The long, slow, dusty pulls at haying time demand steady, dependable power—and to stay on the job the tractor must have proper lubrication.

Tractor lubrication calls for an oil that will not "thin down"; for the heat of tractor engines—most o. which operate at 90% of their rated horsepower all the time—is terrific, especially during the hot season. Socony Tractor Oil has been specially developed and is recommended for use in all types, makes and sizes of tractors. It protects engine parts against frictional wear, holds its "body" against heat and keeps the tight cylinder-to-piston seal that insures full power. Buy it—and Socony Greases and Fuels—where you
