The First Fall Election -- A Triangular Fight
How Will YOU Vote For Your
Winter Blankets

Every housekeeper knows that one or more pairs of Blankets MUST be elected to her home, this Fall. The old ones are wearing THIN IN SPOTS, and they won't keep out the cold as they once did. Coal must be conserved this Winter, and the Blankets should be better than ever, when the furnace is running lower. Now is the time to examine your supplies and secure those needed, while these fine stocks are here, and before threatened price-advances have to be paid.

There are THREE Blanket Candidates in the field, as usual; but new war conditions are going to radically change public favor and preference.

We are Neutral. We are going to give you the candidate that you elect—for ALL THREE HAVE THEIR DEFINITE MERITS. Our chief service shall be two-fold:

- First—To tell you all the good things we know about all three of the candidates.
- Second—To give you unprejudiced advice when we know your needs; so that you may secure the kind best suited to your requirements at the price you wish to pay.

Here are the Candidates and their claims:

ALL WOOL BLANKETS	WOOL AND COTTON BLANKETS	ALL COTTON BLANKETS
The good old standard among bed coverings. The pride of the housekeeper. Unquestioned warmth. Supreme elegance The superlative quality that makes the choice wedding gift. The Blanket that lasts a lifetime. 100% pure.	The warmth of wool with the cotton warp that prevents shrinking. Price-saving at no loss of beauty. No one but yourself knows that it is not all-wool. Strong and durable Combination preferred by many housewives.	All the warmth and softness of wool. Light in weight. Lower in price. Generous in size to tuck in securely. Moth-proof. Non-shrinking. Strong, durable. Beautiful finish. Saves the nation's wool for other service.

As prices of both wool and cotton goods are likely to go much higher, thrifty housekeepers will BUY THEIR BLANKETS NOW and thus be protected from paying higher prices later on.
