Miss Eva St. C. Champlin, of Alfred, died at the home of her nurse, Mrs. A. E. Palmer, of Almond, last Monday, where she had been ill for some weeks. Miss Champlin was a graduate of Alfred and a librarian of experience and ability, having held several responsible positions in this and other states. Brief funeral services were held at Almond, Thursday morning, and the body taken to Buffalo for cremation.
Comrade T. N. Boyd, of this place has a wonderful collection of long range shooting targets, made when that sport was more popular than it is to-day. He showed the News man recently a large one made by himself, Jan. 8, 1885, at six rods distance, where he had hit the target 30 times in 70 seconds with a Winchester rifle, and every shot hit in a radius that could be covered with a man's hand. More such sport should be had to-day. We are fast losing our aim as marksmen, and if we don't lick the Kaiser this time so militarism is forever a thing of the past we should surely know how to shoot. Why not organize a rifle club, as of yore, and get Mr. Boyd and other old time "lead shots" to teach us how?

District Deputy Grand Master Charles Wilcox, of Wells-ville, accompanied by Ray Collins, Ed. Bentley and J. W. Jones, of Wells-ville, as staff officers, came to Andover Tuesday evening and installed the officers elect of Andover Lodge No. 786 I. O. O. F. After the installation the ladies of the Rebekah Lodge unbeknown to the subordinate members had prepared a splendid dinner in the dining room, to which the entire lodge and visiting brethren were invited to partake and to which they did ample justice. The D. D. G. M., Wilcox and visiting officers together with the newly installed Noble Grand, E. Park Rogers, responded to the invitation for remarks after the dinner was served. It was a most enjoyable affair.

SURPRISE MRS. ELLA BASSETT.
This order of the Eastern Star in this village carried out successfully a surprise visit to Mrs. E. R. Bassett, Wednesday evening in honor of her birthday.
The members had things so cleverly arranged that the party was a complete surprise. Coming from the store she found her home invaded by about fifty "stars" entertaining themselves with games, etc.
"One who was there" informs us that the refreshments were not exactly "hoorayed."
The Bassett family were seated at a table which held a cake with candles in the formation of a star, not wishing to embarrass the sister with the number of her years.
The company departed at midnight feeling that another good year had gone into history.

FARM CENSUS NEXT MONTH

District School Children to Gather Facts Concerning Labor, Seed Wanted, Seed for Sale, Etc.
During the week of February 2nd a census of the agricultural resources of New York State will be taken under the direction of the state food commission, United States Department of Agriculture, and the county Farm Bureaus. Census blanks will be distributed to the farm owners by the children of the rural schools.

The census will include a thorough canvass of the labor situation comprising such items as the number of men from each farm who have enlisted, been drafted or left the farms for the other industry during the past year. Another division will be devoted to the amount of seed each farmer will require and how much of each variety he has for sale. The census will also discover what products were produced during 1917, and what the farmer intends to plant during the coming year.
This is the second year that the census has been taken in New York State, but will be the first year that such an enumeration will be taken thruout the United States.

RAISE PIGS

Help the Meat Supply, Be Patriotic and Also Make Money
There is no quicker way of increasing the supply of meats and fats than by raising pigs. This month every brood sow and suitable gilt should be bred to a good boar. The result will be litters of pigs next May which by November, provided they have proper care and feed, will produce thousands of tons of pork which at present prices will be worth more than $300 per ton.
No intelligent farmer needs be told that pork production under present conditions presents an attractive proposition. One can raise brood sows on practically every New York State farm will prove a safe and profitable investment to the owner or occupant. They can be grown and maintained in part on pasture and forage crops and the by-products of the farm that might otherwise be wasted.
Every farmer who will increase his production of pork the coming season will be exercising good business judgment and at the same time rendering a patriotic service by adding to the country's supply of meats and fats.

XXII. NO. 4
SEVENTH-SIXTIETH ANNIVERSARY
Mrs. A. C. Frisbey Ob-
"Open House" After
ty Years of Married Life and Hearty as Ever.
Sixth wedding anniversary most unusual—Mrs. A. C. Frisbey, was wed at their pleasant home on Main Street, in this city, Friday afternoon and evening, Jan. 18th.
The occasion, in a recent issue of the News that this couple would keep "open house" on that date was enough to attract a large attendance and good time to all, as their names are numbered by their intimacies.
The inclemency of the weather in the advanced years of many of their out-of-town friends prevented their attendance.
The receiving line with the host and hostess were Mr.
A. A. Porter, of Cleveland Mrs. F. B. Frisbey, of Cleveland, and Miss Anna Wefer Grenell, Mrs. Giles Grantier Grenell presided at the tea in the dining room, and Miss P. Van Voort, of Corning, Ella Bundy, Mrs. W. S. Cal-and Mrs. J. P. Cannon as guest hostesses.
Mrs. Collins, of Philadelphia, an out-of-town guest,
years ago Mr. and Mrs.
celebrated their golden anniversary, nearly a century invited guests being present. Twenty-five years previously observed their twenty-fifth anniversary. At this sixtieth anniversary, a number present who attended of the former anniversaries, many who were present at golden wedding ten years ago.
Frisbey family have always been closely identified with Andover, growth from the very beginning of its history. Sidney Frisbey, Sr., father of our township, purchased 200 acres of land in 1823, settling in Andover before it was the Town of Andover. It was organized by Andover from the Town of Caledonia soon after Mr.
Frisbey's coming to this vicinity.
The first town meeting was held in March 3, 1824, in the Andover on the grounds of the present
of the town for five years, an office which his son, Charles Frisbey, also held fifty years.
Charles C. Frisbey, the aged gentleman, was born in Andover, 1817, and, with the exception of a very few years spent on a farm in the town of Caledonia, his entire life has been spent in this town.
Fifty years he was one of the most successful merchants in 1839. In 1851 he was the first administrator of A. C. Frisbey's estate for Andover.
He was a leader and one of the principals of the party. He is now in the Andover State
