VOL. XXXII. NO. 9
MY FAREWELL TO SOLDIER MEMBERS

Old Fellows and Grange Units Reception Given for the Two Orders Who Went to Camp This Week

A very pleasant evening was passed at I. O. O. F. Hall Monday evening when the members of Andover Lodge No. 786 I. O. F. and Andover Grange No. 90 and their families met in a social gathering given in honor of the boys from the twoaternities who went to Camp Upton Wednesday to serve their duty.

Those of the selective draft were Ralph Perry, a member of the Grange, and Harold Kemp and Carl O. Gustafson members of the Odd Fellows. Over two hundred were present. The program consisted of recitations, songs, solos and orchestral selections interspersed with drill. It was given by the ladies of Andover Grange and twelve "Junior Rebekah" girls. Beautiful first watches were presented each to the boys, from their society.

After the program a buffet luncheon was served and old-fashioned visit enjoyed. Every one present gave those who honor the meeting was being held a warm hand-shake and a fervent God-speed, wishing them the best of luck in their efforts to capture the big Hun himself and kill the Kaiser.

Mr. Gustafson was unable to be present as he was visiting his parents in Pennsylvania, but was represented with his watch from the Odd Fellows before starting for the front.

RECEPTION FOR DRAFTED

Old Mill and Employees How Harold Kemp

The Andover Silk Mill and employees gave a rousing reception Tuesday evening in honor of Harold Kemp, an esteemed member of its force who started for Camp Upton Wednesday with the other Andover boys of the selective draft.

Fifty-five employees were present. The reception was held in the new recreation rooms which were prettily decorated with national colors.

The entertainment included singing, games and music, both vocal and instrumental. The orchestra was from among the employees.

Superintendent J. H. Faisel in presenting Mr. Kemp with a beautiful blanket, on behalf of the employees, took occasion to say him a high tribute. "Among other things he said: 'Harold Kemp has always been obedient and devoted to his parents, obedient and devoted to his playmates, and cannot help but be obedient and devoted to his country and make a first-class soldier.'

After the program an excellent lunch was served by the employees.

The committee for arrangements was Miss B. Rice, Mrs. H. C. Doran, Miss Mina Jones, Miss Doran, Mrs. Jennie Carr, Miss Helen Barrett, Miss Julia Slooc, Mrs. Farr, Mrs. Hollowell, Mrs. Floyd Tuller, Doran, Clifford Cleveland, J. Ward Cable, Lynn Trowbridge, Roy Courtney, D. Knickerbock and Hollowell, John Joyce.
