For GOVERNOR

It's time for the business of the State of New York to be run by a business man. Put a man on the job who has the punch and the ability to get things done quickly and done right. HOOKER says:

The main and most immediate problem is the cost of living, and linked with this is the widespread social unrest.

Farmers think. The public interest demands that they be consulted.

The most vital need of the State is an administration which will seek by every power vested in the Government to encourage, inspire and vitalize all ideas and practices tending toward the following:---

1. Increased production, both in quality 3. Reduction in the cost of Government and quantity, on the farm and in
