to put on my shoes, a sharp pain catches me in the small of my back and I can hardly raise up. I have a too frequent desire to pass the kidney secretions and have to arise several times at night on this account. For the last eight years at these times, I have used Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from the Brundage Drug Co., and they have always fixed me up in quick order, putting me on my feet again."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Swain uses. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Sign Boards on the Up-road

By Hamilton B. Williams

The Baccalaureate sermon delivered by the Rev. Charles Collins, last Sunday evening, was highly inspirational and scholarly. The suggestion of the fact that in one's heart lie possibilities of tremendous power under one's own creative control should be written upon every conscience. Blessed are overcomers.

This thought is in harmony with the truth that unless one have as a strong motivation something overwhelmingly big he will fall far short. Browning put it in this fashion: "A man's reach should exceed his grasp—or what's a heaven for?"

Motivation is everything—provided the clear vision of life is in God's heaven.

To overcomers nothing is withheld; even the morning star is theirs.

John's vision found greatest honor paid to those who upward toil and would not be cast down by any opposition!

Wonderful the Book of Time with its record of those who against odds forged to the high places and made the world richer.

Thrilling the names of the adventurers on land and sea and sky who opened worlds and heavens to all travellers following.

And the motivation in every life was the desire for something better, something more beautiful. Life is supremely a conquering progression if the more beautiful sang above the songs of lesser things.

Who would stoop to become a slave of evil, grossness, envy, malice, jealousy, selfishness, stubbornness, ill-temper, cheapness, if the more beautiful sang dawn-ing, and noon and dusk God's song at his gates?

Who would stop short at material marts of the more beautiful song of heavenly fields?

Well, the mind of the Master, in its complete harmony with the Good, the True, the Beautiful with its outreaching compassion toward men and its ecstatic devotion to God, is the more beautiful.

And He will give His Heart to us!

Last October, I went to a doctor and there he heard of 'Fruit-a-Box' and he gave me a box and the results were pronounced that I bought two boxes.
