Are They Proud of Their Work?

From the Far East comes a very sympathetic defense of President Wilson and an equally severe criticism of certain Republican Senators in the Kobe "Herald," which says:

"Recent events involve an unpleasing commentary on American institutions. Never before, we believe, have the political institutions of the country been so discredited, as during the last few months by the Republican Senators, for the purpose of achieving a petty party advantage. Not content with blocking the greatest instrument for the promotion of peace that the best statesmen of the world have ever evolved, they have striven to belittle and disparage their great leader and representative, revealing themselves as a selfish, parochial set, unmindful of their great duties. They have stooped to attack the President outrageously and even brutally, and now they see their reward in the return of Dr. Wilson to Washington as an invalid. The fighting Republicans have their reward. We cannot add, bitterness to the remark by saying that we hope Senator Lodge, and Senator Borah and Senator Johnson and their followers are satisfied and proud
