Monday is Labor Day. Potatoes on the flats are being badly. Almond will hold a big Cross day Monday. Mrs. Ernest Theetga went to Buffalo Sunday for medical treatment. Inspectors say that immense amounts of food are thrown away daily in Buffalo. It begins to have the appearance of Fall again and the days are getting short at both ends. The Hornell Fair must have been the Wellsville Fair luck getting wet weather this year. Daniel Witter has been confined to the house for over a week with blood poisoning in his leg. Tomorrow is the last day of the year in which trout may be legally caught in the local streams. Miss Alice E. Doud, of Oil City, has purchased the Haghliny Parlors, and is showing a full line of Fall Hats. Some one has figured it out that the United States is now producing a million dollars every minute in its war preparations. Robert Mings has rented the property on West 10th Street and will move his family from the farm to town. William Cuffney, cashier of Prattsburg State Bank, has been granted a leave of absence to visit Niagara. A evangelistic campaign is being conducted at Wellsville, Sept. 14. Dr. Honeywell, first assistant to "Billy" Sunday has been secured to conduct the meetings. Miss V. J. Daley, of Bolivar, was knocked down by a motor car Sunday and fatally injured. Mrs. Corning, where her husband and herself were filling the radiator to their auto. The many friends of Rev. C. Woods, Methodist clergyman and former superintendent of the Olean District, will regret to learn of his death at Albany, N. Y., last Sunday night. He was found dead in bed by his family Monday morning. He had been a clergyman fifty years and was to retire soon.

—How do you want your corn bread? Fried? —The price of cheese on the Cuba market last week was 23½ cents. —A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Densmore, at Fulmer Valley, Tuesday. —The Andover Hook & Ladder Company go to the Wellsville Labor Day celebration. —George Vickers was confined to his house by illness several days the first of the week. —Miss Frances Ensworth is suffering from a severe attack of neuritis in her arm and side. —The annual reunion of the 85th New York Regiment will be held this year at Belmont, Sept. 12th. —There has been a good representation at the Hornell Fair each day. —The fourth annual picnic of the Tri-County Sons of Veterans Association will be held at Letchworth Park, Monday, Sept. 3rd. —Don't forget the community picnic in honor of the boys who are sent to leave us for the National Army. Come and give the lads a good send-off. —Those in America who have been fighting Germany's battles with torch and epher since the war began will now have to either hibernate or hang. —Village officials and electrician Love are busy locating street lamps and laying out Andover's new electric lighting system this week. —The work of grading Greenwood Street has been completed and the tumble of the concrete mixer is the not altogether musical sound heard in that section of the village these days. —The proposition to pave Pleasant Street in Wellsville was carried by a large majority. That village now has a large number of its streets paved. They have surely been beautifying the town for a few years past. —Six persons were injured, two seriously, at Olean, Tuesday when the Pittsburg, Shawmut & Northern passenger train struck an automobile at the White House crossing. The accident occurred at the noon hour and was due to the failure of the occupants of the car to see the fast approaching train. There were no obstructions to their view and the engineer says he saw them long enough to have stopped the train had he not believed they saw him. —At this time of going to press the Great Hornell Fair is in full swing, closing on Friday. The races are better filled with more and faster horses than usual. The ground decorations including the flag poles of the Allies are attracting unusual attention. Many new midway features and several special attractions not previously advertised, are deserving of special notice, and "The Big One" is again maintaining its reputation as one of the largest and best fairs in the state. Thursday is the big day and Friday has the best program.

