—Great hay weather, this.

—Red raspberries are calling the attention of the berry pickers.

—D. D. Randolph, of Alfred, has sold his grocery store to Frank Stilman and George Jackson.

—Al Jones caught a four-pound brown trout near Stearns' Crossing, in Dyke Creek, Monday afternoon.

—About forty people from Alfred Station visited the Andover ponds for a picnic dinner and fishing last week.

—Miss Ruby Perry, of Allen, and Frank Baker, of Bolivar, were united in marriage Sunday, July 21st.

—Lightning destroyed about $200 worth of crude oil on the Cowley base, near Bolivar, when it struck a tank house Tuesday of last week.

—A new society for the "Prevention of Cruelty to Children" has been formed in Allegany, and October 11th is the date set for the first annual meeting.

—Miss Lucinda M. Jones died at her home in Wellsville, July 28th. Deceased was born in Andover May 27, 1844, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Jones.

—Mrs. Hattie Harvey, of Wellsville, died at the General Hospital at that city July 29th. Mrs. Harvey was formerly Miss Hattie Wescott of Alfred. She was 51 years of age.

—A fire had one of the worst fires in its history Sunday last week when the big plant of the Whiting Elevator & Hardwood Company burned with about 100,000 bushels of wheat.

—Lightning struck a new barn on the farm of John Billings at Halport Sunday morning. The large barn and contents, including a horse, carriage, automobile and farm machinery were burned. The loss is a heavy one.

—Miss Martha R. Cobb, of Yorkers, and Earling E. Ayers, of Alfred, were united in marriage at the home of the bride's sister, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Logan of Yorkers. Both Mr. and Mrs. Ayers graduated from Alfred University this June.

—John Davis has moved his goods back to Andover.

—The Andover Silk Company are redecorating the upper mill with a coat of paint.

—Cap Rices six piece Orchestra has been engaged for the annual "Old Home" party.

—Miss Helen E. Rice and Leon J. Feenaughty, both of Canisteo, were married Wednesday of last week.

—John Storms enlisted this week in the Regular Army at Hornell and has gone to Syracuse for examination.

—Attorney Elden Reynolds, of Belmont, has been named by Gov. Whitman as a member of the draft appeal board.

—R. Q. Smith, manager of the Allegany Farm Bureau, was among the first to be drafted in the selective conscription.

—F. W. Arner, of Angelica, has been chosen president of the Allegany County Firemans Association, with F. J. Raufenbarth of Andover elected vice president.

—Andover Rebekah Lodge has accepted an invitation to visit Whitesville Lodge the evening of Aug. 15th. The work will be conferred on a class by the Andover degree team.

—Government foresters are urging the more extensive use of wood for fuel in all places possible. This is in the interest of conserving the supply of coal during the coming winter.

—Mrs. LaRue Crandall has been remodeling her residence on Water Street to accommodate two families, and with her daughter Jennie, has moved the past week from rooms in Lee Trowbridge's house back to their own home.

—It is claimed that the Empire Sash and Door Factory at Friendship has been running at a loss for the past year or two. They are planning a reorganization, and will make a determined effort to put the business again on a paying basis. R. D. Rawley was appointed receiver.

—An informal reception in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smith was held at I. O. O. F. Hall following the regular meeting of Andover Rebekah Lodge, Wednesday night. Mrs. Smith was among the first members of the order in Andover, and has served as secretary, treasurer, and other important offices very acceptably. A rocker was given them from the lodge in recognition of her loyalty and efficient service.

—Many women are now working for the railroad companies in Olean. About 35 women are working in the Olean car shops; 15 are employed as machine hands. Women in overalls are so common about the shops as to attract no attention. The women are making good in their work and it is the plan of the management to employ more of them to fill the positions as the men are drafted for railroad construction work in France.

LIGHTNING KILLS THREE

Milo E. Lowe at Elm Valley and Two Clark Boys at Alfred

The electric storm Thursday of last week killed three people in this section.

Milo E. Lowe, of Wellsville, was instantly killed when lightning struck the barn in which he had gone for shelter. Mr. Lowe was a teamster employed on the road. When the storm came up he drove his team into the barn of Peter Ward. He drove them into a double-stall and was standing near a post behind them when the barn was struck. The lightning came down the post instantly killing him. Mr. Lowe was 48 years of age.

The two sons of Mrs. Roscoe Clark and the hired man took refuge in the large barn on Jer farm near Alfred Station during the storm; lightning hit the barn and burned it. The younger son was killed instantly, the other paralyzed on one side and died the next day. The hired man escaped uninjured.

If all stores, except advertised stores, were to move away from town, in one day, the town would not suffer any great deprivation.
