

$8,000.00

Was what Morris S. Effingham did not lose. Burglars broke into his store. They broke into his safe. They found 93 cents in his safe. 93 cents was what they got. They could not get the $8,000.00. He had that in the bank.

If your money is in this bank, no one can get it but those you wish to have it. If you keep it in cash anyone can get it.

PETRIFIED HUMAN HEAD

A petrified human head was unearthed on a farm near Virginia Minn., by Irvin Freidrichs, who dug a root cellar recently. The stone is white, weighs three and one-half pounds and is perfect in formation. The teeth are distinguishable and the features are plain.

Local archaeologists are of the belief that it is the head of an Indian, buried centuries ago. The specimen has been sent to the University of Minnesota.

SHOW MILK AS A SOLID FOOD

Diet Specialists Urge Its Use by Children and Adults

That milk is a solid food and not merely a pleasing beverage is the statement of the food authorities at the New York State College of Agriculture. They say that altho milk is swallowed as a liquid it almost immediately becomes a solid food, for a process similar to cheesemaking takes place in the human stomach, just as when junket is added to milk it thickens into the rather firm curd which is the solid food of milk. In the cheese factory this curd is made into cheese; in the stomach it is digested and becomes assimilated into body tissue. This curd may not seem as solid a food as meat, but it does the same work in the body and has the added advantage of passing thru the digestive process without as much of the decay that meat or other foods undergo. To let milk replace meat in the daily food, in a measure is urged as a wise move in war time.

It is recognized that there are some adults and even some babies who have difficulty in digesting milk. This difficulty occurs in the liquefying of this curd, which must be liquefied as it is digested. There is a simple way of correcting this difficulty—that is to boil the milk. The curd formed from boiled milk is not nearly as large nor as firm as that from fresh milk.

Milk is the kind of solid food which should be fed to little children for it is pointed out that they can use it to much better advantage than they can meat. It is a matter of common observation that little kittens are subject to fits when fed meat, and altho little children may not be seriously affected, they may be made nervous and irritable by it. It is even suggested that the crossness of some grown-ups may be due to too much meat. Adults, however can usually make normal use of meat, but for children the very best solid food is milk.
