PAULINE FREDERICK

This favorite star comes to the Auditorium Wednesday evening in an entirely new role. In "The Love That Lives" there are vivid contrasts shown—from the slum to the luxurious apartments at the extremely wealthy, and from the calico dress that Miss Frederick wears as Molly, the scrub-woman, to the oversumptuous gowns she appears in later. An unconscious tribute to the firemen-that courageous hand that stands ever ready to guard our lomes—is found in the play and every Hook and Hose man will ind great pleasure in the graphic tre-scene during the rehearsal of which Miss Frederick risked her

TO THE REAL

With the American Army is France, Feb. 25. (Associated From.)—A cablegram just forwarded to the Surgeon General to Washington mentions the great value of the garments volunteer fled Cross workers are making in the United States for the American expeditionary forces. The message contains Gen Parching's appreciation of the work some in recommends that the Maddal Da mmends that the Medical De partment accept an offer of which has been made by America vomen, Gen. Pershing calls attention to the fact that the Medical Department is buying great quantities of pajamas, operating gowns, bathrobes and convalescent suits in the open market, when the Red Cross has offered to supply the articles gratis. This is likely to result in duplication of the supply and an unnesseary demand for tonnage.

Gen Pershing says the work done by American women is of service in promoting the morale of the army, and also is of value because it releases commercial labor for other purposes.

New ideas are often gained from ad-reading new ideas about fab-ries, about styles, about useful things, inventions and devices for making life less irksome.