—Toronto Fair is now in session. —The Forum discusses "Criminals or Heroes." —James Raplee is ill at the home of his aunt, Miss V. N. Adams. —Mrs. Frank Gilder has been ill the past week with an attack of acute indigestion. —President B. C. Davis, of Alfred, is visiting relatives at Shiloh, N. J., for a few days. —Dr. R. E. Robinson, county bacteriologist, has been called for service at Fort Ethan Allen. —A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Langworthy, of Railroad Valley, Sunday morning. —A new Ford service station is being built at Wellsville. M. W. Reynolds, of Whitesville, is the owner. —The stormy weather Thursday disappointed many Andover people expecting to visit the Hornell Fair. —Ethel the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenney Burdick, of Elm Valley, is recovering from a severe attack of cholera infantum. —The stork visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Green, in East Valley, Saturday night, leaving a fine daughter, Dr. W. J. Grenolds officiating. —The Erie's way freight now runs E. O. D. Shippers will thus have to arrange their affairs accordingly. The train will run west one day and east the next. —Trespassing on railroad property after Sept. 1st is to be a costly pastime. After that date the trespasser will be subject to arrest and a fine of from $1.00 to $5.00. —All four Andover men in the second call passed the physical examination at Belmont, this week. They are Henry Slater, Benjamin H. Hosmer, George E. Jean and Lec H. Chapman. —The new silk mill at Bath has closed its doors and its machinery moved elsewhere. They were unable to fulfil their contract with the Bath Board of Trade because they could not get the help in that vicinity. —The U. S. Department of Agriculture are urging the children of the country to practice patriotism by picking blackberries, at the same time earning good money. The blackberries are particularly wanted in the medical department of the Army on account of its wonderful value in certain intestinal troubles. —Word comes to his father from Callander, Canada, that Carroll L. Tucker landed a fish that weighed fifteen pounds; it was undoubtedly a muscalonge. Brook fishing will undoubtedly seem tame to the lad when he gets back to the United States. —Wednesday's Wellsville Reporter—Rev. and Mrs. Frank M. Baker of Buffalo, and their sons, Kenneth and Warren, and their daughters, Ruth and Josephine, are expecting to arrive this evening and will spend a two weeks' vacation at the Rosa home, corner of Madison and Scott Avenues. Mr. Baker is the hustling and successful pastor of the Lovejoy Methodist Episcopal Church. He had two successful pastorates in this immediate vicinity, Whitesville and Andover. Mrs. Baker's old home was Whitesville. Mr. Baker will bring his car, and the family will doubtless take pleasure in calling on their friends at Whitesville and Andover. Mr. and Mrs. Baker have friends in Wellsville who will be glad to welcome them and will be glad they can get away from busy pastoral work for a couple of weeks' stay in our pleasant village. —Several dairymen living near Olean are suffering severe losses by reason of a disease known as blackleg, which is fast becoming epidemic. On the Stewart farm on the Whitball, 10 head of cattle have died from the disease within the past two weeks. They were mostly steers brought from the West for fattening purposes. The cows in the herd have been isolated and inoculated and the disease on that farm seems to have been checked. —With a scarcity of wheat existing throughout the country and Herbert C. Hoover, the national food administrator calling upon the people of the nation to do everything possible to conserve the supply, farmers in the Tonawanda section of Niagara county are feeding it to their hogs. They claim that ground wheat is cheaper than any other kind of feed that they can purchase for swine. Farmers thereabouts are said to have plenty of wheat on hand.

Bartley Dean whose death took place in Bartlesville, Okla., Wednesday evening, Aug. 22nd, was the son of the now deceased, Anthony and Margaret Dean of this place. He was born in 1858 at the family home on South Hill, now the Eggert home, where he spent his childhood and early manhood. Later he removed to Wellsville to engage in the blacksmith business with his brother-in-law, J. D. Magner, and followed that business for some years. He then became interested in the oil business becoming an expert driller, in which capacity he went to Oklahoma some seven or eight years ago, locating at Bartlesville. Some weeks ago he was injured in his work, and tho not at all serious, it seems to have led to a general break-down which resulted in his death but four days after entering the hospital. "Bartley" was well known in this locality, and in the years he spent among us made many friends by his genial, happy ways, and all were saddened on hearing of his death. His remains, on reaching Andover Saturday evening, were taken to the home of Mrs. M. T. Garvin and were buried Sunday afternoon in St. John's cemetery after a short service conducted by Father Sheehy in Blessed Sacrament Church, the mass of requiem being said Monday morning. Six nephews acted as bearers, and among the relatives from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Dean, Jerome, Will and Miss Anna Dean, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Magner, Will and Misses Zeta and Gertrude Magner, also a number of former friends and acquaintances from Wellsville and vicinity. Anthony Dean and daughter, Mary, and Mrs. Joseph Santer of Hornell. Of his immediate family he is survived by four brothers and one sister, P. A., William and John, of this place; M. H. Dean and Mrs. J. A. Magner of Wellsville. —LABOR DAY Special Red Cross Benefit at the Auditorium, Monday Evening. As a special holiday attraction for Monday evening "The Martyrdom of Philip Strong" has been booked. This powerful photoplay is an adaptation of the works of the well known author, Rev. Charles M.
